Edgland last winter, he had consulted with Lord Salisbury in reference to aid ing a line of steamers between British Columbia and Hong Kong, and he was glad to say, that the Premier was convinced of the importance of the undertaking, and promised to recommend it to the Cabinet. The vessels would be constructed to carry guns in case of war, and the Canadian Pacific directors promised to transport troops and munitions of war at the lowest possible rate. When Lord Salisbury went out of office he left a memorandum for his successor, stating what would have been done in the matter had he remained in power.
