The Adopted Daughter.

CHAPTER XVII.

THE VALET'S PLAN. For some days after the Hon. Blair go, nor believe it all necessary. Moreland's proposal to Amber Courtney, Blair smiled rather darkly, and arose, and her decided rejection of his suit, he leaving the apartment, while his parents absolutely haunted the corridors in the proceeded to discuss matters with renewvicinity of his sisters' school room, and ed tranquility.
his persecution of the heautiful governess "I have been rather too devoted to the became so marked that his keen eyed charming governess!" mused Blair, as he conference of Blair Moreland and his valmother finally became aware of it.

Moreland, one morning, as they lingered one with an eye to his own ulterior benefit?

Nower their chocolate and rolls in the hand some breakfast room, the servant having been dismissed, "have you noticed how was speedily answered by the appearance been dismissed, "have you noticed how was speedily answered by the appearance but it was either in the family carriage but it was either in the family carriage.

Which was almost hidden in a mass of but it was either in the family carriage but it was either in the family carriage.

Which was almost hidden in a mass of but it was either in the family carriage but it was either in the family carriage.

Which was almost hidden in a mass of but it was either in the family carriage.

Which was almost hidden in a mass of but it was either in the family carriage. our governess has altered during the of his valet, a dark, saturnine-looking with the children, or in the park or flower ening up his small figure on being thus return to town. Who would have thought dation of both Lady and Lord Moreland.

"And she has been such a good com- want to see me about?" panion and governess for the girls," remarked Lord Moreland. They are not so hoidenish as they were-Louisa particu- I've fallen in love with the little beauty, larly. She seems so pure-so artless. and want to marry her." "But it's all seeming. my lord," inter-rupted his wife, in a tone of vexation. his eyes to their fullest extent. Marry

mured his lordship

Of course I don't want him to marry a "I see, I see!" he said. "But will the poor governess, and I didn't say I did. young woman agree to the secret mar-"Don't equivocate, my lord!" said her riage?"

ladysnip, severely, "As I said, the girl is artful to take advantage of Blair's comwomen are all black, to entrap him into a court to her. If I present her a flower, great good fortune had happened to their town. It will then be easy for us to not all black in India. The officers there obliged to listen to a lecture on the sub- from him, that very day. have wives, and daughters, and sisters, ject this very morning from her ladyship, and there must be a plenty of widows— my mother, so that I disclaimed any wish the country is so unhealthful—and these to see the girl again."

"But what frights!" declared her ladyship. "Everybody knows that as soon as they get out there they get to look as yellow as saffron. I'm not sent the sent to look as yellow as saffron. I'm not sent the sent to look as yellow as saffron. I'm not sent the sent to look as yellow as saffron. I'm not sent the sent to look as yellow as saffron. It's absurd—perfectly absurd."

"I shall have to part with her on our master would give you for the same ser- usual, return to town, which must be this week," vices.' said her ladyship. I'll give her a recommendation to somebody without grownmendation to somebody without grown- "I am glad you appreciate the fact," up sons. When she's once gone, Blair continued Blair, in an easy tone. "The will get over his violent fancy for her. fact is, to be confidential with you, I can't My next governess," she added, reso win the girl here. If I could get her off lutely, shall wear spectacles and a wig. by herself in a lonely house somewhere, "But it's hard on the poor girl, and on where I could call upon her at times, and our own children," meekly suggested his take her presents, I might succeed in

Are not my feelings to be thought of, win her consent to a private marriage." said her ladyship. Is the devoted mother "That's a good idea!" responded Tamto be disregarded for a governess? I do ley. "The question to be considered is, believe, Lord Moreland, that you are be- where can we find a suitable house?" witched as well as Blair by this artful girl. "You must find it. Can't you think of Lord Moreland eagerly disclaimed the a secluded place?"

He loved his children—the girls especi- master paused. "I know of a house that ally-and had watched over their studies, would suit you exactly. It is in the counthereby becoming well acquainted with try, but at some distance from here." their young governess, and he felt a "So much the better." strong interest in her, but he had too "It is about twenty miles from here, I much respect for his wife's abilities and think-quite out into the open country, opinions, and was too much in awe of her in fact. It stands alone, amid a profusion knew the pleasure it gives me to meet stately displeasure to do more than ex- of tangled shrubbery, and there are no you, to clasp your hand, to gaze into your she might decide upon doing.

Very well, then he said. If your ladyship decides upon dismissing the poor thing, it would be but right to find her sion itself is a grand old affair, but it is in a continual and dense shade."

"But what has such a mansion to do with the subject? The owner will not be she might decide upon doing. nother situation—but I'd rather send apt to let it to us."

"Send Blair away," echoed his wife, the family live there. It has the reputat added, apologetically. your own son and heir, on account of a tion of being haunted, and no tenant can governess. Lord Moreland, I am astonishbe found to take it, nice as the mansion Longley, feasting his eyes and soul upon ed. You would separate the poor dear is. It is said that a woman's ghost walks the rare beauty of her changeful counte- Jasper says, I must not wreck two lives. boy from his mother? You would spoil there."

The girl flushed under his ardent gaze, walks boy from his mother? You would spoil there."

Who does the place belong to? What is it called?"

The girl flushed under his ardent gaze, ugly in a short time?" His lordship protested that he would never heard any other name for it, al. each other to notice Tamley, who was peer. I will devote myself to him. It will be to consent to his heir's departure.

of flaming colors, sauntered into the apart- walks there." He uttered a careless good-morning to the son?" his rarents, and then saying he had al- "The husband fled to the Continent tentions to the governess. You have "But I thought you said his father was robbed the conservatory of its choicest wealthy?" remarked Blair with some in- So, you see, I had no alternative but to maiden, in surprise. "The distance is flower for a week to send up to her, and terest. You are descending beneath your station, and if you mean to marry her?'

So he was, but he ran through most of his wealth during his wife's lifetime. It of Sir Ralph?" faltered Amber. "Be calm, mother, be calm!" inter- of money with him when he fled.

Jasper jealously marked the trembling of her tone as she mentioned the baroand if you mean to marry her.' rupted the son, cooly, as her ladyship's You haven't told me the name of this net's name.

tone grew shriller. "Who's going to Englishman?" marry the governess? I am not!" Her ladyship looked infinitely relieved, son's name was Vilberti Claenville-Vil- hear?' while Lord Moreland regarded his son ad- berti being the surhame of the Italian "That Ralph sees how mistaken he was miringly, as if envying his courage in thus lady. I have heard somewhere that the in his estimate of me," answered the girl, addresing the family potentate.

land, her fears soon recurring to her. If to a title than I have! you don't mean to marry her, Blair, what And it is to this deserted house you are your intentions? I won't have her propose that I shall convey Miss Court. can I tell you what I must tell you? Can insulted by my son-remember that. She ney? asked Blair. is a Courtney—a connection or relation of "It is—although the mansion is not the late Sir John Courtney."

tentions toward he?" "My present intentions," rejoined the aunt of mine-an ancient spinster, who son, helping himself to some East India would do almost anything for gold. She preserves, "are to let her alone." Lady Moreland did not look quite satised, and he proceeded:

"I repeat, mother, I shall let her alone, know she would gladly take charge of fied, and he proceeded: I want nothing more to say to the girl. Miss Courtney, and would keep her in myself to hear it calmly. But you see

I've seen enough of her. She is too perfect security. scornful for me.'

"Seornful?" repeated her ladyship in just the place for Miss Courtney, declared

"Yes; I laid my heart at her feet, and would take charge of her? she looked at me like an insulted duches. For good pay, said the valet. She would repress her emotions; "that is, I know of no one so worthy of Ralph as Blanche."

me, I should have said, Lady Moreland," would be pleased to have another human and he bowed to his mother-" is not good being besides herself in that grim old thought of the contrast between the pure applied. enough for her. And so I want nothing house more to say to her." Lady Moreland-was atonished and some. this very day. See that Miss Courtney come to all. See," he added, bitterly, what indignant at this revelation. She will have one or two pleasant rooms, well would have looked upon any kind of con- furnished. I would wish her to be treated ed love—but you have no pity for me!" nection between her son and the gover- with the utmost respect and attention. ness with horror, but that Amber should But now having arranged about the cage, have the presumption to scorn her idol- how are we to trap the bird? How can her during the past year, and how insenized son-should proudly reject his suit - we get Miss Courtney to the Haunted sible she had been of his homage. struck her as incredible. House?

"You offered her marriage?" she ex. Tamley was thoughtful a few moments. Jasper hastened to continue:

"Of course," answered her son, pulling his flaxen mustache, "and diamonds, and love, and so on, but she wouldn't accept love line the pear of the pea me. If you'll be so kind, mother, as to to walk? pick me out some more amiable and pli- Blair replied in the affirmative. ant member of the aristocracy, I will "Then I can mana hasten to marry and put myself out of excitedly. Listen!

"Yes, yes!" said her ladyship, com- by its boldness, enchanted his master, all the storms of life. Let me love you pletely restored to good humor. "Just who exclaimed: wait a little, and I'll select a lovely bride I'm afraid you can't do it, Tamley, but "I like you, Jasper," responded the for you. I was going to discharge the it's capital—capital Try it, by all means! girl, gently and tearfully. "I esteem and governess this very day, but now I shall If you succeed, you shall have twenty respect you - I regard you as a brother-

Blair nodded and said

The valet nodded.

"I have it!" exclaimed Tamley, as his

"But what became of the husband and lives there alone, for she can't find any

I think this Haunted House would be Good! Go and see your aunt about it and then said:

Moreland. "You are sure your aunt one who would dare stay with her. She performing the marriage ceremony! Blair's countenance changed a little on They conversed a little while longer, to love once is to love forever. The heart | The girl became silent, resolving to hearing this last remark, and he hastened maturing their plans, and then the valet that throbbed so wildly and foolishly for appeal to the occupant of the first to deepen the impression of indifference departed, to prepare for the visit to his toward Amber.

Sir Ralph Courtney a year ago, beats even which they met for help, but when the more wildly and foolishly for him now. "I'm glad it's turned out so!" muttered Lord Moreland. I didn't want the girl to

CHAPTER XVIII.

IMPRISONED. For two or three days after the secret proceeded to his dressing room. I should et, the latter kept a vigilant watch upon past year — how beautiful and graceful person, with scheming, downcast eyes she has become?" gardens, accompanied by them.

But it was decreed that the valet should "Shut the door, Tamley," said his mas. scheme of abducting the maiden. snammoned to council. "She has grown ter, familiarly, "I want to have a good On the morning of the third or fourth remarkably lovely. She reminds me more than ever of the Marchioness of Ardencourt. I dread the effect the sight of her might have upon the marquis and his lady, should they ever chance to see return to town. Who would have thought a year ago, that she would ever develop "You're in love, eh?" he said, eyeing his master furtively. "Is that what you appoint him.

out of the receipt of his fetter of h

entered upon her present life, He had bestowed the most delicate at- "I might be able to mitigate your sor- room," observed the woman, taking up tentions upon her whenever they had met row in time, dearest, and you would ren- a candle

"I will meet him," she mentally resolv short silence. "As I said, I'd like to My lord! cried his wife, in an awful marry her. You'd make a most excel- ed, putting the note in her pocket. tone, while she looked down upon her husband with an expression of mingled incredulity and horror, Do I hear aright?

Are you encouraging my son to pay his addresses to an obscurage grant and awful tone, while she looked down upon her lent looking clergyman, with the proper dress, Tamley, and I shouldn't think of paying less than a twenty-guinee fee after the look in her pocket.

"When my school duties are over, my time is my own, and, as he so kindly heaven!" he cried, passionately. "Oh, names an early hour, while it's daylight, too, I shall not fail to keep the appoint. The girl pressed her hand upon her addresses to an obscure governess—to marry her?

"He's my son, too!" muttered his lordship, in an aggrieved tone, yet wisely shrinking from the wrath he had aroused, weak point—his love of money.

"He select the ceremony!

The valet's eyes glowed with the dull fires of cupidity, and his fingers worked as if itching for the gold.

His master had skillfully touched his weak point—his love of money.

"He's my son, too!" muttered his lordship for the gold.

His master had skillfully touched his weak point—his love of money.

"Her clear cheeks were stained with a sunday sense of the ceremony!

The valet's eyes glowed with the dull fires of cupidity, and his fingers worked as if itching for the gold.

His master had skillfully touched his weak point—his love of money.

never hope to do in reality to him, and her glorious eyes beamed with a world of beauty and sweetness.

that I thought—so weak that I can land, if you me a week to think the matter over. Tamley

Her pupils wondered that day what In three or four days the family goes to the fact is straightway known to the whole gentle teacher, for her face was like em meet. "But, my dear," ventured his lordship, family. I can't call upon her in her bodied sunshine—she seemed somehow self liable to the law, I suppose, in in a stronger tone, convinced that this school-room, and she won't look at a note. time he was in the right, "the women are And then, on the other hand, I was sometime he was going to hear of him, perhaps suit?"

Self liable to the law, I suppose, in carrying you off, and I'll see now that suit?

As the hour approached, she dismissed her pupils to their nursery, and hastened to attire herself in her most becoming it to his lips in a transport of joy. The let her go. Tamley and his aunt both costume. Lady Moreland had requested action and the manner went to Amber's assured her that her words and tears her some time before to leave off her heart. mourning garb, as it looked so gloomy to the children, and Amber had complied day. But then you have no small sum of it, and looked even more lady-like and Hall?" His lordship echoed the last declaration, money from me-more than any other charming when she had finished than

Casting a single glance in the mirror at the reflection of her unequaled beauty, As she crossed the lawn, going toward the park, she was observed by the vigilant Tamley, who sauntered after her with pretended carelessness.

Entering the handsome park, Amber threaded its cool, dim aisles with familiar step, proceeding toward its center, where, in a pretty glade, played a small fountain while surrounding it were seats made of making an impression upon her heart and while surrounding it were seats made of twisted grapevines. This was Lord Moreland's favorite re-On one of the seats sat Jasper Longley,

He was as singularly handsome as ever, his attire was faultless, and his manner expressed his genuine delight. "Amber," he said, taking her hand, and drawing her beside him. " if you but press a very feeble opposition to anything other dwellings near. The house or man- lovely face! How very beautiful you "Do you think so?" questioned the girl eagerly, yet without a spark of vanity, her thoughts instantly demanding what would Ralph think. "I was considered

"It is unoccupied, sir—that is, none of very plain once, you know, Jasper," she nance. "I always saw you as Sir John I begin to think that I have done wrong "It is called the Haunted House. I and both were too much occupied with and finally that nothing could induce him married an Italian lady, and lived with away in the direction from which he had her in Italy until after the birth of a son. come. Lady Moreland consented to be ap. Then he brought her to England, and "But, Jasper," said Amber, after a brief peased, and they had hardly settled into they lived in great style in the Haunted silence, "why didn't you call upon me at an amicable sort of silence when the door liouse. The Italian lady proved to have the house? I do not like clandestine of the breakfast room opened, and Blair, a temper as bad as his, and in a quarrel meetings, and if—if this one had been for with pain from her tortured heart. resplendent in dressing gown and slippers he killed her. It is her ghost they say other reason, I should have been At that moment Tamley again per a should have been and slippers he killed her. tempted to decline it. Lady Moreland would think strangely of me if she were aware of my meeting you here." "The reason I did not go to the house ready had his coffee in bed, took a seat at and died there. The son was claimed by Amber, was because her ladyship caused the table, and began trifling with his his Italian relatives and carried back to one of her servants to intimate to me on the fountain, and then arose to return Italy. Of course the son inherited the my previous visit that she did not like to the house. "You seem uneasy this morning," he Haunted House with the rest of his fath- her governess to receive company," said remarked, after a few minutes' silence, "If I can assist you in any way, command me."

"You can, Blair, you can!" said his a small income, so the present owner may a small income, so the present owner may on the subject. Her ladyship did not ling, said his a small income, so the present owner may on the subject. Her ladyship did not ling, said his lather thouse with the rest of his lather.

Jasper. "I fancy that her ladyship imagined that her house might be thronged with your friends if she remained silent on the subject. Her ladyship did not ling, said his lather thouse with the rest of his lather. mother. "We are annoyed at your at reside in Italy from motives of economy." know my name, however. If she had she meet you here." of her tone as she mentioned the baro-

"You seem to think I bring good news,"

His name was Thomas Claenville. His he said. "What would you like best to present Mr. Claenville sometimes calls her face glowing. "That he knows that "But you love her!" said Lady More himself a lord, but he has no more right I am not designing and forward. Do you bring me such news as that, Jasper ?"

"Alas, no!" sighed Jasper. "How you bear bad news?" "What!" she cried, wildly. "Is he quite deserted. The present owner, when dead?"

"Is she?" asked Blair, carelessly.

"She is. Now I want to know your inin a housekeeper, to see that it did not per, soothingly. "He is engaged to be through the park, and soon gained the fall into ruins. The housekeeper is an married-" A low moan broke from Amber's lips, and a silence fell between the couple. It was broken at length by the girl, who said, with quivering lips:

"I have long expected to hear of his marriage, and thought I had prepared how weak and foolish, I am, Jasper. To ing at a rapid pace along the road, amid whom is he engaged?" "To Blanche "I am glad his bride is to be Blanche," said Amber, after a moment's struggle to of no one so worthy of Ralph as Blanche." The chloroform had, of course, lost 3000 lbs. Clover Seed, Jasper's lip curled involuntarily, and he something of its strength before being 50 lbs. True Danver's Onion, being beside him and his sister. "Be brave, Amber," he said. "Trials "how I try to bear the pangs of unrequit-

Amber was touched, remembering how devoted and how constant he had been to Seeing the impression he had made, "Give me the pearl Sir Ralph flung like to do it unless it should be necesblair replied in the affirmative.

"Then I can manage it, replied Tamley, excitedly. Listen!

Excitedly. Listen!

The proceeded to develop a plan, which, in the to sympathize with you, no the to sympathize with you, no and make your life happy. keep her—the children are so attached guineas immediately, and twenty more on but I cannot give you the love you de. a pretty ride before you if you've a serve. I told you long ago that with me mind to enjoy it."

"Never exclaimed Jasper. "But must heard, Tamley threatened to gag her if your life be a waste because Sir Ralph she did not promise to remain silent. marries Blanche? Must your life and She gave the required promise, and mine both be wrecked by an ill-fated watched the vehicle pass with a feeling love? Oh, Amber have pity upon me!" of keen despair.

His eyes, beaming with passionate love, his earnest manner, his trembling voice— length drew near an end, and the valet Could this man be the same who had turned into an unused lane that led "My dear," said her ladyship to Lord have kept more quiet about it, but the the movements of the young governess, pleaded one year before for Amber's love away from the road, and finally terminment. "Are you all ready for here?"

of disposition.

He was determined to win her by patiout and assisting Amber to alight. ent gentleness, by tenderness and pity, He led her to a door at the rear of But it was decreed that the valet should and whatever clew he possessed to her soon have an opportunity of trying his parentage, whatever worldly benefits he the mansion, where he knocked loudly hoped to gain through a union with her, for admittance. he placed above all other incentives the exclaiming

You may despise me for it-" all pleaded for him.

his lady, should they ever chance to see her in person. He reminded thoughtfully. She would remind them of her out of their way, and as they have been abroad so much, the task was easy. I only hope they will not see her on our return to town. Who would have thought and had many joint secrets, but however familiar he might be when they were alone, on account of them, he always made a point of being perfectly respectful to him before a third person. By his quiet reserve of manner in the presence of others, he had had the good fortune to win the hearty commentation to make to her respecting Sir Ralph Courtney, and that he must see her in person. He reminded them her that he had called upon her at Lord Moreland's country seat once during the person. By his quiet reserve of manner proceeding winter, and that he knew the place thoroughly. He concluded by beging her to meet him the evening after good fortune to win the hearty commentation to make to her respecting Sir Ralph Courtney, and that he must see her in person. He reminded them of them, he always made a point of being perfectly respectful to him before a third person. By his quiet reserve of manner place thoroughly. He concluded by beging her to meet him the evening after ging her to meet him the evening after the respecting Sir Ralph Courtney, and that he was almost tempted to seek refuge in the secrets, but however familiar he might be respecting Sir Ralph Courtney, and that he was almost tempted to seek refuge in the secrets, but however familiar he might be must see her in person. He reminded them of her that he had called upon her at Lord Moreland's country seat once during the preceding winter, and that he knew the place thoroughly. I would so carefully said, softly, as if divining the her thoughts. "I would so carefully said, softly, as if divining the her thoughts."

I would so carefully said, softly, as if divining the her thou the receipt of his letter by the fountain ber. And I do not ask you to love me

Amber turned the dainty, perfumed you. You must often feel desolate?" missive over and over in her hands Amber assented with a weary sigh, "You've seen my sisters' governess? thoughtfully, and mentally reviewed Jas-'ve fallen in love with the little beauty, per's conduct toward her since she had that fell like balm upon the girl's hear-

"You have, indeed. Without you I heart, and there was a look of anguish in her eyes as she replied: "Although as I told you, Jasper, Her clear cheeks were stained with a have long expected to hear of Sir sudden scarlet flush as she murmured his Ralph's marriage, I find I am weaker name tenderly in her mind, as she might than I thought—so weak that I can land, if you will only take me back to

"Leave me now, Jasper," she said low as saffron. I've noticed that Blair has a yellow tinge. And knowing that he comes from such a country, our governess before, Tamley, and I owe you quite a resolves that he shall fall in love with her delta for a such a country of the shall fall in love with her delta for a such a country of the shall fall in love with her delta for a such a country of the shall fall in love with her delta for a such a country of the shall fall in love with her delta for a such a country of the shall fall in love with her delta for a such a country of the shall fall in love with her delta for a such a country of the shall fall in love with her delta for a such a country of the shall fall in love with her delta for a such a country of the shall fall in love with her delta for a such a country of the shall fall in love with her delta for a such a country of the shall fall in love with her delta for a such a country of the shall fall in love with her delta for a such a country of the shall fall in love with her delta for a such a country of the shall fall in love with her delta for a such a country of the shall fall in love with her delta for a such a country of the shall fall in love with her delta for a such a country of the shall fall in love with her delta for a such a such a country of the shall fall in love with her delta for a such a such as a such a such a such a such as a such a such a such a such as a such a such as a such a such as a such a such a such as a such a such a such as a such a such as a such a such a such as a such a such a such as a such a such as a such as a such a such as a such a such as a such a such as a gently. "I thank you for coming here from London to break the news to me resolves that he shall fall in love with her. debt of gratitude, which I'll pay some which shaded her face without concealing are Blanche and Sir Ralph at Courtney her adieu, and hastened away in the helr direction of the neighboring village. whence he was to take the train for "She is mine!" he muttered, as went. "How magnificent she is! Blanche is coarse and homely compared to Amber. I'd like to see what Sir Ralph would say to her now! Now to wed her—then to announce the secret of her birth—and then— His eyes glittered with delight, and he hurried onward. Meanwhile, Amber sat by the fountain absorbed in thought. She did not pray for death-she realized the beauty of grandly living too much for such weakness, but her heart ached with a keen, sharp anguish, and her brain seemed on fire.

But the mist gradually cleared from her mind, and she resumed the patient habits that she had acquired during the conflicts of the past year.

"I must not be weak and selfish," she murmured, growing calm. "As in remaining so wrapped up in my own grief and so insensible to his. I think do none of these things, that he desired though I dare say it has a grand name. In the lock of the loc be married; but I must banish this foolish grief, marry Jasper, and forget what might have been. She sighed—a sigh that was wrung At that moment Tamley again peered through the trees into the glade. He looked flushed and warm, as if he had been hard at work. Amber sat a few minutes longer by

As she did so Tamley approached "If you please, Miss," he said, bowing, "it's getting dark, and Mr. Moreland sent me to protect you home." "I need no protection," declared the short. I can go alone. Don't presume

Before she could take a step, Tamley drew a handkerchief freshly saturated with chloroform from his pocket, and quickly applied it to her nostrils, at the same time seizing her.

The girl struggled frantically, but she could not free herself from the strong grasp of the valet

The effect of the chloroform was soon perceptible, for her struggles ceased she becoming unconscious. Tamley then gathered her form in his arms, glanced around him to see that his bold operation had had no spectator. and he then glided with her swiftly

Here a horse and carriage were in No other vehicles were in sight. ge and took a seat beside her.

The next moment they were proceedthe gathering shadows of the night. It was not long before Amber re 1000 lbs, Turnip Seed, overed her consciousness, the jolting of the vehicle assisting to awaken her. 400 bush. Timothy, Seed.

"What does this mean ?" she demanded, as soon as she realized where she was. "Where are you taking me?" "You'll soon see for yourself, Miss. replied the valet, whipping up his horse "You are going where you'll be well cared for. I advise you to keep still,

"How dare you carry me off in this manner? You shall be punished as you deserve. I will tell Lord Moreland of-"Now be sensible, Miss. You've got (Operating 443 miles.)

"Here we are !" he said, springing COMMENCING JUNE 2nd, 1884, Trains will

St. John Division.

The summons was answered by an elderly woman, who opened the door, 6 30 A. M.-From Water Street, St. John-Bos-"Oh, it's you, Tamley! Have you got 4 30 P. M.-From Water Street, St. John-Ex-"Yes, here she is," responded the M.—From Water Street, St. John—Night Express for points West, and for St. Stephen, Woodstock, Houlton, and all points North. valet, leading Amber into the corridor 00 P. M.-From Fredericton for St. John.

> 30 P. M.-From Fredericton for St. John 00 A. M .- From Gibson, for Woodstock and grim, stern face. with its heavy lines about the mouth, denoting a hardness "Come, Miss, I'll show you to your tentions upon her whenever they had met which was seldom, the maiden generally refusing to entrap our son into a marriage.

Tord Moreland uttered an exclamation of surprise.

Tord Moreland uttered an exclamation of surprise.

It is so, indeed, my lord, went on ladyship, firtting her spoon, She keeps him dancing about the corridors, waiting upon him.

And very good of her not to break in non school hours for that purpose, mur-

Amber looked wildly about her for Water Street-G. A. Freeze, agent. an avenue of escape, but there was none. She then looked appealingly to Tam-ley and his aunt, but there was no pity "Let me go." she pleaded. "Take me back to Lord Moreland's, Tamley, and I won't tell of you. You shall be rewarded, if you will. I have a friend points West, at Fredericton Junction for Fredericton, and at Gibson by branch line, for all who will pay you better than Mr. More- points North.

Tamley smiled as he said : "I suppose you mean that person you N. T. GREATHEAD, met by the fountain, Miss? I regret I can't accept your offer. I've made my-you are kept safe.' In vain Amber protested that she Jasper caught her hand and pressed would not complain of him if he would

Finally they compelled her to ascend a flight of stairs to the second floor and enter an apartment, in which they locked

Amber stood in the center of the room as if petrified, when the sound of their "No, they are at the baronet's town footsteps on the stairs had died away. The very boldness of her abduction "Good-bye, Jasper. I think I'll sit made it difficult for her to realize it. she left her room and hastened from the here a little while. The air may do me But at length, as a comprehension of her situation rushed upon her mind, she Jasper shook hands with her, bade beat at the massive door, begging for

And the only answer that came to her tortured hearing was the slamming of the outer door as the triumphant valet departed to inform his master of his grand success. (To be continued)

GOOD THE YEAR ROUND. At all seasons, when the system i foul and the digestive powers feeble, or the liver and kidneys inactive, Burdock Blood Bitters are required.

Sick Headache and relieve all the troubles incident to a bilious state of the system, such a Diz-ziness, Nausca, Drowsiness, Distress after eating, Pain in the Side, &c. While their most remark-valuable in Constitution, curing and preventing this annoying complaint, while they also correct all disorders of the stomach, stimulate the liver and regulate the bowels. Even if they only cured nately their goodness does not end here, and those who once try them will find these little pills valuable in so many ways that they will not be willing to do without them. But after all sick head others do not. Carter's Little Liver Pills are very small and very easy to take. One or two pills make a dose. They are strictly vegetable and do not gripe or purge, but by their gentle action please all who use them. In vials at 25 cents; five for $1. Sold by druggists everywhere, or sent by mail. CARTER MEDICINE CO., New York City.

WORM POWDERS. Are pleasant to take. Contain their own Purgative. Is a safe, sure, and effectual destroyer of worms in Children or Adults.

SEEDS! SEEDS!

WILEY'S He lifted the maiden into the carri-or and took a seat beside her. DRUG STORE, Now Ready.

and a large and varied assortment of Carden, Field, and Flower Seeds. DAILY EXPECTED : for I have got materials here for bind- 2500 lbs. Genuine Northern ing and gagging you, although I don't Clover Seed from Aroostock, of finest quality.

JOHN M. WILEY, LAWN MOWERS!

NEW BRUNSWICK

All trains are run on Eastern standard

30 A. M., - From Water Street, St. John-Mixed accommodation for Fredericton. for St. Stephen, St. Andrews, Houlton, Woodstock, and all points North and and thence into a dimly-lighted apart-"Oh, yes. I expected you before

ARRIVALS.

M., at St. John—Fast Extress Train from all points West, and from St. Stephen, Woodstock, Houlton, and all points North 9 15 A. M., at St. John, Water Street-Express

No train leaves St. John Saturday night or will sell on easy terms. Call and try them at the store.

A train arrives at St. John from the West Sunday morning and a train leaves for the West Sunday night.

Tickets for sale in Fredericton at New Brunswick Railway Ticket Office, and at Messrs. J. Richards & Son's Ticket Agency, Queen street. English and American Companies, Old and Reliable. E. R. BURPEE, St. John, N. B., June 2, 1883

SPRING

NEW GOODS

Ladies' Dress Goods

Black Cashmeres and other Stuff Goods Fabrics, suitable for Spring wear, Prints, Silks, Satins.

Scarfs, Corsets, Gimps, Fringes, Laces, Friling, Hose, Gloves, Gossimers, Umbrellas, Parasols, and a genuine stock of Staple and Fancy Dry Goods. Men's Youths' and Boys'

READY-MADE CLOTHING, a large stock equal to custom made, but much lower in price, comprising Coats, Pants, Vests, Dress Shirts and Shirts of all kinds.

A great variety in Scarfs, Ties,

Silk and Linen Pocket Handkerchiefs. Underclothing and Furnishing Goods of every description at Lowest Cash Prices, the money, by addressing DAILY EXPECTED:

Worsted Coatings, Canadian and Scotch

Tweeds and other Suitings in great variety, choice Patterns and good value. Also, Hats, Caps, Trunks, Valises, Travelling Bags, Rubber Coats and Umbrellas. REMNANTS. REMNANTS. Remnants of all kinds, in Tweeds, Homespuns, Ducks. Drillings, Grey and White

Dry Goods, Winceys, Prints, &c. Don't fail to call there is room for all at OWEN SHARKEY'S, SEED MERCHANTS,

Sharkey's Block, QUEEN STREET, FREDERICTON. Fredericton, March 26

FURNITURE

JACKSON ADAMS' County Court House Square.

Now that the time has approached, it is necessary to have your HOUSE AND FURNITURE put in order for the coming season.

WE HAVE FOR SALE Bedroom Setts. Bureaus, Sileboards, Desks, Tables,

Lounges, Perforated, Cane and Wood Seat Chairs, etc. We also Repair, Reupholster, and Repolish Furniture. Window Poles and Cornices made to Measurement.

We have every facility for carrying on this branch of the business, CASKETS & COFFINS Wedding and Mourning Outfits Robes, Gloves, Crape & Hat Bands.

UNDERTAKING.

JACKSON ADAMS County Court House Square.

Fredericton, April 18, 1883

JUST RECEIVED: Via the Steamship "York City." 70 HALF CHESTS Congou, Oolong, Japan, Young Hyson and Orange Pekoe Teas; ls. E. Lazenby Pickels;

1 cask Harvey Sauce; 1 cask Woster Sauce; 1 cask Gelatine;

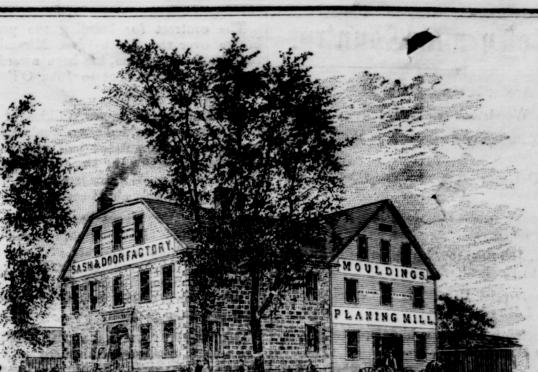

4 boxes Belmontine Candles!

1 case Preserved Ginger; 1 case Coleman's Mustard

5 casks Malt Vinegar;

boxes Coleman's Starch; 1 bbl. Sago; 1 bbl. Tapioca; 1 pack Norwegian Anchoves For Sale Low. GEO. HATT & SONS.

For Sale Low, at JAS, S. NEILL'S, PATENTS Hand-Book FREE.

J. C. RISTEEN & CO.,

-MANUFACTURERS OF-DOORS, SASHES, AND BLINDS

FURNITURE.

Moulding, Jig Sawing, Planing and Turning done to order.

Corner Queen and Smythe Streets, Fredericton, N. B. NEW MUSIC STORE!

which we will sell at low prices and easy terms. CALL AND SEE THEM BEFORE PURCHASING, or write for PRICES.

Fire and Life Insurance.

Representing in Capital and Assets over $100.000.000.00. Imperial, of London, England. Established 1803

Established 1819. Hartford, of Hartford, Conn. Capital, $1,250,000.00 Established 1809. Northern, of London, England. Established 1836. Fire Ins. Association (Ltd.) of London, England.

British Empire Mutual Life Assurance Co. of London, Eng.

SOLD IN FREDERICTON BY

and all Druggists everywhere.

May 16, 1883

SUCCESSORS TO

EWING BROTHERS,

142 McGill St., Montreal.

SPRING AND SUMMER

CLOTHS.

TWEEDS.

Diagonals

BROAD CLOTHS.

DOESKINS, Etc.

GENTLEMEN'S

JAS. R. HOWIE

QUEEN ST., FREDERICTON.

May 11, 1882

Rope.

R. CHESTNUT & SONS

Z. R. EVERETT.

Rope.

4 barrels Spirits Turpentine

May 28

Just received and for sale as usual by

Paint Oil.

JUST RECEIVED-5 Casks Raw and Boiled

JOHN BLACK.

Office on Queen Street, over the Telegraph Office, directly opp. the Post Office, MAGNETIC MEDICINE TRADE AS WMARK BEFORE BRAIN & NERVE FOOD. AFTER Is a Sure, Prompt, and Effectual Remedy for Nervousness in ALL its stages, Weak Memory Loss of Brain Power, Sexual Prostration, Nigh Loss of Brain Power, Sexual Prostration, Night Sweats, Spermatorrhea, Sominal Weakness and General Loss of Power. It repairs Nervous Waste, Rejuvenates the Jadeg Intellect, Strengthens the Enfeebled Brain and Restores Surprising Tone and Vigor to the Exhausted Generative Organs. The experience of thousands prove it an invaluable remedy. The medicine is pleasant to the taste, and each box contains sufficient for two weeks medication, and is the cheapest and best.

Full particulars in our phamplet, which we desire to mail free to any address.

Mack's Magnetic Medicine is sold by Druggists at 50 cents per box, or 12 boxes for $5. The Subscriber intending to Close his Business -AT THE-

Druggists at 50 cents per box, or 12 boxes for $3, or will be mailed free of postage, on receipt of MACK'S MAGNETIC MEDICINE Co., Lower Store, Windsor, Ont., Canada

CEORCE H. DAVIS, ALLOW A

WM. EWING. J. H. DAVIDSON, WM. GRAHAM. DISCOUNT OF 12 1-2 Per Cent. For cash, on delivery of Goods, on all sums from Spuns, Ducks. Drillings, Grey and White Cottons, Tickinks, Swansdownes, Hollands, WILLIAM EWING & CO.,

> FREDERICTON Samples and Prices on Application. MONUMENTAL WORK! A copy of our Illustrated Seed Catalogue or 1883 will be sent to any address on applica-Queen St., just above Reform Club Rooms.

> > MONUMENTS, TABLETS. FENCE STONES & POSTS.

Alabastine and Kalsomine. nd respectfully invites the inspection of cus-tomers to his large and well selected stock of British and Canadian mixed by anyone. THEIR convenience and utility will be appreciated when it is considered that any housekeeper can apply them without the aid of skill.

> For sale by R. CHESTNUT & SONS Horse Pokes. Horse Pokes. 4 B DLS. Horse Pokes received and for sale Z. R. EVERETT.

HOUSE Links and Pumps;
Boring Machnes, Blacksmith's Drils;
Hinges, Barn Door Rollers;
Jack Screws, Pulleys, Latches, &c. APRIL 30, 1884.

40 Colls Manilla Rope; 4 cords Lath Tie; Grass and Clover Seeds
1 barrel Codfish Oll; 1 barrel Needsfoot Oil;
The FOR THE PEOPLE FOR THE PEOPLE

Just received per S. S. Caspian .

CASE ENGLISH CUTLERY, consisting of Razors, Pen and Pocket Knives, Table Knives, Knives and Forks and Butchers Knives. Also—Vices, Saws, Wooden Faucets, Gimlets For Sale very Low. To 6 25 A. M.—From Fredericton, for points West, Dressed Clapboards, Flooring and Sheathing constantly on hand North and South, and St. John.

WE HAVE NOW ON HAND A FINE STOCK OF ORGANS and PIANOS!

Organs from $60 upwards. We have been appointed agents for the celebrated Chickering & Sons, and the Hallett and Cumston, and an number of other makers of Pianes, which w

J. F. McMURRAY

Ætna, of Hartford, Conn. Capital, $3,000,000.00

Capital, $15,000,000.00 City of London Fire Ins. Co. (Ltd.) of London, Eng.

Detached Residences in town and country insured for 3 years at lowest rates. As Large deposits at Ottawa for benefit of Policy Holders. FAIR RATES and PROMPT PAYMENT of LOSSES.

> Agent for York County Great Bargains

TUESDAY, 2nd, Jan. 1884

JOHN M'DONALD.

THE Subscriber begs to inform the Public that he is prepared to execute all sorts of PLAIN and ORNAMENTAL

JOHN MOORE

Ready for use by adding hot water-can be ed labor, and at a moderate cost.

Both are valuable discoveries. They constitute a permament finish for walls, assimilating with the plaster and "will not radio ont deteriorate with age, in this resect they are unlike all other preparations. Full stock.

JUST RECEIVED A GEO. HATT & SONS,

Z. R. EVERETT.

ELY PERKINS! CUTLLERY, &c.

and Corkscrews. Z. R. EVERETT.

A SPECIALTY 25 DOZEN Pails, 20 dozen Brooms; 3 gross Burnet's Extracts; 10 boxes Chocalate, Broma and Cocoa 50 boxes Toilet Soap; The Furnishing Department 10 doz Wash Boards; 50 doz Shoe, Stove and Scrub Brushes is the Largest in the City. Links, Pumps, &c. Just received direct from the Manufacturer