"GRACE EGERTON."-Mrs. and Mr. Geo. Case, with their little daughter, "Dolly Dot," appeared at Masonic Hall on Tuesday evening. The performance consisted of character delineations, songs, concertina and violin playing by Mr. Case, two legerdemain tricks by Mrs. Case and two short sketches "Sairey Gamp" and "Married and Settled." Those who had witnessed "Grace Egerton's" performances when she was in the Province seven or eight years ago, were very much disappointed on Tuesday night. She appears to yave lost the vivacity and finished style which won the reputation on which she is now continuing before the public. At all events the performance was, both in quality and artistic merit, below what was anticipated. Mrs. Case's song "Down in a Coal Mine " was well rendered and as " Brittannia " with the song "Here stands a Post" she received a deserved ancore, but she was disappointing in nearly all her other efforts. Mr. Case's imitation of the bagpipes with the concertina was clever and his violin playing very good, but he is is not a pleasing general performer by any means. "Dolly Dot's " singing was not equal to that of many local children of her age who have favoured audiences in the same hall, besides which the poor child was so tired as to render it evident that she should have been abed and not on the stage.

Some excuse may be made for the poor performance on account of the performers having arrived on the evening train and being obliged to go immediately to the hall. but that is their affair and persons who take the money, of the public for entertaining them should not incapacitate them,
