Opening of Parliament.

The first session of the new Dominion Parliament, was opened las Thursday with the usual ceremony. The first business was the election of a Speaker, a position which fell to Col. Ouimet, M. P., for Laval, Quebec. Col. Onimet was proposed in a neat speech by Sir John A Macdonald, and seconded by Sir Hector Langevin, and was elected without opposition. The new Speaker is a brilliant young lawyer with considerable Parliamentary experience, of pleasing address, and great personal popularity. In addition to being a good lawyer, and a suc fully constructed,

By occupation he ville, but is now principal of the Hali-fax Law School, a position which he being offered a Bribe for the lent prayer meeting precepts of which, fills with great ability. forty, and possibly forty-five. The by the "narrow gauge" patriots. latter was the Premier's own estimate in his telegram to Mr. Temple, two days after the election, and the Chieftain evidently knew what he was talking about. The press correspondents at the capital agree that the Government majority on division will not be less than forty. Whatever the majority may be, this is plain, that the Grit press have been forced to abandon their contention that the Government decent show, he would have divided Here are the totals :the House, either on the Speakership, or the Address, or both, but he did neither, for he knew that he would be left in a hopeless minority, notwithstanding all the loud boasting of his followers in and out of the press.

We beg leave therefore to call the attention of the Grit party in this county to the fact that their friends at Ottawa, are just where they have been since 1878, in the cool shades of opposition. Blake is not Premier, nor does Mr. Gregory represent York, but Sir John reigns, Mr. Temple is there to support him, and the country is happy.

Irrespective of political leanings, the papers seem to condemn the new customs regulation respecting the entry of travellers' baggage. They are looked upon as likely to give rise to much annoyance, and probably false swearing on the part of those who are called upon to attest the contents of their tranks or other receptacles. Ignorant persons it is said will be cer-'tain to render themselves liable to very serious fines by misapprehension of the oath, or of the dutiable character of their effects.
