Mr. D. R. Forgan's lecture in the Old Kirk, Thursday evening, was a very able and interesting effort, and attracted a good audience. The lecturer handled his subject "Grit and Grip" very cleverly and his delivery was most favorably commented on. Sheriff Sterling occupied the chair.

Our York Mills correspondent writes that the Municipality's most attractive suburbs has made himself so obnoxious to the parishoners that he has been notified that they will no longer be responsible for his salary, something which he is not in a position to do without. This gentleman of the cloth is young, and handsome, and when he was appointed rector took the parish and the affection of the church's daughters by storm. Their interest in religious affairs suddenly became all absorbing and every fund in connexion with the church's leading the prodigy. A net was placed under him in case he left the precious two pounds fall. Mrs. Lippincott declares that the baby has grown considerably during the past week, and his appetite is getting to be alarmingly keen.
