ACCIDENT.—What might have been very serious accident happened last Thursday night to their Lordships, Bishop Rogers and Bishop Sweeney. The latter was being accompanied by the former to the Railway Station, Chatham, and as the carriage was being driven down the rather steep incline leading from the Cathedral grounds the horse became restive and went off on the run. To avoid the carriage containing · His Excellency, the Delegate, which was just in advance, the driver pulled the horse to one side, and becoming aware of the fact that he was getting off the edge of the five feet wide, thirty feet high and ten street, he turned too sharply and an upset | feet deep with large crosses of evergreen was the consequence. The speed at which the carriage was going and the weight of four persons-the driver and another passenger, besides the two Bishops-made a perfect wreck of the vehicle. Bishop Sweeney was the most injured, as he fell upon his shoulder, head and side; Bishop Rogers received a bruise on the top of the head and his back was slightly injured. The other occupant of the carriage and the driver were also slightly hurt. Bishop Sweeney was not prevented by the accident from proceeding to St. John, but after his arrival there he was confined to his residence for several days. Bishop Rogers, was about the following day, though suffering somewhat.

The grounds were very tastefully decorated for the occasion, with arches of evergreen bearing appropriate inscriptions, and several prominent points about the buildings were gay with flags. The arch at the entrance of the Cathedral grounds was a massive one about twentysurmounting the apex at front and rear while a staff, which rose from the tor of the arch in the centre bore the flag of the Dominion. On the outer face of this arch was the legend, "Welcome the Delegate of the Apostolic See." The face of the left column bore the legend, Ceud mile failte and that of the right column the legend, "Honor to whom Honor is due". The converse face of the arch bore the legend, "Salvete Illustrissimi Antistites Nostri, in welcome to the other visiting

A magnificent triple arch was also placed over the spot on which the apsis and western end wall of the proposed Cathedral will be erected. The centre arch was surmounted by a large evergreen cross " Habemus Altare." (Heb. XIII, 10.) "Ecce Tabernaculum Dei cum Hominibus!" (Apoc. XXI, 3,) "Domus mea, Domus Orationis." (Luc. XVIII, 46.).

Over the entrance to the Hotel Dieu was the text, "Benedictus qui renit in nomine Domini." (Luc. XIII, 35).

Though they differ from us in religion, yet they wish to manifest their kind symyathy in honoring, socially, him whom we wish to honor. This kindness on their part is only in keeping with the uniform urbanity, cordial good will and kind social and business intercourse for which the people of Miramichi are particularly distinguished-without compromise of principle on the part of any one, or of convictions of conscience in points whereon we differ .-We have here a representation of those kind neighbors and friends of all denominations whose sympathy and good will were displayed in so effective and practical a manner on the occasion of our late calamity. The presence, then, of so many worthy guests is proof that I represent their sentiments on this occasion, in expressing our grateful satisfaction and high appreciation of the honor conferred upon us by the visit of the illustrious Bishop of Ardagh, whom the Pope has sent as Delegate to Canada-Dr. Conroy, so distinguished in every branch of learning, officially so elevated and yet so amiable and condescending as to come to aid and cheer us by laying the corner stone of our Cathedral. I beg, therefore, to propose the health of His Excellency, the Apos-

He begged to return thanks for the kind welcome extended to It was most gratifying for him thus to meet so many of the principal citizens of the Miramichi, representing the various professions and departments of public life and of different religious persuasions. The spirit of general good will-the kind and friendly feeling-thus manifested, was a great source of pleasure to him, and he sincerely hoped this mutual amity among all the citizens would long

He must confess that on arriving at Chatham he felt disappointed. The idea which he had formed of it was very different, he knew not why, unless that its name was associated with a certain grim old Earl, or with a great military station in England, which made him think of it as a place bristling with fortresses and weapons of war. But how agreeable was his disappointment to find it so remarkable for peace and the cordial interchange of friendly feelings!

There was, also, another disappointment which he must confess to have experienced. Before coming he expected to find, on the Church grounds, blackened walls and ruins; but while sailing to-day on the beautiful river, and preceiving. amongst other picturesque objects, the new Buildings, now in course of construction, crowning this hill, he asked what they were? When informed that they were the Bishop's buildings, springing up in the place of those burned, he felt agreeably surprised and must, now; express the hope that the new Cathedral to be constructed would grow up so beautifully and so rapidly that all the other Bishops would have reason to wish their Cathedrals burned, in order to have them thus replaced by better ones. (Laughter and applause.) His Excellency expressed high pleasure at the esteem in which the Bishop of Chatham was held, and concluded by proposing his health. Bishop Rogers arose and expressed his profound thanks to his Excellency and to all present for the honor done him by this toast. He said he would not intrude on his Excellency nor on the company by speaking at length what he felt. He would briefly remark, in justice to all present, that the progress in rebuilding to which His Excellency had so pleasantly alluded, was due in a very great measure to the kind sympathy and practical good neighborhood of the gentlemen present, as well as of others who were unavoidably absent. The universal manifestation of sympathy the very generous contributions of these kind friends gave to himself (the Bishop) so great a moral support and courage, as caused him almost to forget that any calamity had happened, in the cheerful excitement with which he and his flock were urged on to rebuild on the

Another announcement was respecting the Address of the congregation to be presented to the Apostolic Delegate. No time had as yet been fixed for this ceremony, but His Excellency was pleased to manifest his pleasure to receive it now, while the people were present. May it please your Excellency :-With joyous and grateful hearts we bid you welcome! — Ceud Mile Failte! The honor and benediction of a visit from the Delegate of the Sovereign Pontiff our Most Holy Father the Pope, would at all times be hailed by us with dutiful joy. For with filial reverence we love the Apostolic See of Peter, wherein we recognise the centre of religious unity, the keystone of the Hierarchy and the infallible teach ing authority predicated by our Lord Jesus Christ when He said, "I have prayed for THEE Peter, that thy faith fail not and that THOU when converted confirm thy Brethren". But in the person of your Excellency we recognise, moreover, one of the most learnand most pious members of the illustrious Irish Episcopate, delegated by the Holy See, in its wisdom, on a mission of paternal benignity, encouragement and peace to the young and growing portion of the Church in Canada. St. Patrick, a native of Brittainy in France, was similarly delegated by the then Pope, St. Celestine I., to preach the Gospel of Christ to the Irish people. His mission was fruitful; and its fruit has remained : for in every clime under heaven there are Irishmen to be found and fidelity to the faith of St. Patrick is, in them and their descendants, an acknowledged characteristic. It is not surprising therefore that we who claim to be either natives he took his seat. The other Bishops the "Island of Saints"-should vie with our Brethren in Canada of French extraction, compatriots of St. Patrick, in hailing your advent amongst us as the harbinger of a twofold fruitful benediction that of St. Peter's successor, the learned and Saintly Leo XIII (whom may God long preserve.) and that of St. Patrick, Apostle

But, again, when we consider that your first public function on arriving at this side of the Atlantic was to give Episcopai Consecration to our venerated Metropolitan. the Archbishop of Halifax, and that your present visit to our young and humble Diocese is one of condescending kindness and sympathy, to lay the foundation stone of our Cathedral and thus encourage our devoted Bishop and his flock, whom Divine Providence permitted to be so severely tried a few months ago by the calamity of fire, we cannot restrain-and. yet, we cannot adequately give utterance

CEREMONY OF BLESSING AND LAYING THE CORNER STONE OF ST. MICHAEL'S CATHEDRAL.

The Pontiff, Mgr. Conroy, wearing mitre and cope, and attended by the assistant clergy, the Bishops of Chatham, St. John, Charlottetown and Arichat being also present, and a dense concourse of people assisting, began the ceremony by first blessing holy water. Then going to the large wooden cross which had been planted on the spot where the principal altar of the Cathedral is to stand, over which the temporary chancel, with altar in it, had been erected, he sprinkled it with blessed water, reciting the antiphon.

"Put the Sign of Salvation, O Lord Jesus Christ, in this place and do not permit the Destroying Angel to enter" and the 83rd Psalm "How beautiful are Thy Tabernacles, O Lord of Hosts" &c, to the end. Then, having taken off his mitre, standing in front of the place thus sprinkled, he recited the following prayer :-O Lord God, who, though Heaven and earth, where Thy name shall be continually invoked, visit we beseech Thee, through the merits of Blessed Mary Ever Virgin of Blessed Michael the Archangel and of all the Saints, with the serene glance of Thy clemency, this place and by the infusion of thy grace, purify it from every defilement, and preserve it purified; and mayest Thou, who didst accomplish in the work of his Son Solomon what Thy be loved David had desired, design to accom olish our desires in this work, and may spirits of wickedness flee hence. Through our Lord Jesus Christ who, with Thee, in the Unity of the Holy Ghost, liveth and reigneth God for ever and ever.

At the conclusion of the meeting it was stated by Mr. Tweedie that a good many of the Chatham Dutchers had proposed to attend the meeting at Newcastle on Friday evening, and if a sufficient number went, the requisite arrangements in connection with the boat could be made by Mr. William Johnston. The Newcastle people had often assisted them at their meetings, and it would be advisable that a large number should go, and they might ascertain the views of the Newcastle Dutchers regarding the new Canada Temperance Act (the provisions of which he had referred to in his address), and the advisability of its adoption in this county. In reference to this matter, the Executive Committee would hold a meeting and com-cieties, and report on the result. Mr. Tweedie also stated in his address that a Postal Card had been received by the President, John Shirreff, Esq., inscribed as follows:-
