VEGETINE
WILL CURE RHEUMATISM.

MR ALBERT CROOKER, the well-known druggist and apothecary, of Springdale, Me., always felt very sorely troubled with Rheumatism to try VEGETINE.
Read His Statement:
Springdale, Me., Oct. 12, 1876.
Dear Sir,—Fifteen years ago last fall I was taken sick with rheumatism, was unable to move until the next April. From that time until three years ago this fall I suffered everything with Rheumatism. Sometimes there would be weeks at a time that I could not step one step; these attacks were quite often. I suffered everything that a man could. Over three years ago last spring I commenced taking VEGETINE and followed it up until I had been seven bottles; have had no rheumatism since that time. I always advise every one that is troubled with rheumatism to try VEGETINE, and not suffer for years as I have done. This statement is gratuitous as far as Mr. Stevens is concerned.
Yours,
ALBERT CROOKER.
Firm of A. Crooker & Co., Druggists and Apothecaries.

VEGETINE.
Has Entirely Cured Me.
BOSTON, Oct., 1870.
MR. H. STEVENS:—I have been a great sufferer from Rheumatism. I have taken several bottles of the VEGETINE for this complaint, and am happy to say I am entirely cured. I have recommended the VEGETINE to others with the same good results. It is a great disease and purifier of the blood. It is pleasant to take and I can cheerfully recommend it.
JAMES MORSE, 304, Athens street.

VEGETINE.
RHEUMATISM IS A DISEASE OF THE BLOOD.
The blood in this disease, is found to contain an excess of uric acid. VEGETINE acts by converting the uric acid into urate, which is a healthy condition. It is very important in this complaint. One bottle of VEGETINE is sold by all druggists. Try it, and your relief will be the same as that of thousands before you, who say, "I have been cured so much relief as from the use of VEGETINE," which is composed exclusively of Herbs, Roots and Herbs.

"VEGETINE" says a Boston physician, "has no equal as a blood purifier. Hearing of its many wonderful cures, after all other remedies had failed, I visited the laboratory and convinced myself of its genuine nature. It is prepared from herbs, roots and herbs, each of which is highly effective, and their combination in such a manner as to produce astonishing results."

MR. H. B. STEVENS:—I have been troubled with Sciatica, Canker and Liver Complaint for three years; nothing ever did me any good until I commenced using the VEGETINE. I am now getting along first-class, and still using the VEGETINE. I consider it one of the most valuable medicines I ever used. My compliments to you for your kind and hearty interest in me. Yours truly,

Miramichi Advance

CHATHAM, . . . . . OCTOBER 30, 1879.
(London Times.)
The Cabul Massacre.

We have received from a private source the following account of the massacre, as taken down from the lips of one of the survivors:—
I have had a long conversation with one of Sir Louis Cavagnari's servants, who escaped; he and three others are, as far as is known, the sole survivors of the hideous massacre of which, doubtless, you have been already informed by wire. The particulars of the occurrence are as follows: At about seven 30 a.m., on the 2nd, crowds of armed Afghan soldiers were perceived rushing towards the Residency. Sir Louis Cavagnari must have expected something, as he ordered all the Sowars inside, and had the gates closed. Soon a mob of about four thousand men had collected. The gate was broken down, and in a few seconds the Sowars, though they fought nobly, were borne down by numbers and massacred to a man. A few soldiers, with the four white men, met the assault of the infuriated throng, who, with fanaticism and the exultation of feeling their prey in their grasp, swarmed to the attack. No flinching, no will fighting was to be seen in the gallant little band that met and repelled the attack. Again and again did the Afghans, like a recurring wave, forced on by the pressure of those behind, vainly essay to win their way into the house. Each effort but increased the heap of slain that fast accumulated around the house. Cowed by their reception, they withdrew to the cover available from walls and houses, and from their vantage ground poured a hail of lead into every opening in the building. Gallant Hamilton, so lately adorned with the Victoria Cross, adorned it by his heroic bravery. He exposed himself unflinchingly to the hottest fire, for a time he seemed to bear a charmed life, but at length a bullet pierced his heart, and he, fighting nobly fell. Dr. Kelly ran to his aid, and a bullet speedily laid him low too. Jenkins was the next to fall. Cavagnari, still unhurt, cheered on the gallantly lessening band; his presence inspired all. Cheerfully and resolutely they dealt out death to many a treacherous Afghan. Cavagnari would strike while he could; he ordered the treasure chest to be emptied into the courtyard; the fire momentarily ceased. The Afghans, yielding to their greed, and thinking resistance over, crowded to seize the glittering ruyees. In a moment our men concentrated their fire on the crowd struggling for the plunder. A fire more infernal than before was soon re-opened by the attackers, and now, to their other misfortunes, the magazines of the defenders exploded, and the roof was on fire. With numbers reduced by half, fire within, bullets from without, nothing daunted, each man stood to his post; but the reduced numbers told—a sudden rush of the enemy gained the door, that feeble barrier gave way; yet no sign of fear was shown—all met their death fighting. A surging throng filled the room where Cavagnari, a jemadar, and three natives were. Cavagnari's revolver spoke three times, the death-knell of as many Afghans, and then a blow from a heavy Afghan knife laid him low. His number did not long survive; with one blow of his sabre the jemadar swept off his head. A few more such blows he made, and then he lay beside his master. But one escaped, the narrator of the tale to me; he hid in a bath. The roof was now blazing, a part had fallen on the dead body of Cavagnari, so the crowd did not wait to search, but dragging the bodies of the killed from the burning house, they did not search for any concealed persons, so my informant escaped. He was a man who was thoroughly conversant with the Afghan tongue; and, being a Mussulman, he managed after his escape from the house, to pass himself off as a Cabuli. The bodies were treated with all the unmentionable indignities which Asiatics inflict on their enemies. From 8 a.m. till 2 p.m. the attack on the Residency continued. Yakop had plenty of other troops besides those that attacked the Residency, yet he made no attempt even to send them to the rescue. Diadad Shah, the Commander-in-Chief, found a sufficient reason in the pelting of a couple of stones at him not to interfere. Yakop's son, and more probably his feelings of sympathy with the slayers of the Kaffir; he, too, did nothing. One noble old man there was, a Mollah, (a Mussulman priest), who sought Yakop during the attack and begged him to interfere, and reproached him with the disgrace of killing a friend and an ambassador; but Yakop said: "I can do nothing." It is stated that all was Yakop's design, and the seeming mutiny of troops was but a skillful cloak for the murderous act of his own origination. It is strange that at the massacre of McNaughten of the former mission, a Mollah had similarly reproached the Amer, and that his words were the means of saving the lives of George Lawrence and others of the mission, who had been seized, and were momentarily expecting their death. No such good fortune was in store for our unfortunate countrymen.

SIGNS IN THE SKIES.—"And the shall be signs in the skies." Capt. John Morris, of the barque Eliza Cooper, lying at the port of Bonaville, France, reports: That on the night of Oct. 4th, on going on deck at midnight to see if all was well on the ship, he distinctly saw a cross over the moon, as plainly as he has often seen the cross on the steps of St. John's Church, of Windsor. The cross was long and well proportioned. On going ashore the next day, he found everyone in the city excited and talking about the cross over the moon. It is expected to be a forerunner of a great European war.—Windsor Mail.

SCHOOLS IN ST. ANDREWS.—It is satisfactory to learn from the trustees, that they have no intention of lessening the number or reducing the salaries of the teachers, nor amalgamating some of the schools as has been done elsewhere in the Province. The trustees are entitled to credit for keeping the school expenditure within the limits of the income, and that the teachers' salaries are regularly and promptly paid. We make no apology for devoting so much space occasionally to school affairs, as we view the matter of education as one of paramount importance to the people; and we were business brisk, we would like to see the teachers receiving larger salaries.—Standard.

LABRADOR FISHERY.—The fall catch has been very poor. Little or no fish had been caught since last report. So that the expectations of a very good voyage entertained at an earlier date will not, unfortunately, be fully realized. The weather, we are pleased to learn, has been generally fine, by which the curing of fish had been much facilitated. We accordingly find that a large number of fish vessels had been dispatched for market. The fish is reported to be of an unusually good quality and cure this season.

With regard to the Herring fishery, we have to say that it is the worst known for many years—in fact quite a failure. A few cargoes only had been obtained on the whole coast.—Harbor Gazette Standard.

"A YEOMAN" writes as follows to the Fredericton Reporter:—"Had not the Local Government better make a proclamation that every able bodied person on attaining the age of 21 years shall be duly qualified for the position of magistrate, or else abolish the whole system of appointing them. The force has been severely carried far enough. One or two men of good judgment and influence in each parish should be enough to preserve peace and good order, unless we are getting to be a very unmanageable set of people. The civil jurisdiction is in the hands of enough already without further extending it. The force has been severely carried far enough.
