A PAINFUL OPERATION.

A correspondent of the New York Sun, writing from Boston, tells of an operation he saw performed in a hospital upon a patient with a cancer in his jaw. The patient was a man of about forty-five years, who was suffering with a malignant growth, probably of a cancerons nature, in the front part of the upper jaw. He was placed before the class in a surgical chair, as it was necessary that he says the Country Gentleman, for want A skipping rope has been patented which should be in a sitting position.
