mony outside the Court House. WM. HAYWARD, of Moncton, said he visited the Osbornes in Shediac on the 7th November, 1877. Eliza said Mrs. McCarthy and a young lady had been there, and stopped a while, having a good time. Also that she and McCarthy had a dispute about an article purchased by him for a lady in Moncton. He said he had plenty of money, and showed the size of the roll of bills with her fingers; she said she did not think there was less than a $10 bill in the roll; she said he got pretty high and was going on with his tricks, and went away about ten o'clock. Mr. Osborne said that was the last he saw of him. Mrs. Osborne said. "Yes, he was back after that." Eliza said, "Well, if he was, I did not see him." Weldon House.
