WEDNESDAY 8TH. In pursuance with the notice published Dear Sir, - Fifteen years ago last fall I was in the Royal Gazette, a special meeting of was taken sick with rheumatism, was unable to the Diocesan Church of England Synod move until the next April. From that time until three years ago this fall I suffered everything with was called to order in the Odd Fellows' rhematism. Sometimes there would be weeks at a Hall, York street, this morning by the time that I could not step one step; these attacks were quite often. I suffered everything that a man Metropolitan. could. Over three years ago last spring I comnenced taking VEGETINE and followed it up until

After the form of prayer laid down had been read, the roll was called and the Secretary, Rev. Mr. Partridge, declared a quorum present. The number of delegates present was much larger than at the meeting held on July 2nd. There were not as many lay delegates present on this occasion, however.

After some discussion the minutes of the last legal meeting were adopted without being read.

Dear Sir, - My daughter, after having a severe at-Rev. Dr. Jarvis moved that the usual tack of Whooping Cough, was left in a teeble state of health. Being advised by a friend she tried the address be presented to His Lordship and VEGETINF, and after using a few bottles was fully the reply received. On Mr. T. W. The provisions of this Canon so far as the relate to nomination by the Bishop shall not extend beyond the Episcopate of the present Dio esan, unless the Synod shall otherwise order. (The Bishop is willing to accept the addition of the ast section if the Synod desires it.)

Mr. Street said he would only deal with a few of the objections raised to the Canon. He took up the matter of the appointment of Bishops in England which did not give the people a voice in their election. Here in New Brunswick, the Bishop had been appointed without consulting the people, though at present the right is vested in the Diocesan Synod, the only mode prescribed being by ballot. Nothing in that Canon had been said about nomination or other procedure; nor did it touch the case in point, the appointment of a Bishop Coadjutor. He did not see, therefore, where the Canon now proposed infringed the present incumbent. Canon Brigstocke's amendment was voted down without division.

Rev. G. M. Armstrong, in discussing the first section, said that although he felt himself totally unfitted for the office necessary to support a Coadjutor Bishop, of Bishop, and would not presume to be even Coadjutor, he felt that he knew who July last, had been removed. Another would make a good Bishop, that is, what kind of a man was needed for the office. "That when the Bishop shall be physically or nentally incapacitated," &c. Mr. G. A. Schofield, amid great laughter, said this was providing to entertain a request from some future bishop who might be mentally incapacitated! Mr. Justice Allen said the meaning of this seemed to be that if the Bishop was physically incapacitated he would ask for a Coadjutor, but if he was mentally incapacitated, the Synod would appoint one without a request. He suggested adding the word "either" after the opening word

Mr. T. W. Daniel took opposite ground. He wanted publicity, and asked what other body would think of dealing with a grave and important subject without giving due notice to the members, and to all concerned? The agitation of the past three months had done much good in diffusing church information in the parishes. For one, he now knew more about the question before the Synod, than he did

Mr. W. M. Jarvis understood that not more than thirty days notice would be required to call a session to elect a Coadjutor; so the delay would not be long enough to work harm. He favored the amendment of the Rev. Mr. Almon.

Rev. Mr. Almon pressed his amendment, that the words "either at the meeting of the Synod, at which such resolution shall be passed or" be struck out. To this Mr. E. B. Chandler, Jr., moved an addition; that the election may be held

Rev. Mr. Schofield said he did not think it right to give the Bishop the sole power

The second point he touched on was the subject of the succession, which h: approved of highly for the reasons given at the opening of his address. Reviewing the question of salary, he was not aware how the Synod could provide for the income of a future Bishop; he hoped there would be no withdrawal of the salary from this Bishopric at the decease of the present incumbent, but he could not say what might be the result of that sad event. It was patent to all that the church alone was not able to raise funds to pay the Coadjutor's salary. He would not take

Canon Brigstocke had much pleasure in seconding the motion to go into the consideration of the canon, section by section. This motion was put, when Mr. G. R.
