The Victoria Contest.

Our advice from Victoria, indicate that there will be a stiff contest between Mr. George T. Baird and Mr. James E. Porter, for the seat in the Assembly, vacated by Mr. Tibbitts. As between the two gentlemen, either personally, or otherwise, we believe there is but little to choose. Mr. Baird is a well known general trader, residing and doing business at Perth Centre, and Mr. Porter is a well-to-do farmer of Andover. Both have had the advantages of a good education, and either, would be representative of the intelligence of the constituency. If Mr. Porter has advantage over his opponent in any particular, it is in the fact, that he already has had considerable experience in public life, having served as a member of the Municipal Council of Victoria, and afterwards as Warden.

There was a very large gathering of the electors at the Court House, Andover, on Saturday, in attendance in the Nomination proceedings, which were presided over by Sheriff Tibbitts. Both candidates delivered addresses, and declared themselves "independent" of either party in Local politics. We are informed however, that Mr. Baird admitted, that the Provincial Secretary, Mr. McLean, had interested himself in his (Baird's) candidature, but whether from personal or political motives we know not. The contest, centreing as it does on personal considerations, rather on political issues, has awakened but little interest outside of Victoria, and the FARMER will be frank enough to declare, that from its present knowledge, it knows no reason why its preference should be given to either of the candidates, on political grounds.

The Confederation.

It will be seventeen years next Tuesday, since the union of the four Provinces, New Brunswick, Nova Scotia, Ontario and Quebec, the nucleus of the great Canadian nationality, was consummated. Important and far-reaching changes, have been made in the position and influence of the British Provinces since 1837. The scattering colonies of Great Britain, with a single exception, in this portion of the American continent, have gathered under the same central authority. A new nationality has arisen; the resources of the Provinces have been developed with a rapidity, that must astonish the fathers of confederation; the unknown prairies of the vast North-west, have been opened up to settlement, and where herds of buffalo and other wild animals grazed, secure from the disturbance of civilization, towns and cities now stand; the rude conveyances of the native race, have given place to the steamboat and the railway train; and every form of national development has progressed amazingly.

Nor have the older Provinces of the Confederation stood still. Our railway systems and our canals have been extended; our educational institutions have felt the onward march of progress; our churches, humane institutions, and in fact every agency that improves a country, have kept pace with the anticipations of the wise statesmen who conceived and carried out the plan of the Confederation. There are carpens and critics who will deny the country; who will deny that the country has been benefited from the Union; who will tell us that discontent and disaster have followed, and that the people desire a change; who suggest Independence, and Imperial Federation, and even Annexation, but with these persons, the great mass of Canadians, nor any considerable number of them, have any sympathy. The Confederation will go on to success, for the elements thereof are abundant, and wisdom and foresight, the reflection of the people themselves, will mark as it has in the past, the government of this great Dominion.

Tuesday next, the first day of July, the seventeenth anniversary of the founding of Confederation, should therefore be a day of rejoicing among the people of Canada, for it marks the anniversary of a new era, the effects of which, have been most beneficially felt in every Province, that has had the good fortune to become a part of the Dominion.

The University Encomia.

The increasing interest in the welfare and success of the University of New Brunswick, will likely be the means of drawing a large attendance at the Ecclesial exercises, to be held to-morrow afternoon, commencing promptly at three o'clock. The record of the University year closing, has been one that reflects credit on the President and Faculty, and the large number of Students, who have availed themselves of the excellent educational advantages afforded by the institution.

To Dr. Jack, the FARMER is indebted for the following outline of the programme for to-morrow: (1) Opening Address on behalf of the founders of the University by Dr. Harrison. (2) Presentation of the Douglas Gold Medal to James M. Lamont of Fredericton, by the Lieut. Governor. The Medal was awarded for the best Essay on "The Great North West: its past, present and future." Previous to the presentation, Mr. Lamont will read some extracts from his Essay, which is one of great merit. (3) Presentation of the Alumni Gold Medal to Howard D. Fritz of St. John, by Mr. Parkin, President of the Alumni Society, for the best translation from English into Latin prose, from Arnold's History of Rome. (4) Presentation of Scholarships, English, Classical and Mathematical respectively, to T. H. Currie of Fredericton, to F. Mention will also be made here of the L. A. Wilnot and St. Andrews Society Scholarships, won at the opening of St. Mary's, and Oswald College of Fredericton. (5) Presentation of W. F. #### EDITORIAL COMMENT.

The only political excitement at present, is from Mr. Blake's stumping tour in the Eastern Townships of Quebec, and even that does not appear very enthusiastic.

Sept. 27th is the day fixed for the hearing of arguments before the Supreme Court at Ottawa, on the constitutionality of the Dominion License Act and its amendments.

There is a general efflux of Canadian Miners to England. Sir Leonard Tilley, Mowat, Premier of Ontario, Miller, Attorney General of Manitoba, and Hon. D. L. Macpherson are there. Mr. Blair might invent an excuse for a visit. Why not go over and find a loan for the Bridge?

The Dalhousie Railway, a six mile branch of the Intercolonial, was opened to traffic last week, amidst the general rejoicing of the Dalhousie people, who are thus connected with the outside world. A large business is expected for the road, in grain, potatoes, and other agricultural products, fish, shingles, and other lumber, and general merchandise.

The time of the arrival of the morning train from St. John, has been changed to 11.20 a. m., standard time, and is a serious inconvenience to business men and others who may have correspondence to answer by the return mail, which is made up an hour later. We hope the N. B. Railway management may see their way clear to return to the former arrangement, or at least give more time between the arrival of the morning and the departure of the afternoon mails.

The arrangements for the meeting of the British Association, at Montreal, in August, are about completed. It is understood that about seven hundred members, including over one hundred members of the British Parliament, will be in attendance. Some will travel by way of Halifax, and visit the Maritime Provinces and Quebec before the opening of the proceedings, while others will take that part of their journey on their way home.

Hon. Messrs. Harrison and Turner, and Messrs. Brown and Anderson, composing the joint committee of the Local Government and Board of Agriculture, to select a new location for the Stock Farm, met here yesterday afternoon, and after an informal discussion, proceeded to Spring Hill to inspect the Murray Farm. This morning they left for Sussex to have a look at Col. Beer's farm, and thence they go to Sackville, where the George and Dickinson farms have been offered. The committee will report the result of their inspection to a full meeting of the Board, to be held here on Friday July 4th.

The Philadelphia Progress has no sympathy for the London dynamite, but declares if Great Britain would catch and hang some of the infamous scoundrels, there would be the usual flows of sympathy for the friends from Republican America. "We are," it continues, "on the eve of a Presidential election, and both parties must do nothing to offend the Irish vote. In the meanwhile, women and children may be blown up all over England, and we dare not enter our protest against this useless savagery. There are fair minds in the United States, however, who do not hesitate to affirm, that Great Britain would be justified in any course, no matter how severe, to put a stop to these damnable outrages. They are crimes not against Great Britain alone. They are crimes against civilization. Their perpetrators deserve no mercy."

A Fishing Difficulty.

Conflicts between the German and Englishmen in the disputed waters of the North Sea continue to be of daily occurrence, and are causing some irritation in Berlin and London. The two Governments are parleying regarding the limits within which English fishing boats may be allowed to fish within the North Sea, and three gunboats are maintained there, two by the German and one by the English Governments, to preserve the peace. The sailing by the vessels is, slow and inefficient, and between their visits many serious fights occur among the opposing fishermen.

The condition of all crops on the 1st of June is reported as good, except for the want of rain in a few places where it has since fallen. The probability now is, that the wheat crop will be about 2,000,000 bushels more than last year.

Value of Money Earned.

The way to keep money is to earn it fairly and honestly. Money so obtained is pretty certain to abide with its possessor; but money that is inherited, or that in any way comes in without a just and fair equivalent, is almost certain to go as it came. The young man who begins by saving a few shillings a month and thriftily increases his store—every coin being a representative of solid and permanent gain, affords a better chance to spend the rest of his life in affluence than he who, in his haste to become rich, obtains money by dashing speculations, or the devices which which abound in the foggy regions between fair dealing and fraud.

Army Service in France.

The three years' military service bill which is now before the French Chamber of Deputies excites much opposition throughout the country. The petition urges that the productive forces of France in agriculture and commerce will be seriously checked by the time lost through the withdrawal of the young men from the fields. France and gain employment to the detriment of the French. The expectation is general in Germany, that the bill will be withdrawn and the present law maintained.

A Disastrous Cave-in.

At Pike Hollow, a mining village in Pennsylvania, about four acres of land recently caved in, in some places settling from 18 inches to 2 feet. The houses were more or less damaged. The following morning a loud report, resembling the shock of an earthquake, was heard, and immediately the foundations of the houses began to crumble away and the dwellings themselves to turn over. Without making any effort to save their property the terror-stricken people fled to a place of safety. All the bottoms of the walls dropped out and a water famine is imminent. The cave-in caused a distance of two miles in circumference, and every dwelling house situated above the treacherous ground is liable to fall into the mine 60 feet below, at the least common on the earth's surface.

The American Navy.

"Commodore," said Secretary Chandler to Commodore Walker last Monday morning, "how many boats have we in the navy?" "Twenty," replied the Commodore. "What kind are they?" inquired the Secretary. "We have a canoe that is being repaired; a bateau, which is also being repaired; a skiff in good condition; and a dugout that has four holes in the bottom." "How many guns do they carry?" inquired the strong man of the Cabinet. "How many what?" repeated Commodore Walker. "Guns," said the Secretary. "Guns," guns—what are guns?" queried the officer. "Things that are loaded and go off," replied Mr. Chandler. "Well, Mr. Secretary," said Commodore Walker, with a puzzled expression, "the only things I know of in the navy that get loaded and go off, are the officers' Secretary Chandler discontinued the conversation.

A Long Reign.

Queen Victoria has attained her sixty-fifth year, an age which has been exceeded by nine only of the sovereigns of England, dating from the Norman conquest, viz.: Henry I. and Edward I., who both attained 67 years; Queen Elizabeth, who lived 93 years; James II., 68 years; George I., 67 years; George II., 77 years; George III., 82 years; George IV., 68 years; and William IV., 72 years. On June 20th she had reigned over the United Kingdom for forty-seven years, a length of time which has been exceeded by three Kings of England only, viz.: Henry III., who reigned fifty-six years; Edward the Second, who reigned fifty years; and George III., whose reign lasted nearly sixty years. Victoria is also the oldest European monarch, with three exceptions—the Emperor of Germany, who is 87 years of age; the King of the Netherlands, 67; and the King of Denmark, 66.

A Vigorous Woman.

Mrs. Abigail Scott Duniway is President-at-large of the Open Temperance Society of Oregon, proprietor of the New North West, of which she is editor, a second business manager, third foreman, of the managing office, a fourth a printer in the office, where a fifth, just fifteen, has recently set his first type. Mrs. Duniway was nominated by both Democrats and Republicans for Governor of Washington Territory, where she recently secured the vote for women, and would surely have been elected, but declined, because she did not want it to be said that women bore staves, or offices, and also because her work is now of great importance in Oregon. She has Scotch, English, Dutch, Irish and Kentucky blood in her veins, and treated with a team from Illinois to Oregon, 3,500 miles through the wilderness, peopled by savages, when she was eighteen years of age. She is one of the women of the century.

Served Him Right.

At Edmore, Mich., E. G. Hawley, harness-maker, and his wife were accused of cruelly abusing their eight-month-old babe, with the intent to cause its death. The child was found to have been cruelly injured, and its mother was nearly torn off, and its little body bruised in a terrible manner. Hawley was arrested and put in the lockup, when it was found the only lawful punishment the courts could impose upon the inhuman father was the sentence of ninety days in prison. A few nights after a body of masked men overpowered the night watch, bound him, took the locking key, and then proceeded to the lock-up, from which they took Hawley out with ropes on his arms and a sack over his head. They rushed him off to the woods, treated him to a coat of tar and feathers from head to foot, gave him about thirty lashes with a heavy whip, and returned him to the lockup, after which they dispersed, and his whereabouts is unknown. The babe to be looked after by the public.

Orazed by Religion.

At Wheeling, W. Va., a boy named Andy Adams, attended a series of meetings held by the minister of a Baptist church in the district schoolhouse. He became deeply impressed, and after a few days became insane. He was taken to the asylum, where he resided of the boy, a sister of eight years, and the mother. They lived in a sparsely settled neighborhood. The non-appearance of the father caused suspicion, and on Monday the neighbors called at the house and discovered that both the mother and daughter were dead. The former's head was smashed, and the latter's throat cut from ear to ear. The boy was found crouched in a corner of the house. He said the Lord had told him to offer them as a sacrifice, and he would bring them to life again. The cabin presented a ghastly appearance, as blood was visible everywhere. The mother was killed with an axe, and the daughter's throat was cut with a butcher knife. The boy is in custody. The religious meetings were suspended.

It is no Wonder.

It is no wonder that so many people sink into untimely graves when we consider how they neglect their health. They have a disorderly, dissipated life, indulge in drinking, and are deranged by Bowels, Constipation, Piles or diarrhoea. But they let it go and think they "will get over it." It grows worse and more serious complications follow and soon it is too late to save them. If such people would take Kidney-Wort it would preserve their lives. It acts upon the most important organs purifying the blood and cleansing the system, removes and prevents these disorders and promotes health.

That is what a great many people are doing. They don't know just what is the matter, but they have a combination of pains and aches, and each month they grow worse.
