Milburn & Co., of Toronto, was in town to-day on his regular business trip. It is understood that Mr. F. St. John Bliss has been appointed clerk of the Sanbury Circuit Court and Clerk of the Peace for the same county.

At the Moosepath races, St. John, last week, John McCa's "Jack Mack" captured the 240 rods, and his "Nervic" the race for two-year-olds. Bishop Kingston came over from England in the same steamer with the Metropolitan, and stopped off at Quebec. He arrived home to-day. Nelson Campbell has received a full line of American and English hats and cap styles, which he is selling on the quiet and small profit principle.

The Attorney-General arrived home from the North Shore Circuit, Thursday, and went to Andover, Monday, to continue the examination of the Toronto prisoners. Mr. D. F. George lost a valuable brood mare Sunday night. The poor animal was attacked with pains Sunday afternoon and suffered intense agony till her death. The Nationals of St. John, were beaten by the Halifax base ballists, yesterday, at Halifax, score, 1 to 4. The St. John men charge that the umpire was bought off by their opponents.

Melaney, a male inmate of the Alms-house broke his thigh by a fall one day last week and is now being treated at the Victoria Hospital. He is 82 years of age, and it is thought the accident will cost him his life.

The Farmer would suggest to its loyal readers that an important social event is to take place in the Methodist church next Tuesday morning, when the Wesleyan edifies may be expected to present an animated appearance. Dr. Fletcher writes an interesting letter to the Farmer, descriptive of his trip from New York to Rio de Janeiro. He was on the latter place Aug. 14th, and before this is settled at Sao Paulo, where he proposes to reside. Hon. W. E. Peley, ex M. P. for Sanbury had a narrow escape from drowning one day last week, while supervising the breakwater at Hart's mill by slipping off a plank. He was rescued by Chas. Ward, of Crotonoc.

Work has been commenced on the Tobique railway. To-day Hon. John Costigan will turn the first sod for the railway, after which the contractors will have a large force of men at work and push the work to completion as rapidly as possible. The closing address of the Attorney-General in the case of Carney vs. the Carquet Railway Co., tried in the Gloucester Circuit Court last week, has been the ablest oratorical effort ever heard in the Bathurst Court House.

The Sun says that several parties are now negotiating for the purchase of the house of Charles Mitchell, owner of the Edwards of this city, and it is altogether likely that he will be sold for a good figure after the St. Stephen race. He is one of the handsomest horses ever seen at Moosepath, and trots well. A review of the doings of the Salvation Army during its six years existence in the Dominion, has been published in the World which goes to show that it has made great progress. During the past year it has opened 65 new stations, dedicated 18 new barracks, and the working staff has been increased to 840 officers.

Partridge shooting season opens to-morrow. A number of local sportsmen who have been seen sneaking into town with goodly "bags" the past few days, evidently mistook the date. The report that the Minister had been drilled at Cross Creek yesterday, by a flock of partridges roosting on the roof, turns out to be a hoax. The ladies sewing circle and the trustees of the new public hall at Cross Creek are to hold a fancy sale and tea in the hall there on the afternoon and evening of September 20th, to raise funds for the completion of the hall. McKenley, who has been in White-mouth over five years, and is now one of the leading merchants of that place.

THE METROPOLITAN'S RETURN.

The Distinguished Prelate warmly welcomed Home by his People. Presented with an Address. His Lordship's Reply.

His Lordship, the Metropolitan, after an absence of three months in England, during which he attended the Pan Anglican Synod, arrived home Monday evening and was given a warm reception at the depot by his archbishop and some of the students who have to undergo supplementary examinations have already arrived. Lectures will be resumed next Monday, but the Junior and Freshmen classes do not commence work till Oct. 1st.

The wheelbarrow and spade to be used by Hon. John Costigan in turning the first sod of the Tobique Valley Railway, will be the same as used for the purpose at the inception of the Carquet Railway, it having been generously loaned by Mr. Burns, M. P., president of the latter road.

Mr. George Hume, returned Monday morning from a four days' trip to the Northwest and British Columbia. Mr. Hume spent several weeks in Victoria, Vancouver and other British Columbia towns, where he met several of the leading men of the Territory, who left here last spring in carrying on the gun-smithing business at Vancouver. Frank Dowling has an excellent situation as telegraph operator at Victoria.

The Church of England Hall was completely filled last evening to welcome his Lordship. On the platform beside his Lordship were Sir Leonard Tilley, Chief Justice Allen, Mayor Hazon, Rev. G. G. Roberts, Rev. F. Alexander, Sheriff Sterling, Mayor Hazon, and Judge Wetmore were present and a large number of people thronged to the front and read the following address: To the Most Reverend JOHN, Lord Bishop of the Diocese of Fredericton, and Metropolitan of Canada:

MAY IT PLEASE YOUR LORDSHIP: The clergy and laity of the Church of England in Fredericton, with great gladness of heart at seeing you once more, and with deep thankfulness to Almighty God that He has restored you to them in undiminished health and vigor, have welcomed you to our city, and their affectionate congratulations on your safe return, after prolonged absence to your Canadian home and Diocese.

The clergy and laity of the Church of England in Fredericton, with great gladness of heart at seeing you once more, and with deep thankfulness to Almighty God that He has restored you to them in undiminished health and vigor, have welcomed you to our city, and their affectionate congratulations on your safe return, after prolonged absence to your Canadian home and Diocese.

Having with a keen interest noted the public incidents attending your Lordship's stay in England, and the honors which you have from time to time been accorded to you, and in the many evidences you have observed of the esteem and reverence with which you are regarded here, we are glad to see that your Lordship's person, and in the profound admiration inspired by the purity and simplicity of your character, your godly singleness of purpose, your zeal, learning and eloquence, and your untiring devotion alike to the temporal and to the spiritual well-being of the people among whom you have dwelt for so long a time.

The Clergy and Parishioners, while extending to your Lordship, not only as their venerated and esteemed Diocesan, but as their long tried, trusted and most valued friend, their affectionate greetings at this time, desire further to express the hope that the blessings to themselves of your Lordship's presence with them, and the Church at large in this Ecclesiastical Province of your wise and careful supervision of its needs and interests, may be continued through yet many years to come.

Wishing your Lordship and Mrs. Medley every happiness and blessing we have the honor to be your Lordship's faithful and devoted servants. (Signed) JOHN C. ALLEN, Chairman of Committee appointed by Parishioners. HIS LORDSHIP'S REPLY.

I need not say that it affords me very great satisfaction to be so warmly and affectionately greeted, on my return from England, by those amongst whom I have lived and who have had frequent opportunities of knowing what I desire to be, as your long tried and trusted friend. Such an expression of your confidence and esteem will be valued by every man, more especially by one who is placed in so responsible a position as that of a Bishop in the Church of God, and who has many bright examples before him to stimulate to greater zeal and earnestness, and to lead him to follow more closely in the steps of the great and good Shepherd, of whose life this world is the sum and substance. He who "went about doing good," I am greatly afraid that your flattering expressions of good will may operate both my abilities and my deserts. But I do not deny that it has ever been my aim to serve you faithfully, and to lead you on in the good path marked out by the Church of England, in that godly singleness of heart, which will be best for us all to manifest to the world, by our words and by our lives.

As one of the Metropolitans of the colonial church I was honored with a seat in the Council of the Church at the late Conference under the presidency of his Grace the Lord Archbishop of Canterbury. It was my earnest endeavour in the debates which took place at this Conference to promote the best interests of the church which I represented, by a maintenance of sound doctrine, a strict adherence to the Catholic principles, and a firmness of conduct, which amongst all the Bishops in Conference assembled, this Conference, as the Archbishop reminded us was not a synod, nor invested with canonical powers. But as a lay member of an assembly, coming from all parts of the world, and who weighed the opinions there expressed, and the practical effect of his own opinions, of the honors conferred on me by the Universities of Cambridge and Durham it does not become me to enlarge, but I trust that no part of my life or actions will be forgotten by those who have known me, and that I shall always retain a faithful and an untiring student, ever profiting by the learning of others and discharging abroad whatever I may have acquired myself.

You will, dear brethren and friends, join humbly and heartily with me in thoughts to Almighty God for my preservation from danger, and for the continued blessing of His grace upon me, whether my course be long or short, I earnestly desire your prayers, that the years that remain, be they many or few, may be spent in His glory whose work it is to glorify Him, and who is not according to our merits, but according to His mercy, in Jesus Christ our Lord.

His Lordship was very warmly received on his return to his diocese, and his people very cordially for their warm words of welcome that sank deep into his heart. He was glad to be back among them again and hoped to be in his own diocese in a few days. He referred to the many marks of progress everywhere visible in the Church in England, and he failed to observe any marks of disestablishment. In concluding, His Lordship said he had and greatly enjoyed his trip and came back refreshed and invigorated.

Sir Leonard Tilley spoke briefly, reiterating the good wishes expressed in the address. The Chief Justice then read the following: His Lordship pronounced the benediction, and then all present went forward and shook his hand. During his remarks, the Chief Justice remarked that his Lordship had been largely benefited by his trip, as he, the Chief Justice, had heard that His Lordship weighed more than when he left home.

The will of the late Mrs. Judge Wilnot has not yet been probated, in consequence of the witnesses. It is understood that Edward H. Wilnot of Fredericton (half brother of the late Judge Wilnot) is sole executor. The estate is valued at about $40,000. Mrs. Wilnot leaves $200 each to her eight nieces, and $100 to her nephew, son of Dr. Lewis. She also leaves $5,000 in charities, principally in New Brunswick.

Then he clasped her with emotion. Whipped round to her, he said, "The old, old tale, you know it all, From his circled arms springing, With his arms around her neck, And her voice with sorrow ringing, 'I shall not see my bridal day.'" This dramatic speech broke him up badly; but when she explained that her apprehensions were founded on the fact of an inherited predisposition of consumption, which he, he claimed her fears, brought a bottle of Dr. Pierce's Great Medical Discovery for all For all bronchial, throat, and lung affections, it is a potent remedy.
