Political Rumors.

The vacancy in the Dominion Cabinet caused by Sir Charles Tupper's retirement, and the likelihood of another occuring, by the resignation of Leonard Tilley, have set numerous politi cal rumors afloat recently. Nova Scotia's second place in the Gov ernment, Hon. J. S. D. Thompson the Supreme Court bench in that pro seem a strong probability that Judge Thompson may be induced to reenter political life. There is at present, vacancy on the County Court bench and it is said that the position will be offered to Mr. McIsaac, M. P., for Anti gonish, and that Judge Thompson will contest that constituency for which he sat in the Local Assembly before his elevation to the bench, and enter the Dominion Government as Minister of Justice. Judge Thompson is one of the cleverest men Nova Scotia has produced in recent years, He was Attorney General in the Holmes government from 1878 to 1882, and during that time made his mark as an able public speaker, a man of great breadth of thought and a appointment to the bench was hailed by all parties as eminently just and proper. For some years he had been the leader of the Nova Scotia Bar, and in the greatly added to his legal reputation. His accession to the Dominion Government would greatly strengthen the Liberal Conservative party in Nova Scotia, and his learning, his per-"He is quite a young man, and his aban- respectfully direct the attention of the possible on the tribunal."

Though his retirement from the Government would be greatly regretted by his colleagues, and the party to which he belongs, and in which he is such a conspicuous figure, his more intimate friends, no doubt, believe that his removal from the care, responsibility and worry of political life at Ottawa, will be advisable in the present condition of the honorable gentleman's health. With cessation from active work, Sir Leonard's life we hope, may be spared many years. When once it is determined that he shall resign office in the Government, there will likely be no doubt of his appointment to the Gov. ernorship, a position which, for a term, he must acceptably filled some years ago. The same paper from which we ing Sir Leonard. It says that "the " possible removal from active politics "by ill health of Sir Leonard Tilley, " suggests a void in our N. B. represen-" tation that will not be filled, it is safe " to say, in the present generation. He " has political foes, and what man, who "impresses the country with his indi-"vidual force, has not? But no one. " friend or foe, will deny the purity of "his personal life, the largeness of his " patriotism, and the earnestness of his "desire to benefit the people, whose " confidence for over a quarter of a cen-"tury he has held. He has been "leader so long-moulded with a mas " ter's hand, political events of the first " magnitude, and been so long regarded " as the champion of popular rights, that " his disappearance from active, political "life, seems like breaking off with the " past of our colonial history."

We quite agree with all our contem porary has to say of Sir Leonard, who has been the central figure in New Brunswick politics for a quarter of a century. His position will be difficult to fill, but we believe we have in the Commons from New Brunswick, plenty of the material from which Cabinet Ministers are made, and that when ill health, or any other cause, forces Sir Leonard's resignation, a gentleman can be chosen from this Province to succeed him in the Cabinet, who will alike be credit to the country and a strong ele ment in Sir John's Government. hope, however, that Sir Leonard's health may be so improved, that he may be able to continue in the position he now so the leader of a party would be equal to of the age. worthily fills.

A Liberal Convention. The Upper Province Grit papers hav some time been advertising the oung Mens' Liberal Convention which net in Toronto last week. By some of more independent journals, the event was looked forward to as a one likely to culminate in securing a new eader for the party in the Dominion Parliament, while the party hacks, though obliged to assist in getting the meeting together, looked upon it as a sort of Grit rebellion. Judge Skinner.

A few weeks ago, we noted the defection of this gentleman from the ranks of the Liberal Conservative party in St. John, and although his case was a most glaring instance of political weather cockism, we were inclined to let him down easy, because thought that his "ratting" might have been the result of pressure from Messrs. McLellan and Ritchie, who held over the Judge's offiofficial neck, their terribly fatal guillotine Well, we are of that opinion still. The Sun however, is not so well disposed towards the Judge. True, our contemporary doesn' abuse the Judge, but it employs a far more effective weapon than that: it simply publishes in paralell columns, two of the Judge's speeches-one delivered on the 26th of May, 1882, during the general election campaign of that year, and the other delivered on the 16th of September, 1885. The production of those two speeches, side by side, was the cruelist course the Sun could have taken towards the Judge. On the 26th of May, 1882. the Judge was a wildly partizan Liberal Conservative, condemning everything Gritty and commending all things done by Sir John A. MacDonald. The National Policy with the Judge that evening, was an excellent thing. "What we have, and what we must maintain," said the Judge, "is the National Policy that enables us to do ou own manufacturing, and if the country is to prosper, we must do our own manufacturing, and in no other way can we stop the exodus to the States. He believed if the present rate of progress of the country continued for ten years, that at the end of that time there would be more natural born Americans or Dominion soil than there would be Canadians in the United States. This," continued the learned Judge, "is a test election, and it behoves us to show through our concerted action that New Brunswick has fallen into line with the sentiment of the country. believed that the sentiment of the Province as a unit was in favor of the N. We wonder if Judge Skinner has made his peace with Mr. Weldon, M. P. He now speaks from the same platform as Mr. Weldon, and this fact is rather amusing when one reads the Judge's opinion of the same Mr. Weldon in 1882. The Judge was highly figurative in his description of Mr. Weldon and his late colleague, and he created great "join in larger conflicts and achieve examined as to these facts before the amusement in the Conservative meeting, "victories in stormier arenas than is public money be invested on a work when he declared that "if all the political ideas to which Messrs.
