Capt. Boucher in the Schr. Laura left Domino, 600 miles N. E. of Escuminac. on Friday morning last at 8 o'clock and reached Escuminac on Monday at 11 a. m. He has herring only six days out of the water on the Labrador coast now on board the vessel. He reports the herring fishery on the Labrador a comparative failure this year. He fitted out the Laura to bring home 500 barrels and could only procure 250 and was obliged to bring back empty barrels, salt and money. His cargo will, doubtless, find ready sale. He will land a portion of his fish at Chatham and the remainder at Newcastle.

Entertainment of the Chatham Temperance Reformers.

On Tuesday evening the Chatham Temperance Reformers held their weekly meeting in the Temperance Hall. Vice-President Cantley presided until the arrival of the President, L. J. Tweedie, Esq. The Rev. Dr. Jardine opened the meeting with prayer.

Addresses were delivered by the Rev Dr. Jardine, Messrs. A. W. Patterson and William Johnston. A Solo was sung by Capt Brown. There was instrumental music by Miss A. Anderson and choruses by the Choir. Miss C. Johnston presided at the Piano.

It was announced by A. D. Shirreff, Esq., that a meeting of the Executive Committee would be held in his office on Thursday (to day) to consider the re-organization of the Society under its new title of the "Chatham Temperance Reformers," and other subjects in connexion with its welfare. It was moved by Mr. A. W. Patterson. seconded by Mr. William Johnston, that a working committee be appointed to get up a programme for an entertainment on cation.

FAIR PLAY. SHOCKING OCCURENCE.—The St. John Globe of Wednesday, 8th inst., gave the following particulars of a shocking occurrence at the Somerset Vale farm on the previous Monday .- "Two old Frenchmen vere working in an oat field when a bull approached one of them-a man named Peter Lukes. The ferocious animal knocked Lukes down and drove its horns into him. Lukes's companion, named Greenlow, seized a fence-picket, and struck the bull several blows on the head. This had the effect of causing the infuriated animal to leave Lukes, but it turned on Greenlow, who made a desperate race for his life and finally got safely out of his way. The bull then returned to the prostrate body of Lukes, and commenced to toss it in the air. The attention of the workmen who were threshing oats in the barn was now called to the occurrence, and they rescued the body of the unfortunate man. Death, however, had relieved him from his sufferings. On examination it was found that the bull had driven one of his horns through the man's breast."

the amendment :-That this Synod appoint a committee for purpose of preparing a scheme for the organization of a Diocesan Church of England Temperance Society, etc., and submit the same at the next

The meeting then adjourned till 2.30. Aiternoon Session.

After dinner, pursuant to adjournment, the Rev. G. G. Roberts moved that the report of the Divinity School Committee be considered section by section. Mr. Roberts stated that the committee had met several times and drawn up rules for the government of the school and these they now submitted. He then moved the governing body.

Canon Brigstocke said that it was not known if it was the opinion of the Synod that the school should be carried on : and it was, therefore, premature to discuss rules and regulations.

The Chief Justice held that the committee had power to establish the school if they had sufficient means, and in 1870 the Synod recognized their right to establish the school.

Rev. Dr. Jarvis was willing to submit to the will of the majority. Rev. Mr. Talbot, seconded by Rev. Canon Brigstocke, moved the following amendment to the first section :-That the question of a governing body is premature since there is no efficient endowment of the Rev. Canon Brigstocke thought an institution under the control of the Synod subscription. Endowment was the only way to put the institution on a safe foundation. He was surprised that there was in the report no reference to the offer of the Society for the Promotion of Christian Knowledge which offered a sum of £500 sterling towards the endowment fund. He wished emphatically to say that he had no opposition to a Divinity School in the diocese, but it ought not to be founded on any ground so precarious as voluntary subscription.

Rev. T. E. Dowling drew Canon Brigstocke's attention to the fact that they had in their circular mentioned that the sum of £500 had been offered by the Society for the Promotion of Christian Knowledge.

The Chief Justice said the society merepump on Mr. Muirhead's wharf and was last letter worthy of a reply. He says proval of the Synod. The question before heard. of great service. On a question being raised, the amendment was ruled out of order. Mr. G. R. Parkin said the governing made use of the cat's paw to draw the body should be a comprehensibly representative body as far as possible, and dowment has first been raised. Rev. Mr. Talbot said that if a divinity school should start in this, or any other community and fall through, it would do great harm and then there would be the serious loss of money. If a man appointed principal of the school, did not suit a certain clique or portion of the church they would not subscribe at all. The Synod is composed chiefly of men who live near Fredericton and who think this would be a good thing for the town.

Canon Brigstocke felt that on the views of the Principal the success of the school depends to a great extent. Some would not subscribe to the Diocesan Church Society because they could not approve of some clergy paid by the society.

Rev. T. E. Dowling asked where the candidates for holy orders could be sent in a Diocese like ours. We need not fear for the success of the institution. is important to have a diocesan institution in connexion with the Synod.

Mr. G. R. Parkin was exceedingly astonished when the mover of the amendment said there was not sufficient discussion on the matter, because it had been considered at previous meetings. He had understood that those who formerly opposed the school would now support it. The committee took pains to secure guarantee. They have put the School on sure that they will have $1,500 a year be carried. during that time to pay a man, and the committee are going on the basis of running it for five years and then depending ment, which was carried by a vote of 51 on its results. The committee having to 32. made the efforts that they had, and expecting a large subscription, think that they have a right to feel hopeful in this

The question was then taken on the amendment, which was lost, and the original motion was carried, there being only question of a Diocesan Church Society, and said he accepted Mr. Brigstocke's amendment.

Rev. T. E. Dowling wanted to know if unfermented wine ought to be used in the Communion service. He sympathized with Mr. Stevens in his efforts to put down drunkenness in Portland.

Rev. Mr. Hoyt could not believe in the Church of England temperance societies. He said we are banded together not the passage of the first section relating to against one sin, but against all sins. He was as good a temperance man as any one, but he did not believe in binding every one to a particular course.

Rev. F. H. Almon said all he wanted was a fair square opinion whether the Synod wanted a Diocesan Temperance Society or not.

Rev. Mr. Brigstocke said the amendment was not a colorless one. The Synod passed resolutions previously and have committed themselves to the idea that the formation of a Diocesan Society is a special evil, requiring special remedy. The rev. gentleman's speech was delivered in a very forcible way and made great impression. Rev. Mr. Talbot said this matter had been shelved from Synod to Synod, and he had been told that drunkenness of the congregation was fearful (great laughter) in some parishes. In his parish there was no society, and yet there was no drunkenness in it, but in Portland, where there is a society, drunkenness is great.

Rev. Canon Medley had seen the death of three temperance organizations in his own parish, and he did not wish a Diocesan Society to have the same end. He had, through his own instrumentality, shut up three grogshops in Sussex, while the heads of the temperance society often went back to their old vices after a three months pledge. He read an account of a temperance meeting in Fredericton last night, and said the Synod would be committing themselves to a like course. [There was great confusion, cries of "question," after Mr. Medley sat down, and as His Lordship had to leave, it was moved that the meeting adjourn, but it was lost on division, ly submitted these regulations for the ap- as the temperance men were bound to be

> Mr. G. R. Parkin claimed that the church should not be too far beyond public opinion, and that temperance workers had a right to our sympathy and a right to be heard. The temperance problem must be solved, and even if the question has to be brought up year after year the promoters have a right to be heard. He would vote for the amendment.

Mr. Dibblee (Woodstock) would vote for Canon Brigstocke's amendment. He be lieved that the members of the church of England should be temperance men. If this resolution is voted down, people will say that Churchmen will not support temperance, and it will be an injury to the church. Intemperance is the greatest The rules and regulations, therefore, read | evil in the world, and should be grappled with by the Synod. Let us show that we are temperance men. Rev. Mr. Stephens was sorry that Canon

Medley referred to the meeting in the City Hall in such slighting terms. If temperance was wrong he was sorry that two Archbishops and 14,000 clergymen throughout the world were engaged in the cause. If Canon Medley knew the feeling of the people at the City Hall meeting, he would not have spoken as he did. Rev. E. A. Pentreath spoke in favor of the resolution. It was unfair to hold the C. of E. Temperance Society responsible for the actions of individuals. He wanted the Synod to have a check upon parochial societies. He was sorry to say that this diocese, as far as temperance work was concerned, is behind every diocese in the colonies and in England. Rev. Mr. Campbell said he would vote for Canon Medley's amendment, and he did so, although he had in his parish a Church of England temperance society.

He formed it for self defence against other societies. Nothing can be more unfortunate than the use of ridicule in the discussion of such a question. He most heartily sympathised with Mr. Stevens and Mr. Almon. Rev. G. G. Roberts wished to repudiate the idea that the clergy who advocated the

C. of E. Temperance societies did not take pains to teach the catechism to the young of their congregations. Mr. Schofield wished to protest against the idea that if the Synod did not pass this resolution they were opposed to tempera ice. He also repudiated the idea that the Diocese of Fredericton was far behind other dioceses in temperance work. Rev. Mr. Talbot explained that he did not mean to ridicule temperance work.

Rev. F. H. Almon was sure that the majority of the churchmen in the diocese were in favor of the Church of England Temperance organization. A diocesan C. of E. Temperance Society in Nova Scotia is, according to Rev. Dr. Nicolls, doing a very good work. What we want is an expression of this diocese that that which has been found good in England and other countries should be done in this province. If the vote this evening was against him he would not suppose that the Synod is unfavorable to temperance. Their object is to advance the cause of Christ, and they believe they did it in one way by these societies. In regard to the meeting last night, he said he believed it was his duty to assist at any temperance meeting when asked to do so. He felt it due to the Christian women of Fredericton to cheer them in their noble work. The meeting was opened by prayer by the agent of another denomination, and was one of the most enthusiastic he ever attended. He had asked members and minsters of other denominations to assist him in this cause and would continue to do so. If not cara safe basis for five years. Thus it is in disease. Our attention is attracted by acute diseases, as fevers, cholera, etc., while chronic diseases (often the most dangerous in result,) being slow in their developement, are seldom noticed until they have made an almost ineffaceable impression upon the system. Persons believing themselves comparatively healthful are often the victims of these diseases, and only become aware of their presence when relief is almost impossible. Diseases of the liver and stomach are the commonest of these chronic affections. Dr. Pierce's Golden Medical Discovery and Pleasant Purgative Pellets are neverfailing remedies for these diseases. They produce a healthful secretion of the bile, prevent indigestion by regulating the bowels, and imparting a vigorous tone to the whole system.

WILLIAM GRAY,

TO THE RATEPAYERS OF THE PARISH OF Снатнам :-GENTLEMEN: Having, after serving you four ears as one of your representatives in the Muniipal Council of Northumberland, determined to etire at the end of the present Municipal year, beg to thank you for the confidence and support which you have so steadily giving me during my term of service. Though I shall not hold the position of Councillor again in the near future, I assure that I shall not cease to be a careful observer of the conduct of local public affairs. My experience has enabled me to realize the importance of the interests en trusted to the Municipal Council and to make me sensible of the fact that their proper promotion renuires the exercise of good judgment, self-den These qualities I could ever rely'upon finding in my olleague, ex-Warden Lawler, who, although he also had detertmined to retire this year, has, I am pleased to learn, been prevailed upon to again place simself in the hands of the Ratepayers who have for four years, given us so handsome a joint support. 1 believe it to be very essential that but one the Councillors in each parish should retire at he same time, because there are many things calculated to render parish representation effective at he Board which can only be acquired by actual representative experience. I may, therefore, venture, while still a Councillor, to advise the electors to act upon the importance of again returning Mr. Lawler on 28th inst. It is also of paramount importance to each parish that the two members should, as far as possible harmoniously represent all classes, interests and elements which properly come within their province as 2 Large Size Tintypes for 25 Cents. harmoniously represent all classes, interests and eleuch, and it has been one of the gratifying features f my councillorship that my colleague and myself were always agreed upon all essentials in the mat-I need hardly say it is very desirable that the same good understanding and cordial feelling should continue to exist between your representatives for next year. I am, therefore, much gratified to find that so many of the friends of Mr. Lawler, and myself, to whom I have had an opportunity of peronally communicating my intention of retiring, have determined to nominate A. H. Johnson, Esq., as my successor and that their intention is appro ed by Mr. Lawler, as I feel sure it will be by the Ratepayers in Town and Country.

& CO, Augusta, Maine.

I desire also to express my thanks to all the members of Council with whom I have sat during the past four years for the courtesy which has invariably marked their bearing towards me, realising as I do that whatever might be our differences they were always prepared to honor Chatham finished through its representatives I have the honor to be gentlemen, Your obedient servant,

JOHN FOTHERINGHAM.
