Rock of Ages. "Rock of Ages, cleft for me," Thoughtlessly the maiden sung, Fell the words unconsciously

From her girlish, guileless tongue. Sang as little children sing : Sang as sing the birds in June Fell the words like light leaves down On the current of the tune-" Rock of Ages cleft for me, Let me hide myself in thee.' Felt her soul no need to hide; Sweet the song as song could be, And she had no thought beside. All the words unheedingly Fell from lips untouched by care, Dreaming not they each might be On some other lips a prayer-"Rock of Ages, cleft for me, Let me hide myself in thee."

" Pock of Ages, cleft for me," 'Twas a woman sung them now; Sung them slow and wearily-Wan hand on her aching brow, Ro e the song as storm-tossed bird Beats with weary wing the air; Every note with sorrow stirred, Every syllable a prayer— "Rock of Ages, cleft for me, Let me hide myself in thee."

"Rock of Ages, cleft for me," Lips grown aged sung the hymn, Trustingly and tenderly; Voice grown weak and eyes grown dim "Let me hide myself in thee." Trembling though the voice and low, Ran the sweet strain peacefully Like a river in its flow. Sung as only they can sing Who life's thorny paths have pressed Sung as only they can sing
Who behold the promised rest—
"Rock of Ages, cleft for me,
Let me hide myself in thee."

"Rock of Ages, cleft for me," Sung above a coffin lid; Underneath all restfully, All life's joy and sorrow hid. Never more, O storm-tossed soul, Never more from wind and tide, Never more from billows' roll Wilt thou ever need to hide ! Could the sightless, sunken eyes. Closed beneath the soft white hair; Could the mute and stiffened lips Move again in pleading prayer, Still, aye still, the words would be : "Let me hide myself in thee."

The Queen and the Herd Laddie.

One day, some years ago, when her Majesty was standing on the public road, near Balmoral, sketching the castle from a particular point, a flock of sheep approached. Her Majesty, being intent on her work, took little notice of the flock, and merely moved a little nearer the side of the road. A boy in charge of the sheep shouted at | tough?" the top of a stentorian voice :-"Stan' oot o' the road, 'oman, an' let the sheep gae by !" Her Majesty not moving out of the way quite so fast as the shepherd wished, he again shouted,-

"Fat are ye stan'in' there for? Gang oot o' that, and let the sheep pass!" One of Her Majesty's attendants, dressed him :-

"Do you know whom it is you have been speaking so rudely to, boy?" "Na-I neither ken nor care; but be she fa' she likes, she sudna be i' the sheeps' road."

The boy looked astonished, and after recovering his senses, said, with great simplicity: "The Queen! Od, fat way dinna she pit on clais that foulk can ken her?" A Moving Palace.

If one thing more than another annoys a good wife, who is nervously sensitive to all that is gross and ill-timed, it is the habit some husbands have of using profane language in their homes. In many cases this is mere thoughtlessness on the part of the good man, who never gives a heed to the finer seas billies of his better half; an i, even should she mildly remonstrate, he pays no attention to the rebuke.

We have just had a case in po'n', which happened in Halifax, which the ladies here ought to know something about. A lady whose husband was addicted to the bad practice we have alluded to, came to her pastor, laid her grievance before him, and said:

"Now Mr. D ---, won't you remonstrate with him, and try to break him off his habit ? I know he will listen to you.' "Why, madam," said the clergymar, "he would pay no attention to anything could say to him; but as you have come to me, although somewhat out of my line, I will recommend a prescription, to be administered by you, that will certainly cure him. It is an infallible remedy.'

"Oh what is it Mr. D. ?" "Well, when John comes home again and swears you swear back again at him. Of course I don't want you to take the name of the Lord in vain but d-n things a little for his benefit. And she did.

Mary looked up archly and replied: "Well, John, I suppose you went down to the butcher's, and, without knowing the difference, picked out a piece of some d-d old stag that hadn't been fed for a month.' John jumped up, looked at his wife in dismay, and wanted to know what such language from her lips meant. "It means just this, John: You are the head of the family, and just as long as you who had been at a distance, on hearing | think it manly to swear in my presence I his Royal mistress thus rudely assailed, intend to do the same. BEST MOWER, combining greater excellence of mechanical simplicity together with greater durability and entire eliability for all the requirements of the field, than any other Mower extant. -In construction they are similar to the celebrated Walter A. Wood's Iron Frame Mower, and the Richardson Buckeye, both American Machines. Of the former there are over 200,000 in use, and the extraordinary number of 20,000 were manufactured and sold last season, by the Wood Company of United States. We have over 500 of our manufacture now in use, every one of which (no exceptions) stands as a monument of the grand and unprecedented success of home manufacture and our enterprise. A list of our

Agents in this section of the Province will be found appended, and farmers are requested to ask information of them relative to our Mowers in use in their respective localities, which will establish beyond doubt their unquestionable superiority over any other mower to be had in our market. The facility of procuring all parts or pieces with-in a nominal length of time must show beyond the shadow of a doubt the claims such an enterprise has upon the farmers of the Maritime Provinces. For the coming harvest of 1877 we will manufacture LARGLY in excess of our numbers of last season, and trust that our growing enterprise may find such inducements held out to it as will be commensurate with its merits. Let it be remembered we have no hesitation at all times, in entering into a friendly competition in the field with any other machine in our market. WE GUARANTEE OUR MOWERS TO BE INFE-
