SCHOOL TEACHERS: You can easily in crease your salary by devoting a very small portion of your leasure time to my interest. I do not expect you to canvas for my celebrated Beatty's Pianos and Organs unless you see fit to; but the service I require of you is both pleasant and profitable. Full particulars free.—

Address,

DANIEL F. BEATTY,

FREE! Any person who will make and forward me a list of the names of reliable persons of their acquaintance who wish to procure an instrument, either Piano or Organ, I will use my best endeavors to sell them one, and for every Piano I succeed in selling to their list within one year, I will credit them with $10, and for every Organ $5, to be applied on payment of either a Piano or Organ; and when it amounts to a sum sufficient to pay for any instrument, selected at the lowest wholesale price I will im nediately ship the instrument, free, or after any amount is credited the balance may be paid me in cash and I will then ship them the instrument. They need not be known in the matter, and will be doing their friends a real service, as I shall make special offers to them, selling a superior instrument for from one-half to two-thirds what is ordinarly asked by agents. Please send me a list at once, and after you have made inquiry, you can add to it. Address,

A BEAUTIFUL INCIDENT.—A gentleman relates that many years ago he was on a about twelve years of age,) to whom s' a was relating the story of the "Dairyman Daughter," whose remains lay benea their feet. As the lady proceeded with the narrative, he observed the little girl lift up her eyes filled with tears, and heard her say that she would try to be as good as the "Dairyman's Daughter" had been. After planting a beautiful lily on the grave, they walked slowly away. The gentleman, upon making inquiry, found that the lady was the Duchess of Kent, and the little girl her daughter. The latter is now the Queen of England.

FRANKNESS BETWEEN LOVERS. -One of the most essential things in all love affairs is entire and perfect frankness. Both parties should be frank-true to themselves, and truthful to each other. How many uneasy, troubled and anxious minds how many breaking and how many broken hearts there are to-day in which content and happiness might have reigned supreme but for a want of frankness! Repentance inevitably comes for all these things; but PARASOL. - A correspondent wants to it often comes too late, and only when the evil produced is incurable. In love, as in everything else, truth is the strongunless on the homepathic principle, that est of all things, and frankness is but another name for truth. Then always be frank. Avoid misunderstandings; give no LISTENING to a lady who was pouring reason or occasion for them. They are more easily shunned than cured; they leave scars upon the heart. You are less likely to be deceived yourself when you never try to deceive others. Frankness is like the light of the clear day, in which everything may be plainly perceived. A HARD BED TO FILL. - The youthful Editor of a paper published not far from Sackville is noted for his modesty. When school-boys, he and the writer were inseparable companions, probably because we stood in holy awe of "the gals." A pair of mischievous black eyes would stampede us quicker than a "big dog.

One day "Will" was sent to neighbor Shaw's to enquire about some straw for filling beds, and of course the writer went

Mr. Shaw was the father of six hateful it look like pewcer. Wet a flannel cloth girls who would rather laugh at a fellow in kerosene, dip it in dry whiting, and than not, and when we arrived they were rub the plated ware. Let it dry on it, and all seated at dinner. I dodged behind the corner while Will edged carefully in at the door, and with a scared look, stam-"Mr. Straw, can you let me have enough

Shaw to fill my bed?" "Well, Willie, "said the old gentleman, glancing around the circle at the six astonished faces "I suppose so; here are six besides the old woman; but I'd rather Poor THING:-At a wedding recently, you'd leave her if the girls will be enough. Take them all and God bless you." Perfect shrieks of laughter went up from those mean girls, and "Will" took to his heels, followed by the writer and cries from the old man to "come back > and he'd throw in the old woman too." The Physical Paradox.

It has been said that "the blood is the source of life." It is as truly the source of disease and death. No life, that is to say, no healthy tissue can be generated from impure blood, no organ of the body can normally perforn its functions when supplied with impure blood. The fluid that should carry life and health to every part, carries only weakness and disease. Blood is the source of life, only when it is pure. If it has become diseased, it must be cleansed by proper medication, else evpour in three pints of boiling water. ery pulsation of the human heart sends a wave of disease throug the system. To cleanse the blood of all impuaities, use Dr. Pierce's Golden Medical Discovery and Pleasent Purgative Pellets, the most effectual alterative, tonic, and cathartic remedies yet dicovered. They are especially ficient in scrofulous diseases.
