When the present Government came into power the case was taken out of the hands of the Court, and referred to one sole arbitrator in Brockville, whose abilities did not entitle him to such a responsible duty, and by him an award of $101,000 was made, and the amount was handed over by the Government. Not one thousand of this, I believe, was really due, or would have been awarded by the Court had the matter been left in its hands. I will not trench upon your time by referring at length to the SERIOUS MISMANAGEMENT OF THE PACIFIC

Our policy was that the initial portions should be better than they appear to be at presbuilt as soon as possible, and after that ent. One word about that no progress should be made except that warranted under the existing rate of taxation. Since we left office the public debt has been increased by twenty millions of dollars, and it will go on increasing at something like that rate every year if the present extraordinary mode of conducting these great public works is carried out. We are bound to do the best we can for British Columbia, but we are bound also to the tax-payers of the country at large to stay our hand when the taxation reaches a point which makes it a serious burden for the people to bear. I believe the present mode of conducting the Pacific Railway will be ruinous. On opening | And so I might go over a large number the debate last session, in answer to my of foreign loans which have been made question, the Minister of Public Works | either in England or the United States, informed me that all the papers necessary to the discussion were upon the in a recent speech in Maine, that the table. I do not aside our selection of the Burrard Inlet route and selecting that by Bute Inlet. When Mr. Young told you that this route was 300 miles longer than the other, and would cost $21,000,000 more, ly to the rate of interest payable in he told very little. The grades upon other quarters Mr. Tilley's loan of 1879 the route they have selected are 104 feet was scarcely so good as Mr. Cartwright's to the mile, or nearly twice the highest loan of two years before. The only pity grade upon the Burrard Inland route. is that it was necessary to resort to such It will cost $600,000 more each year to run it, and every train will have to carry a smaller load. These fact will give you some idea of the magnitude of the blunder-no, I can hardly call it a blunder-but of the magnitude of the crime against the people of Canada which is to be committed. Another instance of the Government's recklessness in the management of this railway. It has always been our policy to agree if possible with the engineers as to the cheapest and shortest route. We did that, and in Manitoba they have changed the route so as to make it Thousands lose their lives in this way every thing that a lose of the route so as to make it Thousands lose their lives in this way every thing that in the find the first state of the route and the first state of the route of t thirty miles longer, entailing a cost of a

A STRUGGLE BETWEEN THE INS AND THE While I believe that, even if that were true, it would be an absolute necessity in the interests of the country to main-Government of the country, I believe there is nothing else which can save us from disaster, social and political. We sometimes hear it said that there is no difference between the parties. I think there is such a thing as a reactionary spirit with many of those who are essentially Conservatives. I am not saying a word in disparagement of Conservative doctrines. I understand perfectly what they mean, although I cannot agree with them. But we know that in previous legislation, and we have an instance at the present time in Canada of a gentleman who was distinguished in England not merely as a professor but as a politician, who was there a great Liberal and free trader, but who thinks it entirely consistent with these principles in England to be a Tory and protectionist here, as though principles could be changed by the geographical position of a country or climatic considerations. Now, we have not merely to accomplish other reforms which are before us, but we have to retain the old reforms which we have accomplished. We have to prevent any tampering with our Constitution, which has been built up with care, as well as to mend those portions of it which seem to us to require, at all events some repair.

REFORM IN THE SENATE. I have been told repeatedly by friends that they believe that the present constitution of the Senate is a defective one. I have, as an individual, assumed my full share of responsibility as a member of the Parliament that established the present mode of electing Senators, believing at the time that I was doing what was on the whole the best. I believed in having a different constituency for Senators, but I became convinced long ago that the plan we hit upon was a mistake, and the sooner it was rectified the better in the general interests of the country, and the wisdom of our legislation. The Senate, as at present constituted, has no doubt on several occasions done good service. It has, mostly, however, placed itself in antagonism to the Lower House, and during the whole term of life of the late Administration it was used simply as an instrument of vengeance and annoyance to the Liberal party, and one of the gentlemen who considers himself | about 60 of which are under Grass, the remainder the greatest, as he is undoubtedly the tallest, man in the Assembly, has been convoking Committees and sitting in judgment upon us every session since we failed to recognize his merits as a railway contractor. I am sorry to have to make these remarks, but I make them because I believe, as a member of the Reform party, that I am bound, and that we are all bound, to expect some reform in the constitution of the Senate at the earliest possible date. (Hear, hear, and cheers.) There may be some who doubt the necessity of its existence at all. Now, in considering whether a loan is good or bad, we have to consider the rate of interest prevailing at the time the loan is made. At the time Mr. Tilley's last loan was made the United States Government secured the sale of their 4 per cents at something like 1 per cent. above par, the city of Providence, R. I., secured a little more than par for its 4 per cent. bonds, the city of New York secured 105 for its 5 per cent. bonds. and show, as Senator Sherman showed decrease of the rate of interest, or the increase in value of such bonds as these year. The Death-rate of Our country is getting to be fearfully alarming, the average of life being lessened every year, without any reasonable cause, death resulting generally from the most insignificant origin. BEST MOWER. combining greater excellence of mechanical simplicity together with greater durability and entire reliability for all the requirements of the field, than any other Mower extant. - In construction they are milar to the celebrated Walter A. Wood's Iron Frame Mower, and the Richardson Buckeye, both American Machines. Of the former there are over 200,000 in use, and the extraordinary number of 20,000 were manufactured and sold last season, the Wood Company of United States. We have ever 500 of our manufacture now in use, every of of which (no exceptions) stands as a monument of the grand and unprecedented success of home nanufacture and our enterprise. A list of our Agents in this section of the Province will be found appended, and farmers are requested to ask information of them relative to our Mowers in use in their respective localities, which will establish beyond doubt their unquestionable superiority ove any other mower to be had in our market. The facility of procuring all parts or pieces with-n a nominal length of time must show beyond the hadow of a doubt the claims such an enterpris as upon the farmers of the Maritime Provinces. For the coming harvest of 1877 we will manuacture LARGLY in excess of our numbers of last season, and trust that our grow ng enterprise may find such inducements held out to it as will be commensurate with its merits. Let it be remembered we have no hesitation at all times, in entering into a friendly competition in the field with any other machine in our market. WE GUARANTEE OUR MOWERS TO BE INFE-RIOR TO NONE. Farmers would do well to enquire prices and terms before purchasing else-AGENTS: Campbellton-Malcom Patterson. Dalhovsie-David Ritchie. Bathurst-Charles Ross.
