they had, at last, got the temperance movement where it belonged, in connection with the last day of the week. They were there to-night to speak of temperance as belonging to their common christianity. He believed they had good reason to thank God for the principle which had permeated the entire community, and concluded with an eloquent tribute to Mr. Dutcher and the great work he had occomplished. As to temperance he did not believe that a man would be shut out of heaven, simply because be drank in moderation, but the evil lay in the example to others.

Mr. Dutcher in connection with Mr. McKeown's remarks about Temperance and the Churches, observed that he had often, when a drunkard, been passed by those coming out of churches and crawled under the steps to sleep. Another hymn was now sung.

The Rev. Mr. McBain expressed his sympathy with the temperance movement but believed the truth never suffered by being wholly told. He did not agree with Mr. Dutcher in all his positions, and was pleased with the remarks made by Mr. McKeown. For himself he objected to the fidea that any man who took strong drink committed a sin, but if he saw other men injured by his example, he would say "you can appeal to me to abstain on this account." He thought this was a stronger position to take. Mr. McBain desired for others comfort and happiness

A hymn was then sung and the proceedings were brought to a close. FAREWELL MEETING.

In consequence of the proposed departure of Mr. Dutcher on Monday evening, the Dutcher Reformers of Chatham decided to hold their weekly meeting on that evening, as a farewell meeting to the great Temperance Advocate, to whom Chatham is under so many obligations.

President A. D. Shirreff, Esq., who called upon the Rev. Mr. McKeown to open with prayer, after which came the first part of the programme which was as follows :-Chorus. - "Where are the Reapers," by the Choir

Address .- By the Rev. Mr. McCullogh of Red Bank. Solo .- "Beautiful Dreamer" by Miss Gertie Goggin. Accompaniment by Mrs.

Address.—By Mr. William Sinclair. Solo .- "Lambs of the Fold" by Miss Bessie McKeown.

Mr. Dutcher now addressed the audience and adverting to the remarks of presomething of life and society from the highest to the lowest, and he never knew what it was to enjoy life till the light of temperance came into his soul. What had been done in Chatham could be done by brethren anywhere. Spirituous liquors were a poison and not a stimulant : the speaker here particularly referred to the sensations of the drunkard and the treatment which was necessary to enable him pledge, to which now over 1412 names were attached in Chatham.

While Mr. Dutcher was speaking he repeatedly called upon those in the hall to come up and sign the pledge, quite a number of whom responded to the call. PRESENTATION OF ADDRESS.

L. J. Tweedie, Esq., now come forward and on behalf of the Dutcher Reformers, presented the following address signed by the Executive Committee, to Mr. Dutcher. To Brother George M. Dutcher, -DEAR SIR, -On the eve of your departure from our town, we feel that we would be remiss in our duty toward you if we services you have rendered to this community on the important question of Tem-

On the occasion of your first visit among us you were, under the blessing of God, the means of awakening the people to a deep sense of the evils of Intemperance, and you were universally successful in imparting new life and vigor into the Temperance Cause. By your earnest efforts many victims of intemperance have been reclaimed and placed again in their former positions, good and useful members of society; homes have been gladdened and the hearts of many made to rejoice. The measure swept away.

We, therefore, on behalf of the members you their sincere and hearty thanks. And we feel assured that wherever you go, you mothers, wives, and sisters of this community, and of all who love the temperance cause. And we earnestly trust that you may be successful in your good work. long to again visit us. And we can also assure you that we will use every endeavor to continue the good work commenced by you among us, and we hope that by the assistance of Providence we may be able to "Hold the Fort." We now bid you farewell. Chatham, Aug. 19, 1878.

Mr. Dutcher replied very briefly praying that the people of Chatham might prosper and that Heaven's choicest blessing might descend on them.

The Rev. T. L. Smith made a short address, in which he spoke of the progress which the temperance cause had made in Chatham since Mr. Dutcher's first visit ten months ago, and the good which had resulted from it, praying that the blessing of God might rest upon Mr. Dutcher and

A dialogue entitled Love, Purity and Fidelity, was given by the Misses Gertie Goggin, Ettie Loudoun, and Annie Davidson, who wore wreathes and sashes emblematical of the characters they personated, and concluded with a song, the refrain of which was

"The Dutcher Reformers forever" "Three cheers, for the Red White and Blue." The proceeding were brought to a close by the Choir singing "Auld lang Syne. After the meeting Mr. Dutcher, previous to his departure, was entertained at supper at the Canada House, some forty members of the society with many of the Office Bearers being present. A number of short addresses were made by various gentlemen, after which Mr. Dutcher

The Dominion Fishery Law he gave the praise to God. He had seen prohibits bag-nets, etc., except "under special license for capturing deep sea fishes." These restrictions and provisions are carefully observed by our own fishermen, as they ought to be, and it is very discouraging to them to witness the absolute contempt with which the Americans are daily treating them. Perhaps the fish-destroyer is after mackerel only. If so he takes all of that fish of a certain size that he has captured, letting the smaller ones, and dozens of other species in large quantities, sink to the bottom and rot. Only from fifty to ten per cent of the fish captured in purse-seines are secured for market, the rest being returned dead to our waters did not publicly acknowledge the valuable which they pollute so as to make them unfit for other fish to live in. It is not unusual for our own fishermen who may happen to be near American vessels when their seines are hauled, to be offered herring and other fish, with the alternative of having them let down into the sea again dead. Thousands of barrels of all kinds of fish are thus being destroyed and there seems to be no way at hand of preventing it.

It is not long since an American tone of society has been elevated, and the schooner's crew landed one of these drinking customs of the town in a great purse-seines on Fox Island. It was nearly a sixth of a mile long and two of the Dutcher Temperance Reform Society hundred and forty feet deep. Our Government ought also to open negotiations with the American Government with a view of prohibiting the purse-seine altogether. If some such action is not taken our fisheries will, by the time the Treaty expires, be as worthless as those along the United States coasts, which have been destroyed by the short-sighted greed and destructive ingenuity of American fishermen.

The Dominion Elections are to come off a little earlier than was anticipated, Nomination being fixed for the 10th September and Polling for the 17th. We presume this arrangement will, after all, be generally satisfactory, inasmuch as it will shorten the period of public excitement which so important event will naturally create. Candidates who have large constituencies to canvass will not be able to overtake all the work which they may have expected to do, but the electors will, we presume, make all due allowences for what cannot be helped and back their favorites all the same. Now that the Writs are out it is to started for the Depot accompanied by the be hoped that, however earnestly Can-Choir, Office Bearers, and others in several didates and their friends may labor for vehicles, who bade him a hearty and the results they desire on Polling day, musical farewell as he took his departure they will all remember that persona bitterness and harsh treatment of opponents ought to be avoided. Facts of political history, whether general or local, the official political conduct of principals in the contest and the public policy which they represent, may be fairly used to influence those by whose decision our next House of Commons is the Dominion; and some of our own polito be created. Indeed, the great question of the contest is one of such little time wasted on the smaller issues.

Balance due depositors 1st July, 1878. 38,377.21 The Premier and Finance Minister in the Maritime Provinces.

Hon. Alex. Mackenzie, Premier and Minister of Public Works, and Hon. Richard J. Cartwright, Minister of Finance, are visiting the Maritime Provinces. They were at Halifax on Friday last and addressed a meeting of thousands in the Drill Shed. Previous to the speaking an address was presented to the Premier. The principal part of it was as follows :-

"Called, as you were, to the high and responsible position which you now occuby, at a time when extraordinary difficulties were to be dealt with in governing the country, your marked ability and integrity became at once conspicuous features in the administration of affairs.

"To have successfully grappled with the perplexing public questions which presented themselves at the time of your installation as Premier of Canada, in the ordinary course of things, would have been sufficient to have established a reputation for statesmanship of no ordinary rank; but the remarkable success with which you and your colleagues, amidst general commercial prostration which has prevailed, have carried on the Government

The audience relished it immensely-more than the disturbers did, for soon the number of people who wished to interrupt Mr. Mackenzie was sensibly reduced; the melancholy fate of a number was an example that others profited by. Keeping perfectly cool, in the presence of the interruption, encouraging them rather than rebuking them, Mr. Mackenzie went from question to question, vindicating the action of his Government on every one. Frequently the thread of his argumer t was broken by an inquiry or a base less charge from some Tory rough. The Premier stopped, answered the enquiry, disposed of the charge, then resumed his argument without being at all disconcerted. That which the Tories intended for an annoyance really served a good purpose, for it brought out qualities in Mr. Mackenzie's character that were unknown to his admirers here. He had made able speeches in Nova Scotia before, but never The two Ministers have been received, with the greatest enthusiasm during the past week at Pictou, Charlottetown, Summerside and other cities and towns. To-day they reach St. John and are to address the electors of that city at the Rink. We shall endeavor to present a full report of the proceedings at St. John in our next issue. It is not probable that the distinguished gentlemen will have time to make any stay in Northumberland in passing through towards their own constituencies. We are quite sure, however, that if they could do so our people would turn out in very large numbers to hear them.

It is said by Mr. Mitchell's friends-—that Mr. Snowball might as well let Mr. Mitchell go in unopposed this time as it was probable he would not offer again for Northumberland. It is. therefore, easy to understand that if the Protectionists have promised to "shelve" Mr. Mitchell, he would not care very much whether our Flour, Salt, and Coal were taxed or not. Mr. Snowball's return will, however, assist in defeating the Taxation plans of Mr. Mitchell's friends.

Nearly all the pork that is imported is used by those engaged in lumbering. It is not proposed to abolish the duty on pork, but to increase it. The duty on flour would also bear heavily upon them, so would the duty on clothes, and on many other articles, and Protection could not increase the price of deals in the English market, or of boards, shingles, etc., in the markets of the United States. Surely everyone interested in the lumber trade must oppose a policy which would be so oppressive, and so unjust to them."

NOT A "TILLEY MAN." - The St John Sun is aiding its twin brother, the Dominion, in abusing Mr. Snowball. It does its work by both editorials and correspondence, both being, evidently, the efforts of its bogus Chatham correspondent of the Fisheries Department who makes a virtue of his loyalty to "his old master," Mr. Mitchell. In a letter dated 13th inst., writing as "W" of "Chatham," he says-"it is quite "time that he [Mr. Snowball] privately states that he is a better Tilley man one that equalled his effort of Friday "than Mr. Mitchell." We presume "W" intended to say "it is quite true," etc. Taking that for granted we may remark, as we did last week, that Mr. Snowball and many others in the Liberal ranks, were "Tilley men" until Mr. Tilley embraced Protectionist doctrines. There are no political necessities surrounding Mr. Snowball's position which require that he should turn his back upon the party with which he has always been allied. Mr. Tilley has become a disciple of Sir John A. Mac-donald, who has plainly declared that gentleman is quite able to take care of the Tariff of Canada ought to be like that of the United States. That means such taxation on the necessaries of life as our people cannot bear, and it is the

We presume that the "see enclosed" refers to one of the circulars printed in the Advocate office and sent to different parts of the Province by Venning and other friends of Mr. Mitchell, for the purpose of injuring the Editor of the ADVANCE, who is a great thorn in the side of that delectable

It will, at all events, be gratifying to our fishermen to know from Mr. Venning that the Minister has begun to exercise "care and caution," and "reluctance" and "painstaking consideration" before acting upon recommendations of the Inspector. His experience with that gentleman ought to suggest so prudent a course. Turning from his praise of the Minister, which must have gone much against his nature, poor Venning feels savage and wants "satisfaction," so he indulges in mere abuse of Mr. D. G. Smith, claims that the Editor of the Globe is a "brother officer," that he, himself, is an old journalist, that a former letter of his to the Globe was returned, without note or comment and winds up by threatening what he will do if the Gtobe continues to "slander" him. To all this the Globe says :-In reference to this crazy letter we may say that we slandered no one on the authority of Mr. D. G. Smith or of Mr. anybody else. We would not have allowed these unjustifiable references to Mr. Smith himself and of Mr. Venning too. We know of nothing in which he is Mr. Venning's inferior.

On Mr. Venning's vanity, on the vulgar swagger of Mr. Venning's style, on his boasts of what he knows about editorial duties, courtesies, etc., we need make no in keeping its advocates where they remark. If Mr. Venning ever was an editor it was not in our day or within our recollection. It is quite likely, indeed that any journal of which he had control came to an untimely death. For one who fancies himself "possessed of the requisite modicum of brains," Mr. Venning has some strange hallucinations; for instance he speaks of some one as "the acredited editor of the Globe, a fellow servant of the same Government" whatever that may mean. The editor of the GLOBE is not a servant, nor an employee of the Govern-ment; nor does he hold any office of any kind under the Government. Mr. Venning's assertion that he does is what Mr. "foolish slander" or a "fool's slander, perhaps "told among bar-rooms," with out "reflection" by some "willing tool, A further evidence of this "hallucination" is to be found in the fact that Mr. Venwas returned without note or comment. Nothing of the kind ever occurred. We would be very glad to receive a "respectful letter" from Mr. Venning and would treasure it as a priosity. As we received no letter, respectful or otherwise, from him, it follows as a matter of course that we returned none.

A statement appeared in this journal which we made, believing it to be true. Mr. Venning at once assumes that he is the party referred to, and makes a great fuss about it. We will not trouble him so far as to say that he has an "awakened conscience" in this matter. Perhaps he is wise in protesting so much, as he may think it necessary to do so. The majority of the people would say, if anybody else but Mr. Venning were to pursue such a course, that he was "stupid" and did not possess the "requisite modi-

We have another point to make. The sentence which so excites Mr. Venning's rage is as follows:

Some of these employes, we shou'd hope they are very few, are active in the committee rooms of the opposition, and one of the most bitter and unscruplous writers against the Government is a well known Government official who is suspected of carrying his feelings so far as to have advised his lepartment to certain lines of conduct for the express purpose of making his chief unpopular. The reader will see that we never used words for which Mr. Venning makes us responsible, viz., that any advice was adopted," though he even quotes the word to make it appear that it was ours. This is Mr. Venning's own addition; but to show how "stupid" even men with the requisite modicum," etc., etc., may be, we print, side by side, an editorial article from the Sun of yesterday and an extract from Mr. Venning's letter also written yes-Here the Globe reproduces extracts from the editorial which seem to indicate that Mr that the editor of the Sun wrote Mr. Venning's letter, and it adds :-

We never said that Sir A. J. Smith the Minister referred to or that he "adoptdid. Is the inference justifiable from the wonderful similarity in the matter we have placed in parallel columns that Mr.

Election for the Electoral District of Northumberland, 1878.

MITCHELL.

Peter Mitchell, City of Montreal, Gentleman.

SNOWBALL.

Jabez Bunting Snowball, Chatham, Merchant,

The cross within the space occupied by Mr. Snowball's name indicates that the Voter has marked his ballot for that gentleman. Any voter desiring to vote for Mr. Mitchell will, of course, not make the cross in the space in which it is shown above. Should the voter be unable to read, or from any other cause be unable to understand how to mark the Ballot, the Deputy Returning Officer and the representatives, who have previously been sworn to secrecy, will retire with the voter, who will then be privately asked for whom he wishes to vote, and the Deputy Returning Officer will mark, in the presence of the representatives, the Ballot as designated by the Voter. The voter on returning to the outer room, will present his Ballot to the presiding officer who will tear off and destroy the counterfoil and place the Ballot in the box. Our friends who know voters who may not be able to properly understand the marking of the Ballot might cut the above out and use it for the purpose of instructing such Voters. That would render the assistance of the officers unnecessary. SECRECY TO BE KEPT UNDER PENALTIES. No elector shall be allowed to take his Ballot paper jout of the Polling Station, or (except in cases of persons who through incapacity must be assisted as above in making the Ballot) to show it when marked to any person so as to allow the name of the candidate for whom he votes to be known, under a penalty of two hundred dollars; and no person shall directly or indirectly induce, or endeavor to induce any voter to show his Ballot paper after he has marked it, under a penalty of two hundred dollars for so doing and for each case of such offence. COUNTING THE BALLOTS. Immediately on the close of the Poll the Deputy Returning Officer shall, in the presence of the Poll Clerk and the Candidates or their Agents, and, at least, three Electors, open the Ballot Box and proceed to count the Votes given for each Candidate. In doing so he shall reject all Ballot papers which have not been supplied by the Deputy Returning Officer, all those by which votes have been given for more Candi-lates than are to be elected and all those upon which there is any writing or mark by which the Voter could be identified. The good Ballot papers, being counted, a proper list shall be made of the number of votes given to each Candidate and the good and rejected Ballots made up in separate packets, endorsed and replaced in the Ballot Box, which shall be locked, to be sent to the Returning Officer. Each Candidate or his Agent may obtain from the Deputy Returning Officers certificates of the voting at each Polling Station.

ORDER ABOUT THE POLL. Stringent provisions are made for the maintenance of order at and in the vicinity of

Bar rooms and Taverns are to be closed on Polling day. CONVEYING VOTERS TO THE POLL,

No Candidate is allowed to pay for conveying voters to the Poll, and no Agent or other person is allowed to pay for such service. This does not, however, debar neighbors and friends from assisting each other in getting to the Poll The above embraces the leading features of the Law which are of interest ning says that he wrote us a "letter to voters. Should any of our readers desire information on any other matter in reference thereto we shall be glad to furnish it, so far as the Act itself informs us. We append a description of the Polling Districts in this County.
