BALTIMORE, MD., Feb. 13, 1877.

In 1872 your Vegetine was recommended to and yielding to the persuasion of a friend, I co sented to try it. At the time I was suffering from general debility and nervous prostration, superinduced by over work and irregular habits. Its wonderful strengthening and curative properties seemed to affect my debilitated system from the first dose; and under its persistent use I rapidly recovered, gaining more than usual health and good feeling. Since then I have not hesitated to give VEGETINE my most unqualified indorsement, as being a safe, sure, and powerful agent in promoting health and restoring the wasted system to new life and energy, Vegetine is the only medicine I use; and as long as I live I never expect to find a better. THE BEST SPRING MEDICINE.

Dear Sir, -- This is to certify that I have used your "Blood Preparation" in my family for several years, and think that for Scrofula or Cankerous Hamors or Rheumatic affections it cannot be excelled; and as a blood purifier and spring medicine it is the best thing I have ever used, and I have used almost everything. I can cheerfully recommend it to any one in need of such a medicine. Yours respectfully, MRS. A. A. DINSMORE, 19, Russell Street.

WHAT IS NEEDED. BOSTON, Feb. 13, 1871. H. R. STEVENS, Esq. Dear Sir,—About one year since I found myself in a feeble condition from general debility. VEGE-TINE was strongly recommended to me by a friend who had been much benefited by its use. I pro-cured the article, and after using several bottles was restored to health, and discontinued its use. I feel quite confident that there is no medicin superior to it for those complaints for which it is especially prepared, and would cheerfully re-commend it to those who feel that they need

Dear Sir,—Since several years I have got a sore and very painful foot. I had some physicians, but they couldn't cure me. Now I have heard of DUST. - POLITICS. - "DENIS." - BUSINESS. Since my last letter to your columns I

San Francisco life. Dust is a feature of that it is overcrowded, but New Brunslife in this city in the summer season and wick seems a pretty good sort of place to it's a peculiar kind, not governed by any fit men to go away (no reflection) and in law nor abiding by any regulations, but all probability they will not have more just getting up and stirring itself when it than the generally expected trouble of feels like it-about every day. I had ex- getting along in a strange land, at first. perienced a sand storm on the overland route and thought it something of which here, they are everyday occurrences and one can only "-and bear it." The soil on which the city is built is composed, in some places, of a clay which is ground into innumerable fine particles by the constant traffic and, in others, of sand hills, and when the wind rises, about ten or eleven a. m., it just makes things lively. I should think that a stranger entering San Francisco during one of those gritty breezes and being told of their frequency would think a residence here almost impossible under such circumstances but there are about 350,000 people here who hustle round and scrape up a living despite such little drawbacks.

From sand storms to politics seems to be quite a stride, but, though the odium of comparisons is conceded, the agitation in both just now may, primarily, be traced to an excess of the same element. The political matter I speak of is the-to Californians -great question of the adoption or rejection of the new Constitution. This peculiar instrument is the result of a long session of a body convened for the purpose of framing a Constitution to replace the old one and which has quite recently given its work in entirety to the world of California for inspection, and for its judgment on its merits in May next, when it will be balloted upon. This instrument has been adopted as an issue by the Workingmen's Societies, headed by their blatant President, Denis Kearney, and by the Chronicle, of this city, and i being worked for by them, but it is opposed by the almost entire press of the State, backed by the entire capital and its owners. Under such conditions one would hardly doubt which way the con test would be decided, but the agitation is so great and so much work is being done for it that, probably, a large vote in its favor will be polled, though the ultimate result, in fortunate probability, will be its defeat. Another element that is conducive to its succes is found in the desire for change and restlessness of a great many, consequent upon the depression of business and these are, in a degree, men who, as a prominent city merchant lately said in the writer's presence, having nothing to "DENIS." The valiant president of the Workingmen's Societies, lately made a tour of the officials, and insulting men of standing in in their very presence in public meetings, the community, a public official and a man of probity, after his usual formula. An explanation was demanded, after the meeting, by some of the gentleman's friends and, none being forthcoming, a little scrimmage ensued, in which poor Denis was very roughly handled, and had to flee away and, it is said, he did not stand upon the order of his going. It was noticeable after that, that his speeches were particularly free of the disgraceful calumnies that were wont to grace (?) them. His foot was on his native health-the "sand lots on Sunday last and it was the intention of the writer to have taken him and given your readers some idea of what a "Sandlot meeting" is, but that infliction is spared them, for the present. Everyone interested, in this city, complains of the exceeding dulness of business here as elsewhere. It is said there are large numbers of laboring men and tradesmen idle, of which I cannot speak, from my own knowledge; late steamers, however, have carried numbers of carpenters, particularly, hence to Oregon-too many, in fact, as even if there had been fairly good prospects for carpenters there, as reported, such an influx must necessarily, place the supply greatly in excess of the demand. Merchants claim, and, probably, with justice, that the agitation conequent upon the near constitutional election is a great cause of the depression, that people are waiting for the issue before settling down to the summer's work. There is not much longer to wait, however, and with the result of the election, pro or con, known, business will probably revive, in a great degree. " CANUCKS."

This city holds quite a number of Canadians in different employments. Prince LIMB, by six applications" Another who Edward Island sends some of its sons, as has had ASTHMA for years, says : "I have also the sister Provinces, -those from the half of a 50 cent bottle left, and $100 North Shore of New Brunswick making | would not buy it if I could get no more." quite a good showing in the total and embracing representatives from the towns of the Miramichi. They are getting thinned a little lately, some getting the Oregon | the person had not spoken above a whisper fever and others making anything they think a desirable change. Sussex, May 20th, 1860.

Mr. Bonner-Dear Sir,-In your issue of May 16th, in your "Notice to Correspondents," I observe one, W. W. W., who desires to "know how Cain could find wife in the land of Nod, when Adam, Eve and Cain constituted the entire population of the Globe?" While I consider your answer good and proper, yet, perhaps, it is not sufficiently explanatory; and as I am always interested in all questions of Bible truth, I take the liberty to send you what I conceive a solution of the matter. Your correspondent, W. W. W., assumes in his interrogatory what is not true, to wit, that Adam, Eve and Cain were the only inhabitants then upon the earth," for the lollowing reasons: because cam, after the murder of Abel, expresses great fear of being slain, saying, "And it shall come to pass that any one that findeth me shall slay me." Upon this supposition there are no persons to fear but his parents, and it is not probable they would be guilty of so horrid an act as to slay their own and only child, nor is it probable that Cain entertained any such fear; then, of whom was he afraid? And why does the Lord utter his prohibition, sanctioned with so dreadful a penalty and set upon him a mark by which he is known and protected? Let reason and W. W. W., answer. But the truth is, there were other inhabitants, as must appear from the following considerations: According to the computation of most chronologers, Adam was 129 years old when Abel was slain, for the Bible states expressively that Seth (who was given in the place of Abel) was born in his 130th year, so that Cain, (who was the elder) was 129 years old when he left his own country, We have now a space of 130 years—a time sufficient for more than four generations; and if the children of Israel, from seventy persons, in the period of 110 years, became six hundred thousand fighting men, is it lose themselves, want to grab somebody not reasonable to suppose, yea to conclude, that the children of Adam, whose lives were so long, might amount at least to one hundred thousand in the space of 130 years? It is not said he married in the Southern part of the State, stumping in land of Nod, but that he dwelt there and favor of the new Constitution, everywhere | there, his children were born, and there he claiming to find unheard-of corruption | built a city, which last act is strong preexisting among the town or county public | sumptive evidence that there were more persons on the earth than the trio alluded their respective counties, by charging them. | to, whose aid was necessary for its accomplishment. In most cases the ters being born to Adam up to this time. fact of these charges coming from Denis | because it is not a necessary fact in the Kearney, was enough to make their history given, and because in most of the falsity assured, and the calumniator es. genealogies given, women are omitted, so caped without any attention being paid that to conclude that Adam, Eve, and to him, but, it was not so in Santa Anna, | Cain were, at this period, the only inhabitwhere he charged a man well known in ants of the globe, or that Adam had no daughters, because none are mentioned

> Hume would say, contrary to "human experience." In conclusion, I would say, that while the Bible is beyond human reason, yet it is never against it; that just as far as reason has been able to see, it approves; and that in reference to those revealed facts, which are above its capacities, it is both safe and reasonable to concede their truth upon the ground of the impotency of human reason, and that, if comprehended, they would be found to accordentirely with reason, which is "human experience" upon the subject. Most respectfully yours, would be irrational, illogical, and, as Mr.

G. W. S. PARAHAM, Minister of Gospel. P. S .- I could have extended the argument, but I do not wish to trespass too much upon your time, and hence I have merely attempted to state the ground-data by which the facts in the case can be reconciled, and the Bible vindicated from the
