General Laurie Elected.

General Laurie has again beaten the Grits of Shelburne. His majority over Mr. Congdon in the contest Monday, was 43. This is not a very large margin but it is big enough in a county that has been persistently Grit. Shelburne, like our Queens, was represented in Parliament continuously from 1867 to 1887 by a Grit, a Tory having no show whatever in the constituency. Here is the record: -In 1867-1872

-1873-1874, Thos. Coffin, Grit, was elected by acclamation. In 1878, the Grit majority was 265; in 1882, 127; in 1887, 34. But it will be observed that from working, and in December of that year, after Robertson, who had been elected the previous February over General Laurie, was unseated, the General secured his election by 8 votes.

The election trial that followed, resulted in Laurie being unseated for bribery by agents, and a new election was ordered.

And now came the most determined | Grit politician. attempt in election annals to defeat a candidate. The Grits hate General Laurie, and none are more cordially in their hate of him than Premier Fielding. This gentlemen, with his lieutenants MacCoy and Johnson, M. E. C., opened a most lively campaign on the General, whose only assistant on the stump was Mr. Cahan with his young body guard, was apparently more than a match for Fielding, MacCoy, Johnson and Congdon, and all the influence of the local Government, for Laurie has not only been returned to Parliament, but he has increased his majority to a yery respectable figure.

The election is a fitting rehuke to the Grits of Halifax, who attempt to work the whole machine from the Chronicle office. Whenever a county Halifax meet and select a candidate. it for Shelburne and Monday's vote is

The Presidential Contest.

In a few more days the great battle or the Presidency will be settled, and either Cleveland or Harrison will reign in the White House for the next four years. The conflict has been determined, but it will not compare in bitterness to the campaign of 1884. $1400 Old campaigners appear to think that the issue hinges entirely on New York, and both parties are making strenuous efforts to carry that state. What makes the result uncertain in this state is the unusual increase in he number of voters since the last Presidential contest. Careful computation puts the total registrrtion in New York city this year at 285,000, against 240,000 four years ago. The total vote is likely to be from 260,000 to 270,000, of which seven or eight thousand will be scattered on Labor and outside candidates. The Demo cratic calculations concede the Republican vote will reach 100,000, and 1878 to 1887, the Tory leaven was claim that all the rest will be their majority. The election occurs Nov

NEWSPAPER ENTERPRISE.

How a Chicago Daily Scooped its Contemporaries.

Just as his paper was about to go to press one morning a Chicago editor heard that there had been a sensational suicide at a leading hotel. This was private information which did not come through the police, and therefore there was a chance that the other papers would not hear of it. If there is anything that makes a city editor's blood run warm i is an opportunity of this sort. Hastily telephoning his "night police" reporters, he told them the rumor and bade them jump into a a cab and get to the L- hotel as quickly as possible, but to make sure they were not followed by other reporters. Then he whistled down stairs to have the presses held a few minutes. His two young men, after leaving headquarters lazily and securing a cab a block or two away, drove with all speed to the hotel. There was a little excitement in the office, though only a few persous awake at that hour. The reporters entered and wanted to know where she was. The clerk met them with a calm gaze and a fine bluff. He did not know what the young men wanted, and when told of the suicide denied ferin has received the titles of Marquis of two or three porters standing before one of

No yet to-day he is penniless and with-out an inpolicemen were on hand. " Have the police been notified?" asked of the reporters of a porter. "Yes." "But we can't wait for the police," said the other reporter, "for our paper must go to press in ten minutes." "No, we can't wait, and won't," replied the first. So they burst open the door of the bedroom A strange scene lay before them. Every gas jet in the room was lighted; in the middle of the chamber, in a big chair, sat a young and beautiful woman, hands-mely dressed, with her head bent forward on her breast and the Democratic party, the votes of the enemies of blood oozing from a hole in her head and trickling down over her immaculate gatments and snowy skin. The reporters were the first to touch her. They lifted her head that they might see her face. They pulled open her eyes to get the color. They pried open her clenched fists to ascertain if any notes were held therein. They pulled off her rings and noted the initials engraved therein. They searched her dressing case for proof of her identity or correspondence which might throw light upon the mystery. In five minutes the scene was photographed upon their minds. FREDERICTON AND ITS BEAUT FUL AVENUES.

Shaded with Majestic Elm and Map! Trees-One of the Most Beautiful Towns in the Wide Dominion.

(W. Dennis in the Halifax Maii) There are many beautiful towns in the daritime Provinces, but Fredericton is by far the most beautiful of them all. Located or bend of the St. John river-the Canadian Rhine-its natural charms have been greatly added to by the taste and culture of its æsthetic and enterprising citizens. The town site is as level as a piece of prairie land. Its streets run at right angles. There are five main streets, four of which are each one mile in length, and the fifth, Queen street, is one mile and a half long; with nine cross streets It is computed that this year's corn crop if I have said "streets," but they are beautiful avenues, shaded by majestic elm and maple 571 miles, or two-thirds of the way around the rees, the like of which are not to be found in any other town in Canada. These trees are John L. Sullivan has had over $80,000 in the glory of the town. Fredericton is a

His brother-in-law, Henry Chubb. who was then running the St. John Courier, took it up, fastened it upon Fredericton, and it has stuck to us ever since." In ten minutes more the into buttons and innumerable other things not young in years, he is young in spirit and combines the experience of age with the enthusiasm and ardor of youth in his efforts to build up Fredericton and develop the resources of New Brunswick. The town was incorporated as a city the same year that Halifax enjoyed a similar honor. To-day its affairs are presided over by J. D. Hazen, a young man of ability and a promising future. It has a population of 7,500, with 3 500 living in the adjoining towns. Its civic debt is $200,000, of which $110,000 was incurred for water works. 400 miles are navigable. The river is settled both sides its entire length. It is said hat there are not ten miles of wood along the whole of its 900 miles of banks. I cannot in this letter enter into a description of the lumber operations on the St. John and its tributaries. But practically all the enormous quantities of lumber cut upon the St. John comes to Fredericton, and some idea of what this means may be obtained when it is stated that one boom company handles 190, 000,000 feet this year. The chief feature of the town is the promise it has of becoming a great railway centre but of this and other
