Valuable Information.

MR. H. R. STEVENS :-Dear Sir,-My only object in giving you this testimonial is to spread valuable information. Having been badly afflicted with Salt Rheum, and the whole surface of my skin being covered with pimples and eruptions, many of which caused me great pain and annoyance, and knowing it to be a blood disease, I took many of the advertised blood preparations, among which was any quantity Sarsaparilla, without obtaining any benefit until I commenced taking the VEGETINE, and before I had completed the first bottle I saw that I had got the right medicine. Consequently I followed on with it until I had taken seven bottles, when I was pronounced a well man, and my skin is smooth and entirely free from pimples and emptions. I have never enjoyed so good health before, and I attribute it all to the use of VEGETINE. To benefit those afflicted with Rheumatism, I will make mention also of the Vegetine's wonderful power of curing me of this acute complaint, of which I have suffered so intensely. Pas. Ag't Mich C. R. R. 69 Washington street, Boston. A SCHOOL SERVE

What Shall we do with it?

From the Freeman.

Miramichi Advance.

What shall we do with the five and a half million dollars which the Americans have paid for admission to our fisheries? The British Government, no doubt, are prepared to hand the money over to us at once. Indeed it is said that one million has already been paid to the Government of Newfoundland; this, as is alleged, being the amount to which Sir A. T. Galt and Mr. Whiteway, of Newfoundland, agreed that that Province was entitled to. William Crowne, came into possession of We are not told when or by whom Sir Alexander was authorized to make any such agreement on the part of Canada. The Halifax "Chronicle" claims that Nova he lived and died in obscurity about 1666. Scotia is entitled to two millions as her share, and that the remaining two and a half millions is all that New Brunswick, DROPSY, FEMALE WEAKNESS, LEUCORRHEA, arising P. E. Island and Quebec are entitled to. To this, we have no doubt, the three Provinces would decidedly object, were such a

Quebec that the money should be funded, and that the interest should be used to establish and mantain the system of telegraphy in the Gulf of St. Lawernce, of which he has been the chief advocate for some years. With submarine cables and telegraph stations at the Magdalen Islands, Bird Rock, the Labrador coast, Point Miscou, Anticosti, etc., he argues, vessels in distress could be promptly relieved, and, in cases of wreck, property and life could be saved to a greater extent than is This may be quite true, although some do say that Mr. Fortin greatly overrates the value of such a telegraph system; but, as its advantages would be felt almost exclusively by the trade of Quebec and Montreal, why should this money belonging to all the Maritime Provinces be expended exclusively for the benfit of the trade of those two cities. Mr. Fortin asserts indeed that such a telegraph system may be ceived and supported the exiled children used also, as the telegraph has for some time been used on the coasts of Norway the fish for which they now often search in vain may be found; but there is much reason to doubt whether much benefit way. Now there are lines of telegraph along the whole Southern shore of the St. Lawrence, and cable communication with P. E. Island, and yet we never hear that the existing telegraph lines are useful for the guidance of the fishermen even to the smallest extent. Some calculate that the money will be used for the relief of the Dominiou Treasury, now so sadly depleted and some contend that it should be divided amongst the Provincial Governments so as to increase the amounts yearly available for Provincial purposes. To both these propositions there are strong objections. The money really belongs to the tishing population, as it is from what they had previously all to themselves as a means of making a livelihood that that is his amount, and the money should be expended for the benefit of the fishermen, who, leading lives of hardship and danger, add much to the wealth of the Dominion, while they in most cases remain poor themselves. The National Policy, too, will impose new and heavy burdens on this part of the population, and there is no pretence

Borgne then proceeded to La Heve, where he burned the buildings, not even sparing the Chapel, which had cost 100,000 francs. While making preparations at Port Royal for attacking La Tour's fort on the river St. John, he was anticipated by an armed force, under the command of Colonel Sedgwick, despatched by Oliver Cromwell, in 1654 to take possession of Acadie. Colonel Sedgwick easily made himself master of the forts at Penobscot and St. John. Le Borgne was strongly posted at Port Royal, but he surrendered on the 16th, Aug. 1654, on condition of receiving honorable treatment. The captors then turned round and mocked him for pusillanimity. Sedgwick afterwards took Fort la Heve, where a son of Le Brogne commanded. The English now were masters of Acadie for the third time. Peace was restored between France and England by the Treaty of Westminster, 3rd November La Tour now displayed that enterprising audacity for which he was noted. On the strength of the grant made in 1630 to his father and himself by Sir William Alexander, he proceeded to London and made his claim clear to the satisfaction of Cromwell. By letters patent given by the Protector on the 9th Aug. 1656, in conjunction with Sir Thomas Temple and Acadie. La Tour soon afterwards disposed of his interest in this grant to Temple, and retired to the fort of st. John where For a period of eleven years Acadie remained in the joint possession of the English and the French, Sir Thomas was appointed Lieutenant to His Majesty of Great Britain and Emmanuel le Borgne was Governor under Louis XIV. The Acadians were allowed to remain in undisturbed possession of their lands. M. Denys was living in tranquility at Chedabucto (Guysborough, N. S.), when a person by the name of La Giraudiere, having by false representations, procured a grant from the company of New France of the port of Canso, proceeded thither in a vessel which had arrived with supplies for Denys, from France, He then with 100 men, invested his fort, but finding it too strong to warrant an attack, he proposed to M. Denys to submit their claims to the decision of the Company. After many delays the Board declared itself to have been imposed upon by La Girandiere, revoked his grant, and reinstated Denys in all his former rights. The expense of prosecuting his claim, and the loss occasioned by the suspension of his fur trade, amounted to 15,000 crowns. The post of Chedabucto was established in 1636, by Denys, who had spacious warehouses and a strong fort here, together with 120 men. Here he reof D'Aulnay Charnisay. Montreal Journal of Commerce. The following appears in the Dundas

True Banner of the 19th ult., a copy of which has just reached us: CORRECTION. -So it appears that the Journal of Commerce was incorrect in the statement that the prices of cotton goods had been recently raised. We do not get the Journal of Commerce, and took the extract which we published from another journal into which it had been copied and we did not see that the statement had afterwards been corrected to "reduced" instead of "increased." The Journal of Commerce is supposed to be the most reliable trade journal in the Dominion, and we gave the extract because we supposed aken for which the Americans have paid it to be entirely reliable. Had the manager of the Dundas Cotton Works condescended to make known these facts to us, they would have had a place in our columns before this, and we now make the correction most cheerfuly. We do not know whence our contemporary derived his information as to the quotations published in this journal, as we have not the pleasure of an exchange that it can do anything for them in rewith him, but wherever obtained we beg urn. Theoretically, it is true, the inshore to assure him that he is quite mistaken in crediting us with stating at any time during the past season "that cotton goods la, but so do they belong to all the people had been recently raised." The position of Madame was in debt some 260,000 livres to one Emmanuel le Borgne, an eminent merchant of Rochelle, and La Tour claimed jurisdiction over her possessions in Acadie, she entered into a compact with Cesar, Duke of Vendome, Superintendent of Commerce and Navigation in France, by which nis Grace, on condition that he send out annual supplies, became co-seigneur with her, and co-partner in the fur trade. This arrangement did not last long. To settle the question of the jurisdiction of La Tour in 1653 the widow married him. In the same year Emmanuel obtained Acadie, Le Borgne's first act on coming to Acadie n March, 1654 was to attach M. Deny's post at St. Peter's and to carry him off prisoner to Port Royal.
