FACTS and FIGURES.

Ar. Adams commenced by passing a comtrap the good sense of the committee. Yet after all he had a general way of relieving they are simply the result of association, actual position as per their statement :-Now let the __mittee turn their attention for a moment, and I desire to ask their consideration for a few moments, not with any intention of prolonging debate, to the Auditor General's Report, and we will see at a glance

THE ACTUAL RECEIPTS. for the fourteen months, ending 31st December, 1883, were $597,459.45, and the war-rant expenditure for the same period was $810,574.32, or an over expenditure for this $225,429.69 in 1883, which leaves a balance time, of $157,952.67. Some hon. member to start upon of - - - $3.063 51 says No, No. Well let us consult the very best authority we have. In the Auditor General's Report, by turning to page 141, we find as follows:—

Bal. on hand 31st Oct. '82, $55,162 30

as therein stated, at the enormous sum of $810,574.32, and making the deficiency, as before stated by me, $157,952.67 during the first year's administration of this purely economical Government. Yet, my friend the Secretary says, we had a balance on hand at the end of the fiscal year of $25,227.56, while our over-expenditure was as before stated. Now let us see in what way this interest, viz. $375,000, and adding this to the $250,000. Will the people approve of $250,000. Will the people approve of so monstrous a scheme, which involves them in such an amount.

Again my honorable friend is most unfortunate. He avoids another matter of some importance. How much money had the Government to their credit on the day of the stated. Now let us see in what way this stated. Now let us see in what way this Government to their credit on the day of the Government gets the balance of $25,227.26.

They simply borrow from the Dominion Govtry be amazed when they learn, that this ernment and the Bank, the enormous amount of $466,429.69, and to relieve themselves of this large over-expenditure, viz., $157,952.67 the sum of $119,537.24 due on the Parliament Buildings, also the sum of $13,712.28 known as the Suspense account, and they pay the Bank $150,000. Now, adding these pay the Bank $150,000. Now, adding these namount borrowed, we can at once see how naturally they have a balance on how and the sum of the sum amount borrowed, we can at once see how naturally they have a balance on hand:—

being balance on hand, but this house must recognize it is borrowed money. Yet they practically would not have had one dollar to their credit, even after the borrowing I have named, unless they had unusual receipts for the preceding year, viz., $32,000 extra from Crown Lands, $3,000 from the sale of Fishery rights, and besides these amounts which went to swell the receipts they owed, on the very day they declared this balance as being the fact, what then? We had that sum at our credit; but you borrowed $466,000 and had only $25,000, so you reduced our $55,162.30 which we left you, by $30,000. But I am not disposed to allow this view of the case to pass. Admitting we did not borrow the $60,000 from the Dominion Government prior to the 31st October, 1882, we would have a deficit on that date of only - - - - $4,837.70

Add am't expended from went to swell the receipts they owed, on the very day they declared this balance as being available, they actually owed for over-expenditure on Board of Works, some $20,000, which they paid since first of January 1884, deficiency on Exhibition $5,300. Interest due prior to 31st December and not reid due, prior to 31st December, and not paid say $10,000, due Supervisors, say $3,000, making a total of $40,000, which would leave them $15,000 in debt, instead of having a balance to the credit of say $25,000. Now Sir we will turn our attention for one moment, to the question of FLOATING INDEBTEDNESS.

According to the statement of the Provincial Secretary, our Floating Indebtedness at the end of the fiscal year, viz., 31st October, 1882, was $291,000, and which I suppose include the cost of Parliament Buildings. And here I may mention that while the government of which I was a member, are charged with being extravagant, reckless and imprudent, may I ask is there one member on the floors of this Legislature, who is more being the deficiency between income and Office foot of Queen Street, nearly opposite answerable for this expenditure, than the expenditure. Does it help my honorable the Bank of British North America. present Attorney General Blair. But pas- friend in any way. Why, no, its a simple sing from this let me discuss the subject of calculation. Again I must censure the Secrenot included in the amount you name.

ness, as being in the vicinity of $265,000.00. | in no other.

Mr. Blair,-No. He could not possibly. Mr. Adams.-Patience is a great virtue. I now determine to settle the question of accuracy, as between the leader of the government and myself, and so quote from the report of Mr. Elder's speech of last Session. He says:—"Turning to page 5 of that statement, he took up the Provincial debt, bonded and floating, and gave what he styled a 54; due Bank of New Brunswick, $91,000. comparative exhibit of receipts and expendi-tures from 1869, down to 1882, to show how $701,131.54, and deducting above, viz., our indebtedness was created. We have now he said, a floating debt of $265,608, made up of two sums, one of which nearly $120,000 represents the cost of the Legislative Buildings, borrowed from the Bank of N. B., at executive ability. I fear not. And yet they the time, by the late government, on the want the House and country to believe in very reasonable supposition that the claim of their professions of economy.

$150,000, on account of Eastern Extension, Mr. Blair interrupted. was in a fair way of speedy payment." Does this convince my honorable friends, imagine he is secure in his position. We or can they be made to understand the necessity of keeping to the record. But that statement was then questioned as not being entirely accurate, as it could never be understood the cost of Parliament Buildings, should be considered from any stand point, as forming a part of our floating indebtedness. Again the amount spent from 31st October, to 13th April, 1883, should be offsetted by our receipts for the same period.

Set this recomment desires to fester upon But this government desirous to fasten upon us the difference between [the $291,000.00, and the cost of Parliament Buildings, fail to Government did for any one period of five state that that difference is the actual result years. He challenges us with gross extravaof their over-expenditure, and which occured during the period they have occupied the Treasury Benches. The Provincial Secretary await the time to settle accounts with him. try assumes that they have reduced the floating indebtedness some $30,000. I would sincerely like to understand by what process he arrives at this conclusion, which he launched as a means of obtaining Surely he cannot deny that by his financial streament plant his expenditure is in excess of his estimate by the large sum of the popularity and eventually power remains to be carried out. The people are ever watchful. They may for a time be deceived, but they punish deception. I could illustrate his $16,970,49, while his receipts as per page one are only $8,020,35, in excess of estimate. He cannot possibly dispute that on the 31st October, 1882, our government had a balance between warrant and expenditure his own people. This satire was freely his own people. Instead of whining and seeking refuge from criticism, why did he not deal with the main question. No mention is made of the over-expenditure of $157,000. Not at all. Soe Manufacturers of Miller's Patent Shifting Rail. These Shifting Tops have no rival, as a glance at the cut will show for itself; it is so simple. It requires only one person to take it off or put it on, and when off no one would think a Top had been on, as no unsightly ends are sticking out. When the Top is on it is as firm as a rock. It can be put on any carriage in use. Persons ordering Buggies or Canopy Top Carriages should see that they have this Rail, as it will be greatly to their interest.

These Tops were awarded a Diploma at the Provincial Exhibition in October, 1880
