If this were our creed, it were creed enough To keep us thoughtful and make us brave, On this sad journey o'er pathways rough, That leads us steadily on to the grave.

Speak no evil, and cause no ache; Utter no jest that can pain awake; Guard your actions and bridle your tongue; Words are adders when hearts are stung.

If this were our aim, it were all in sooth That any soul needs to climb to Heaven, And we would not cumber the way of truth With dreary dogmas, or rites-priests given

Help whoever, whenever you can; Man forever needs aid from man: Let never a day die in the west That you have not comforted some sac breast.

Were this our belief we need not brood O'er intricate isms or modes of faith For this embodies the highest good For the life we are living, or after death

We meet no trials we do not need; Well-borne sorrow is holy seed That shall rise in a harvest of golden grain, And a wise soul ever thanks God for pain.

Titerature.

A LIFE FOURSQUARE.

CHAPTER V.

"I SHALL KEEP MY PLEDGE."

Richard Forrester's affairs were duly settled, and his property-an exceedingly handsome property, too-passed into the hands of Editha Dalton. The young girl had grown wonderfully womanly and dignified during the last two years. She was not like the careless, sparkling impulsive Editha who had so dauntlessly stood up in the crowded court room and defended the hero of our story on that low, constrained tones. sad day when he received a felon's doom.

wit less sweet and attractive. If anything, the gentle gravity of the deep blue eyes, with their steady, searching glance, possessed a greater charm manner was more fascinating than the careless gayety of the light-hearted school

She persisted-much to her father's inward vexation and disgust, for he had fondly hoped to have the handling of her money matters-in going all over her and given Ear-Mr. Wayne something uncle's papers, and becoming thoroughly acquainted with all the points of business pertaining to them. He had said he felt sure she would make good use of the fortune which he left her, and she knew that, in order to do so, she must understand in the beginning everything concerning it. So she listened with the strictest attention while the prosy lawyer whom Richard Forrester had appointed to settle his affairs explained, now and then putting thousand dollars of Editha's fortune to an intelligent question, which showed that be given away to a beggar and a criminal! her mind was strong and clear to grasp every detail. She would allow no one save herself to examine the private drawer of Richard Forrester's safe, although Mr. Dalton stood by chafing at her obstinacy, and longing to see for himself what it con-She found as she expected, the package belonging to Earle, of which her uncle had spoken.

father asked, as, after examining its ad dress and seal, she was about to return it to the drawer.

"It is something-some papers, I think that belonged to Earle," Editha answered and he noticed the flush that sprang to her cheek as she pronounced his name. "Let me see it." he said, holding out his hand for it.

" You can examine the outside, papa if you like; but the package is not to be opened," she said, as she reluctantly full of pain, her eyes full of tears, "why handled it to him.

"Indeed! and by whose authority do you speak so emphatically ?" Mr. Dalton examined the bold, clear writing upon the wrapper, and wondered what secret it contained.

" By Uncle Richard's. papa," Editha reher cheek at his sneer. He spoke oftener now to her in that way than he had ever done before, and ing." not a day passed that he did not wound her deeply, and make her feel as if her only remaining friend was becoming slienated from her. Mr. Dalton, on his part, was very much so independently. It was a great disappointment to him that he could not control her large income which he had intended should contribute as much to his own enjoyment as to hers. Money was his god; not to hoard and keep, but for the pleasure he could get end as well as any one in the world.

But Editha, after acquainting herself thoroughly with the details of her position as her uncle's heiress, had again committed everything into the hands of Mr. Forrester's lawyer, Mr. Felton saying he was to manage for her just as he had done for him, and it was better he should do so, since he understood everything, than to make any change. "By your Uncle Richard's, eh?" repeated Mr. Dalton, as he still regarded expected to reap no little benefit from the package belonging to Earle Wayne.

"Yes, sir; the last day of his life he gave me some directions, and among other ful sale of that block I did not wish to things committed these papers to my keep and Mr. Felton advised me to sell. keeping until Earle's time should expire, and charged me under no circumstances to allow the seal to be broken." "Pshaw! what a fuss over a little mess even after giving Earle what he wished, I of papers; what can it matter to any one shall have more than he thought." if we look inside? It is sealed with a regular seal, too. I have considerable curiosity to know what silly secret the young convict regards so sacredly."

"I do not think it very kind, sir, to speak of Earle in that way; and, whether it is silly or not, it is his secret, and no one has any right to it but himself," Edi tha answered, with dignity and some show of spirit.

"It seems to me you are unaccountably interested, and very valiant in your defense of a convicted criminal," retorted fer no property without my consent," her than she possesses in her small head be-

Mr. Dalton, considerably irritated by his father replied, triumphantly. daughter's independence. "Iam deeply interested in Earle Wayne papa; he was my friend before he was so State.

unfortunate; he is my friend still, she bravely returned.

"I suppose you even intend to take him under your sheltering wing when he comes out of prison?" he sneered. "I shall certainly not withold my friend. ship from him while he is in every way ruped.

worthy to retain it; and besides-"

ed to the little things of childhood; and have been guilty of such folly. indulge her in everything.

she opposed him, and often teased her for Now, however, it was another matter. She was setting up her will in stubborn vital importance to him, too. He had no notion of allowing her to compromise herself by befriending a mis- demanded Mr. Dalton, sharply. erable criminal, and he was bound to put a stop to it in some way.

did not immediately reply. telling him anything more. But at length she said :

"You know that Uncle Richard was do just as she had said. also deeply interested in, and entertained a high regard for Earle-" "Please adopt a different way of speak- anger at her words. ing of him; I do not like you to use his ton, with an angry tap of his foot. "Very well; for Mr. Wayne, then," she spoke very firmly and steadily. said, flushing; "and, during my last inpromise, and that he had intended, as under his breath. he was going to do for one whom you ap turned his attention again to the package and made him shiver as he read. pear to hold in such contempt, and as soon as his time should expire, if he would

"I do believe that Richard Forrester was born with a soft spot somewhere, after all-" began her father, impa-

"Yes, sir, and it was in his heart," Editha interrupted, quietly but with an ominous sparkle in her blue eyes. She could not tamely listen even to her father if anything disparaging was said of her beloved Uncle Richard. Mr. Dalton glanced at her as if resenting the interruption, and then continued : "He was keen enough in business and in making money, but he has shown him-speaking of the dead?" Editha asked, in grief.

She was more grave and self-contained, guilty of," was the impatient reply. more thoughtful and dignified, but not a "What has Uncle Richard done that so very foolish? He told me on that last day that his life had not been all smooth. What has he done?" Editha asked, with and then, without a word, left the room.

evident anxiety. "No matter-no matter." Mr. Dalton than when they had been so full of mirth said, hastily; then, as if anxious to change and laughter; the calm, self-possessed the subject, asked: "Is that all you were going to tell me?"

"No; but I'm afraid you will be even more displeased with the rest of it than with what I have already told you," the young girl, said, doubtfully. "At all events, let me hear it." "He said if he had not been so helpless he would have added a codicil to his will, three years should expire-"And he made me promise that I would settle ten thousand dollars upon him just as soon as he should be free, and at the same time return his package to him." Sumner Dalton, aghast.

"I don't believe it, Editha Dalton. is more like a sickly, sentimental fancy of revenge himself of the offense. your own," was the excited retort. Mr. Dalton was furious at the thought. Ten "I do not believe it, I say! Such a monstrous proceeding could never have originated in the brain of a sane man." "Papa, was I ever guilty of telling you a falsehood?" the young girl demanded, turning upon him, all the pride of her nature aroused by his words. "Not that I know of: but--"

"Then do not dare to accuse me of it now. I am telling you only truth, and the wishes of a dying man. Uncle Richard's wishes in this respect are sacred to me, even if my own heart and my friend-"What have you there, Editha?" her ship for Mr. Wayne did not prompt me to do him this little kindness out of my > very many such little kindness to make a beggar of yourself," sneered Mr. Dalton, "I pledged myself to execute this wish ust as soon as Earle's time expires, and I shall fulfill my pledge to the letter," Editha returned somewhat proudly. "Not if I know it, Miss Dalton. Such folly-such rashness, I could never allow you to be guilty of.' "Papa," she began pleadingly, her face are you so changed toward me lately You and I are all that are left of our family. We have no near relatives; we are almost alone in the world. Do not, demanded, with a sneer, as he curiously please do not, let there be any estrangement, any disagreement between us." Mr. Dalton's face softened for the mo-

"Certainly not, my dear," he replied, adopting his usual fond tone and manner; plied, firmly, the flush growing deeper on "there need be no estrangement, no disagreement, if you will be reasonable; but of course, I cannot allow you to squander your money in the way you propose do-

> "My money! How came it mine? Whose was it before it became mine?" "Richard Forrester's, of course," he said, with some uneasiness. "Yes; and before it became mine he reserved this ten thousand to be given to chagrined that she should presume to act | Earle. Surely he had a right to do with his own as he would." "Very true; but you forget-his will was made years ago, giving you every-"He did not know Earle then; but he said if he could only have had the use of his hands, he would have added a codicil to his will in his favor." "But he did not do it. The will stands from it; and he knew how to live for that just as it always has, and he can claim nothing. No part of your fortune is leg-

"He told me it was his wish, and I shall

"You will not," asserted Mr. Dalton, positively. "Papa, do you know how much I am

"A hundred and seventy-five thousand strong-a handsome fortune, a very handsome fortune for a young girl like you to possess," he said, rubbing his hands to gether with an air of satisfaction, as if he

the said fortune himself. "That is more than Uncle Richard thought, owing, no doubt, to the success-Uncle Richard told me there would be more than a hundred and fifty thousand; but you see I have nearly twenty-five thousand more than he expected; and,

"What nonsense, child !" set apart for him, and I should be a thief dear to her. and a robber not to do with it as I was bidden. I have promised, and I shall like an intruder or a thief as he glided half a life-time to have attained. Oh fulfill," Editha returned, steadfastly. "Not with my consent, miss," Mr. Dalton cried, hotly. "Then it will have to be done without it," she answered, sadly. "That cannot be; you are under age;

startled look. "That is so, according to the law of this

"Papa, you cannot mean what you say, You must allow me to do this thing; you any interest in any of them. would not be so dishonorable as to with. hold this money from Earle when it is he quickly opened the private drawer, more than twenty years ago. I wish really his He has only about nine and a grunt of satisfaction immediately he had five times three years to serve months longer to stay-"A year, you mean," Mr. Dalton inter- what he wanted.

"No; his 'days of grace' amount to the package which Editha had sought to knew at that time, and did not tell me. three months, and so he will be free in treasure so sacredly.

True, she had been wilful at times, but "Richard Forrester didn't know what with his early life; perhaps I shall learn path again," he concluded with a fierce he had not minded it when it was confin. he wished himself, or he would never never having had any other children, it "Papa, you know that his mind was as had been but a pleasure to pet her and clear as either yours or mine is at this

He had hitherto always laughed when to weep at this cruel opposition. end the controversy at once," he returned,

"Poor Earle!" sighed Editha, regretopposition to his, and upon matters of fully; "then he'll have to wait a whole year for it. It is too bad."

"I mean, papa, that if I cannot give it to him without your consent, that he will "Besides what?;' he repeated, as she have to wait for it until I am twenty-one. She looked at him askance, as if she was I shall go to Mr. Felton and have him Dalton start violently and grow a sudden of parchment with the peculiar writing somewhat doubtful of the propriety of make over ten thousand dollars to Earle crimson. Wayne," and the gentle blue eyes met

"Do you defy me, then? You will not dare!" he cried, actually quivering with hand."

"I have promised, and -I shall dare to and read them. name so familiarly," interrupted Mr. Dal- kept my pledge." Sumner Dalton shot a dark look at the terview with him, he said he regarded defiant little figure standing so quietly him as a young man of great ability and erect opposite him, and muttered an oath soon as he was fitted for the bar, to make Then, apparently thinking it unwise to was an expression which seemed to touch him a partner in his business. All this say more upon the subject just then, he some long dormant chord of memory, in the private drawer of the safe, locked which he still held in his hands. Editha's eyes followed his, and she held out her hand, saying: "I will replace that in the safe now, if to examine further.

reply, still standing with outstretched hand, waiting for him to give it to ber.

"I've half a mind to open it," he mut- three tiny initials. taking a step forward. "Pshaw! it can do no harm-it cannot contain anything so very remarkable." "Sir, pray do not allow me to lose all self almost an imbecile about some other the respect I have for my own father," things during the forty years that he Editha cried, sternly, her eyes ablaze, her "Papa, do you forget that you are dilating with surprise, indignation, and quest.

A peculiar, mocking laugh was all the "No; but I have no patience with such foolishness as he has more than once been back the package; not, however, without few photographs, and a very heavy raged so long in his soul. inwardly resolving to ascertain, before piece of parchment-more like card- What was it? very long, what it contained.

CHAPTER VI. WHAT WAS IT?

Sumner Dalton was a supremely selfis he might fill his life to the brim with plea- mates of Earle's. sure, and his highest ambition was to walk among the proudest of the land, and handsome to start in life with, when his mingle in their enjoyments as an equal. Naught but a golden key would unlock envelope. the door leading into these charmed re-"Ten thousand dollars!" exclaimed when opposed or disappointed by any one his boyish fancy. Who knows but it "Pellets," By druggists. in his plans or schemes, it was anything may be a picture of Editha herself?" he but pleasant for those about him, and he did not allow an opportunity to pass to muttered, with a scornful smile at the enjoyment of the living, and it was his blue ribbon. maxim to improve those pleasures to the utmost while he lived. His wife died the last of October, Rich. yawn. ard Forrester the following April; and in told Editha to prepare for the season at employed to gain his object. Newport, as he intended spending the summer there as usual, with, perhaps, a trip to Saratoga and Long Branch, by way preferred remaining quietly at home; pore feeling, too, that there was more of comfort there in its large, airy, and beautiful rooms than in a crowded, fashionable hotel, where, at the most, she could have "Little kindness! It would not take comparatively small and close.

> her memory for her to take any pleasure in the gayeties of the world. She ventured a protest when Mr. Dalton spoke of his intentions, but he peremp. ly lined with suffering, completed the torily silenced her by asking her if she picture. Underneath, and traced in the

Then she had no heart for the glitter supposed she was going to have every same delicate chirography which the thing her own way since she had got to letters bore, were the words He had treated her very coolly, and they had seemed to be growing farther interview regarding Richard Forrester's ture, and gazed as if facinated upon it, bequest to Earle Wayne. consider her so selfish and willful, and finally said she would go to Newport if he "I do wish it; and, Editha, I want you and careless glee. to leave all that somber black trumpery Rippling curls that caught the sunat home, and put on something gay and light with every breath; dancing eyes ance at her mourning robes. take off my mourning!" she exclaimed, in blank astonishment. "Yes, I do; there can be no possible all the world. This was the picture that good in wearing such gloomy-looking held Sumner Dalton spell-bound with a things; they are perfectly hateful." "But mamma has only been gone about nine months, and Uncle Richard not quite hand, were the three tiny initials that A quick rush of tears into the sad blue eyes and a great choking lump in her colors. throat suddenly stopped her. "Your mother would not wish to see looked; the photograph dropped from you in such dismal garments; she could his nervous fingers, and he shook like ed almost like treason to her beloved ones to lay aside all evidences of her sor- than before give Earle the money," Editha answered, of the world. But she submitted to this pictures were of the same person, only row and go back to the gay habiliments edict of Dalton also for the sake of peace; taken at different times; one during lawn, and muslins delicately sprigged with her son. lavender, with richer and more elegant damasse, silk and lace, all white, for even- the prisoner, the - criminal! Great It was an exceedingly simple wardrobe, yet rich and charming withal, and even her fastidious father could find no fault and fear, when he saw her arrayed in it.

The night before they were to leave, at both pictures from him as if they burned midnight, Sumner Dalton might have him, and, leaping to his feet, began been seen creeping stealthily down stairs pacing excitedly back and forth upon and into Editha's private library. It was a room that had once been her the floor. mother's morning sitting room, and where and safe removed after his death, and my life?" he cried with exceeding bitter here she spent much of her time, reading ness. "Did I not have enough of disthe books he had loved, sewing a little, appointment and regret to bear at that painting a little, and thinking a great time without being reminded of it in "It is not nonsense. The money was deal of the friend who had been so very this way now? I was cheated, foiled

Mr. Dalton acted as if he felt very much out of what I would almost have given noiselessly into this room, closing and if I had only known-why was there no locking the door after him. one to tell me? Why-He went directly to the safe, and, taking a bunch of keys from his pocket, he selected one and proceeded to unlock it. and clutched his hands and ground his "Did the foolish little chit think to teeth in fiercest wrath. you are only nineteen, and it will be more keep her secrets from me?" he sneered, than a year before you are free to act as he easily turned the lock and the door self, I hate her-I hate all the world upon your own authority. Meantime, I swung noiselessly back. "She'll find she who knew and did not tell me. And he am your legal guardian, and you can trans- will be obliged to use more stratagem fore she can outwit an old one like mine." "Is that so?" Editha asked, with a he continued, as he proceeded to search too well-I love him far less now, for-every drawer the safe contained. drawer in which he had seen Editha place escaped him, showing that he had found but I'll crush him when he comes out He took it out, and the light revealed as I would like to crush every one who

"Besides what?" Summer Dalton asked with blazing eyes, as she hesitated.

He had no idea that there was so much fire and spirit bottled up in the little lady who until quite recently had appeared to him only a light-hearted, sweet tempered child.

three months, and so he will be tree in about nine; and he will be absolutely penniless—he will have nothing upon which to begin life. It would be cruel to keep this money from him when it is rightfully his, and he will need it so much. Pray, papa; be kind and reasonable, and let me do as Uncle Richard wished," pleaded the fair girl, earnestly.

three months, and so he will be tree in about nine; and he will be absolutely in the little gray penniless—he will have nothing upon which to begin life. It would be cruel to keep this money from him when it is rightfully his, and he will need it so much. He said his business that night," he continued, reflectively, "concerned only his own private interests, and was connected in limit life in about nine; and he will be tree in about nine; and he will be absolutely penniless—he will have nothing upon which to begin life. It would be cruel to keep this money from him when it is rightfully his, and he will need it so much. He said his business that night," he continued, reflectively, "concerned only his own private interests, and was connected in limit life in about nine; and he will be absolutely penniless—he will have nothing upon ous about that proud scamp." It limit about the life is innocent, and yet a private interest so sacredly.

"There was always something mysterious about that proud scamp." he mutter ous about that proud scamp." It limit about the life is innocent, and yet a private interest so sacredly.

"There was always something mysterious about that proud scamp." he mutter ous about that proud scamp. It lies also that the l something more about those 'private ness that was terrible to observe.

interests' and that 'early life.' He removed the light from the floor uttered those words, but continued pacmoment," Editha exclaimed, nearly ready (where he had put it to see to see to un- ing back and forth for another half-hour, lock the safe) to the table, seated him- muttering constantly, but indistinctly to "It does not matter; I shall never con- self comfortably in a revolving chair, himself. the sake of arousing her antagonism, sent to your fooling away ten thousand took out a handsome pocket-knife, and, which made her appear so pretty and bril- dollars in any such manner; so let this in the most careful and delicate manner ing in spite of myself," he said at length, imaginable, removed entire the heavy as he went back to the table and began seal of wax from the package. Putting this in a place of safety that no harm might come to it, he removed "Wait a year for it-what do you mean?" the wrapping of heavy paper and began auburn lock of hair between them, to inspect its contents.

They consisted chiefly of letters ad- chills down his back and another fierce dressed to Earle, in a delicate, feminine oath to his lips, But the very day that I attain my majority hand, the sight of which made Sumner | He gazed curiously again at the piece

"Pshaw!" he said, impatiently, and any meaning of importance; but he at his with a look that told him she would drawing a deep breath, "there are hun- last arranged everything just as he had dreds of women who write a similar found it, folding the outside wrapper

He opened one or two of the letters

dear son," and simply signed "Your them to him, only now and then there had been tampered with at all.

tion, however, and laid the letters aside ber, and to bed

There were several pretty drawings "I wonder what there is in it?" he said, wrapped in tissue paper, a sketch, in water-colors, of a charming little cottage, past seemed to haunt him with a vivid-Her lip curled a little, but she made no half hidden by vines and climbing roses, ness which appeared to arouse every evil and in one corner of this there were passion in his nature.

them aloud as he did so.

twitched nervously, and a startled, anx- his life. ious expression sprang to his eyes.

board-about five inches wide and eight Editha hastily returned it to the private long, and upon which there was some ed with his previous history with Earle drawer, locked it and the safe securely, writing in cipher that he could not read. Wayne, and with the beautiful woman It seemed to be there more as a found- whose pictures he had found in the ation to build the package upon than package which had been given into anything else, and Mr. Dalton attaching Richard Forrester's hands for safe keepno importance whatever to it, pushed it | ing ? one side and turned his attention to the

One by one he took them up and looked at them, but there was no familiar ticular care is required while using From his earliest boyhood his chief aim face, and they were mostly pictures of Dr. Pierce's "Pleasant Purgative had been to get gold, no matter how, that young boys and girls, evidently school- Pellets." They operate without dis-gions, therefore gold became his idol. contents were wrapped about with tissue in region of kidneys, internal feyer, when everything went smoothly, he was paper. easy any tolerably good-natured; but "Some pretty girl who has captivated of blood to head, take Dr, Pierce's

He did not believe in grieving his life He removed the wrapper, and two away for the dead; people must die and pictures dropped upon the table, and be buried; the world was made for the also a lock of auburn hair, tied with a

He took up one of the pictures with a Surely this was not worth the loss of so June, when the hot weather came on, he much sleep and the treachery he had

But-what is this? back upon his heart with suffocating politics. Editha, with her heart saddened from force, his eyes to start with horror, and her recent bereavement, would have much a clammy moisture to coze out from every

It is the face of a beautiful woman of perhaps thirty-five years. Dark, abundant hair crowned the but two or three apartments, and those small, shapely head set more gracefully upon a pair of sloping shoulders.

Grave, sad eyes looked up at the horand confussion of society; those two dead ror-stricken face with an expression faces, so cold and fixed, were too fresh in which strangely moved the strong man. A straight, delicate nose, and a mouth sweet and gentle in expression, but deep-

" Mother, to her dear boy." With trembling hands Sumner Dalton and farther apart ever since that spirited laid it down and took up the other pic-It was the same face, only evidently Editha was deeply hurt that he should taken fifteen or twenty years previous. It was a magic face, one of bewildering, entrancing beauty, and full of mirth pretty," he added, with a disappointing of loveliest expression; the same straight "Papa! surely you do not mean me to ness, and a sweet mouth whose bright and careless smile told of not a care in strange horror. Underneath, in the same delicate he had seen upon the sketch in water-The strong man groaned aloud as he never endure black any way; and your one with the ague. He wiped the sweat Uncle Richard would much prefer to see you looking bright and cheerful," replied Mr. Dalton.

Editha knew this was true, but it seem.

The wiped the sweat in competition with the multitude of low test, short weight, alum or phosphate powders. Sold only in cans. Royal Baring Powder Co. 106 Wall street. New York.

Sold at Wholesale in Fredericton, by Messrs.

A. F. Randolph & Son. But only to groan again more bitterly to assume gay colors, yet she bought charming suits of finest white cambric and turer age, and to gratify the wishes of "Earle Wayne her son! Earle Wayne > Heaven!" he cried, with ashen lips, and in tones expressive of intense horror Then, with a round oath, he threw

"What shade of evil has sent this she had had all her uncle's books, pictures, thing to confront me at this late hour of

> He stopped in the midst of his walk. LARCE BOTTLE! "I was a fool-an idiot! I hate my is her son; he is-

"Ah! I have never loved him any BEWARE OF IMITATIONS, he is a living monument of my defeat, name of None were locked save the private No wonder he is proud; no wonder he Earle's package, and he found nothing of bore his trial with such fortitude, if he possesses a tithe of the spirit and reso-Selecting another key from his bunch, lution that she possessed and displayed

He lifted his head defiantly as he

"Ugh! but it gives me a sickly feelto gather up the papers scattered there. He folded the pictures in their wrappers as he had found them, putting the though the touch of it sent the cold upon it, and wondered if it contained carefully over all.

He then melted a little wax from Editha's stand, and dropped upon it to They were all dated from a little town fasten it, after which he carefully press-Editha had grown very pale, but she in England, and were addressed to "My ed the original seal into its proper place. It was all very neatly and nicely done, and no one save an expert would There was not much of interest in ever have imagined that the package

He replaced it just as he had found it it, closed and locked the safe, and then He soon grew weary of this occupa- stole noiselessly away to his own cham-But no sleep came to him that night, "to weigh his eyelids down, or steep his senses in forgetfulness." Visions of the

He tossed incessantly on his pillow, Sumner Dalton nearly bounded from and groaned, and raged, and swore, first "No, indeed!" she cried, in alarm, and his chair as he read them, repeating at himself and then at all the world, for some wrong, real or imaginary, which he The color forsook his face, his lips had suffered during the earlier years of

Some secret he evidently had on his He hastily thrust the drawing one mind, which filled him first with remorse face flushing a painful crimson, her form side and went on more eagerly with his and then with anger; and so the night wore out and morning broke, and found The only remaining things in the pack- him haggard, hollow-eved, and exhaustage were a large envelope, containing a ed from the storm of fury which had What was this strange secret connec

(To be continued.)

Being entirely vegetable, no par turbance to the constitution, diet, or At last he came to what seemed to be occupation. For sick-headache, conone carefully inclosed in a separate stipation, impure blood, dizziness, sour eructations from the stomach, bad He opened this, and found that its taste in mouth, bilious attacks, pain bloated feeling about stomach, rush

When Benjamin Disraeli was a Eno's Fruit Salt; young man he bet a pair of gloves Keplonized Milk and Cod a wreath of primroses worn by a young lady were natural or artificial. Ayer's Sarsaparilla; only won the bet, but the young lady Sharp's Balsam; gave him one of the flowers, which he Diamond Dyes; preserved carefully as a souvenir. That incident was the beginning of Pain Killer, West Fills: his love for primroses, and now the Burdock Blood Bitters; Something that makes the blood rush of him is a potent factor in English Kennedy's Medical Discov-

> Useful to Know. Mrs. John Siddell of Orton, Ont., was afflicted for years with contrac- Warner's Safe Cure; tion of the bronchial pipes and tightness of the chest. She was cured by the internal and external use of Hag- Pond's Extract Teaberry; yard's Yellow Oil. This remedy cures rheumatism, neuralgia, inflammation, congestion, and all external and internal pains.

This powder never varies. A marvel of purity Diamond Sets.

CHILDREN LIKE IT! ACID STOMACH, DYSPEPSIA, LOSS OF APPETITE, SICK HEADACHE, CONSTIPATION OR COSTIVENESS

Plush Goods. PRICE, 25c. PER BOTTLE. Brass Goods. MINARD'S "KING OF PAIN."

CURES PAINS—External and Internal.
RELIEVES Swellings, Contractions of the Muscles, Stiffness of the Joints, Sprains, Strains.
HEALS Bruises, Scalds, Burns, Cuts, Cracks Best Stable Remedy in the World!

CURES Rheumatism, Neuralgia, Hoarseness, Sore Throat, Croup, Diphtheria and all kindred POWERFUL REMEDY! MOST ECONOMICAL!

AS IT COSTS BUT

25 Cents.

Druggists and Dealers pronounce it the best of which there are several on the market. C. C. RICHARDS & CO., YARMOUTH, N. S.

TESTIMONIAL. GENTS.-I have used your MINARD'S LINIMENT in my family for some years and believe it the DANIEL T. KIERSTEAD

Pick Handles.

DOZEN Hickory Pick Axe Handles; Hammer and Adze Handles, choice stock;
bundles Hickory and Oak Spokes, just to hand from North Carolina, and for sale R. CHESTNUT & SCNS.

For Toilet Use.

Ayer's Hair Vigor keeps the hair soft and pliant, imparts to it the lustre and freshness of youth, causes it to grow luxuriantly, eradicates Dandruff, cures all scalp diseases, and is the most cleanly of all hair preparations.

AYER'S Hair Vigor has given me perfect satisfaction. I was nearly bald for six years, during which time I used many hair preparations, but without success. Indeed, what little hair I had, was growing thinner, until I tried Ayer's Hair Vigor. I used two bottles of the Vigor, and my head is now well covered with a new growth of hair — Judson B. Chapel, Peabody, Mass.

HAIR that has become weak, gray and faded, may have new life and color restored to it by the use of Ayer's Hair Vigor.  My hair was thin, faded, and dry, and fell out in large quantities. Ayer's Hair Vigor stopped the falling, and restored my hair to its original color. As a dressing for the hair, this preparation has no equal.— Mary N. Hammond, Stillwater, Minn.

VIGOR, youth, and beauty, in the be preserved for an indefinite period by the use of Ayer's Hair Vigor. A disease of the scalp caused my hair to become harsh and dry, and to fall out freely. Nothing I tried seemed to do any good until I commenced using Aver's Hair Vigor. Three bottles of this preparation restored my hair to a healthy condition, and it is now soft and pliant. My scalp is cured, and it is also free from dandruff.—Mrs. E. R. Foss, Milwaukee, Wis.

Ayer's Hair Vigor, Sold by Druggists and Perfumers.

FERFECT SAFETY, prompt action, and wonderful curative properties, easily place Ayer's Pills at the head of the list of popular remedies for Sick and Nervous Headaches, Constipation, and all ailments originating in a disordered Liver. I have been a great sufferer from Headache, and Ayer's Cathartic Pills are the only medicine that has ever given me relief. One dose of these Pills will quickly move my bowels, and free my head from pain. — William L. Page, Richmond Va.

> Ayer's Pills, Prepared by Dr. J. C. Ayer & Co., Lowell, Mass,

Thoroughly cleanse the blood, which is the ountain of health, by using Dr. Pierce's Goldpecially has it proven its efficacy in curing Salt-rheum or Tetter, Fever-sores, Hip-joint Disease, Scrofulous Sores and Swellings, Enlarged Glands, and Eating Ulcers.
Golden Medical Discovery cures Consumption (which is Scrofula of the Lungs), by its wonderful blood-purifying, invigorating, and nutritive properties. For Weak Lungs, Spit-ting of Blood, Shortness of Breath, Bronchitis, Severe Coughs, Asthma, and kindred affections, it is a sovereign remedy. It promptly cures the severest Coughs.

For Torpid Liver, Biliousness, or "Liver Complaint," Dyspepsia, and Indigestion, it is an unequalled remedy. Sold by druggists.

JUST RECEIVED:

BR. PIERCE'S PELLETS - Anti-Bilious and Cathartic.

Scott's Emulsion:

Liver Oil:

Holloway's Pills and Oint-Ayer's Cherry Pectoral;

ALSO IN STOCK:

5 GROSS DAVIS'

DRUGGIST, Cor. Queen and Regent Sts. GREAT

NOW IS THE TIME TO PURCHASE Watches, Clocks and Jewelry,

Silver, and Silver Plated Ware,

AT THE STORE OF

Diamond Pins. Diamond Ear Drops, Diamond Lockets and Diamond Rings.

PEARL RINGS, BAND RINGS, Stone Rings, PLAIN WEDDING RINGS. Gold and Silver Head Covers.

Bronze Goods,

Leather Goods.

And a full line of Fancy Goods. WALTHAM WATCHES, Eigin and Springfield Watches Swiss and the Celebrated Quick Turn'

Fredonia Railroad Watches. All going at Rulnously Low Prices, Sole Agents for the Celebrated Lazarus
Morris perfected SPECTACLES and EYE-

November 17, 1886.

MANUFACTURED BY

St. John, N. B. DAVIS, STAPLES & CO., Agents, Fredericton

March 2, 1887-3mgs

Shingles.

Temperance Vale, York Co., June 2, 1886

his mill, in Temperance Vale, Shingles, Clapboards, Lath, Planed Flooring. Scanling, Hemlock Boards, Plank &c., which he sells at lowest prices for cash, or in exchange for coun-Clapboards.

Every description of lumber used in the erection and completion of a house, can be had at

No. 2, QUEEN STREET. FOR BUILDING PURPOSES. always on hand, or made to order, from kilndried stock. Flooring, Sheathing, Clapboards, Stair stock, &c., &c. Also Furniture in Bedroom Suits, &c., &c. OFFICE FURNITURE, &c., ON HAND. All of the above will be sold LOW for cash or approved payments. J. C. RISTEEN & CO. Fredericton, April 6

CALL AND SEE THE

D. M'CATHERIN'S SALES ROOM.

Fredericton, N.B., Newcastle, Mir michi, N.B., Chatham, Mirmichi, N. B., Bathurst Gloncester Co., N. B., Campleton, Restigouche Co., N. B., St. Stephen, N. B

R. C. MACREDIE, Plumber, Tinsmith, &c., &c.

Queen Street, Fredericton, N. B.

ALWAYS IN STOCK.

On Tuesday, Thursday and Saturday, a their Hair brought ir or sent by letter, (with fee Trains will arrive at St. John: Express from Halifax & Quebec, 7.00 a.m. and address, and I will give you all examination $1.00.

D. POTTINGER. RAILWAY OFFICE, Moncton, N. B., Nov. 17th, 1886. NEW BRUNSWICK

All Trains are run by Eastern Standard

ALL RAIL LINE. Arrangement of Trains -- In effect October 24th, 1886.

LEAVE FREDERICTON:

(Eastern Standard Time.) 7 00 A. M .- Express for St. John, and inter-9 00 A. M.-For Fredericton Junction, and for Vanceboro, Bangor, Portland, Boston and all points West; St. Andrews, Houlton, Woodstock, Presque Isle, Grand Falls, Edmundston, and all points North. St. John, and points East. ARRIVE AT FREDERICTON:

Stephen, Houlton, Woodstock, Presque Isle, Grand Falls, and points North. mediate points. LEAVE GIBSON: 7 00 A. M.-Express for Woodstock and points ARRIVE AT GIBSON 30 P. M.-Express from Woodstock, and points

3 35 P. M.-From Fredericton Junction, and from Vanceboro, Bangor, Portland, Boston, and all points West; St. Andrews, St.

J. F. LEAVITT, Gen'l Pass. and Ticket Agent. St. John, N. B., October 20, 1886 THE KEY TO HEALTH.

Unlocks all the clogged avenues of the Bowels, Kidneys and Liver, carrying off gradually without weakening the system, all the impurities and foul humors of the secretions; at the same time Correcting Acidity of the stomach, curing Biliousness, Dyspepsia, Headaches, Dizziness, Heartburn, Constipation, Dryness of the Skin, Dropsy, Dimness of Vision, Jaundice, Balt Rheum, Erysipelas, Scrofula, Fluttering of the Heart, Nervousness, and General Debility; all these and many other similar Complaints yield to the happy influence of BURDOCK BLOOD BITTERS. T. MILBURY & CO., Proprietors, Toronto.

DOORS, SASHES, BLINDS AND MOULDINGS

"RAYMOND," With Large Improved Arm, at

Agents wanted for P. E. Island and Nova Scota. D. McCATHERIN. Manager for Maritime Provinces Address all communications P. O. Box 162, Fredericton, N. B.

CAS, WATER & STEAM FITTINGS, Tinware, Stovepipe, &c., &c.,

> Fredericton, February 16, 1887-3m ALBION HOTEL,

Fredericton, N. B., '86 Winter Arrangement '87 CLAIRVOYANT PHYSICIAN! On and after MONDAY, November 22nd, 1886, the Trains of this Railway of a patient, either personally or by lock of hair will run daily (Synday excented) as will run daily, (Sunday excepted) as All Hair may be sent from any distance by follows: 4.35 p. m. ment Officials and leading business men of this can be gathered in the country.

Inclose $2.00 with lock of Hair giving name

Used by U. S. Government. STABLE CHART TO Humphreys' Med. Co., 109 Fulton St., N. Y. HOMEOPATHIC TO

DOGS, HOGS, POULTRY,

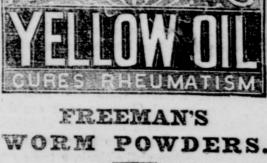

Stockbreeders, Horse R. R., &c.

In use for over 20 years by Farmers.

CATALOGUES FREE. BELL & CO., Guelph, Ont.

Bulletin, 48 col. story paper, all for 1c. postage.
NATIONAL BAZAR, 7 Broadway,
N. Y. Plows. Plows. LOT OF STEEL AND IRON PLOWS, for NEILL'S HARDWARE STORE

Are pleasant to take. Contain their own Purgative. Is a safe, sure, and effectual destroyer et worms in Children or Adults.

Iron Pipe.

PARTIES in need of Iron Pire, will do well to hear my Low Prices before purchasing.

Z. R. EVERETT