First comes death, then the judgment, then either with the blessed or with the lost; if the latter eternal separation from God. In the wise designs of the providence of God he had a short, but a useful career. He has fulfilled the law. He is gone to the reward in store for him, he has been taken away from the wickedness of this world. 'He was taken away lest wickedness should alter his understanding, or deceit beguile his soul; for the bewitching of vanity obscureth good things, and the wandering of concupiscence overturneth the innocent mind; being made perfect in a short space he fulfilled a long time.'

"He would not weary them further, but would conclude by saying that the late Bishop had gained the warm love of his people, the love and respect of his priests, who had looked on him as a brother and a wise counsellor, he had been actually embraced by the Bishops and people of Ireland and of the Churches of America and Canada.
