Ere the Sun Goes Down.

BY JOSEPHINE POLLARD. I have work enough to do Ere the sun goes down. For myself and kindred, too. Ere the sun goes down. Every idle whisper stilling, With a purpose firm and willing, All my daily tasks fulfilling Ere the sun goes down.

I must overcome my wrath Ere the sun goes down: I must walk the heavenly path Ere the sun goes down; For it may be death is wending Hither, with the night descending, And my life will have an ending Ere the sun goes down!

I must speak the loving word Ere the sun goes down; I must let my voice be heard Ere the sun goes down; Every cry of pity heeding For the injured interceding; To the light the lost ones leading Ere the sun goes down!

As I journey on my way,

Ere the sun goes down,

Ere the sun goes down: There are sins that need confessing.

God's commands I must obey,

There are wrongs that need redressing. If I would obtain the blessing Ere the sun goes down. ---Public Opinion on the Letellier Matter.

Later advices confirm the statement that the notice of dismissal was sent to Letellier by an ordinary hackman. The St. John Sun invented the story that it was sent by Mr. Hinsworth, Clerk of the Privy Council.

The Montreal Herald of the issue following the dismissal merely announced the fact editorially, its Quebec correspondence saying:- " Sympathy with Mr. Letellier is very strong, and people are disgusted with the spirit of revenge and petty vindictiveness which has forced so serious a breach in the autonomy of the Province. There can be no doubt that a strong agitation will at once set in on account of this interference of the Federal Government with Provincial matters."

is not a pertinent one that if for fortyruled from Ottawa, we might not as well altogether dispense with such a functionary, whose powers are only visionary, and who is a veritable mouth without hands. maintained, with all its accessories, at an exceedingly vast expense?

The Gazette says :- "The autonomy of the Provinces is absolutely secured, not prejudiced, by this action. Mr. Joly, or whoever may be the First Minister with a majority in the Legislature, will be all the more certain of the confidence and support of the head of the Executive In what way has the independence of the Province been interfered with? In no way. This cry is an absurd as well as a dishonest one." The Gazette regrets that the Governor-General appealed to England, but confesses it is glad of a decisive opinon.

La Minerve congratulates the Province on the removal of Mr. Letellier, saying that, far from it being a menace to Provincial autonomy, it is the finest homage that could be rendered to it. If the Federal authorities had neglected the Province of Quebec, they would have left it in the uncertain and humiliating position in which the coup d'état placed it. Dr. Robitaille will be loval and honest to all, and will not make use of that majestic au-

House desires to keep. A press despatch says-"It is reported that a committee of Parliamentary electors has been formed in Quebec to take legal proceedings in the nature of a writ of quo warranto against Theodore Robitalle, to enquire by what authority he supports the character of Lieut.-Governor of that Province. The whole affair has been placed in the hands of high legal authority, and the necessary papers are in course of preparation, with the object of making him show reason why"-all of which seems to give very little promise of any good result. His Honor, Lieut.-Governor Robitaille, took formal possession on Monday, of the office in Government House, on St. Louis street. On the fact becoming known number of gentlemen of the city hastened to pay their respects to the newly appointed head of the Executive for the Province, the Hon. Mr. Joly and his colleagues in the ministry, Lieut.-Col. Montizambert, and other well-known citizens being R. H. ARNOLD. amongst the number. His Honor and Mrs. Robitaille intend to remain at the St. W. & R. Brodie, Louis Hotel until they take up their residence at Spencer Wood.

The Ottawa Herald, Independent Conservative, says:-"Those who denounced Mr. Letellier will now, it is presumed, English and Canadian Cloths | feel satisfied at having gained the point for which they strove so ardently, and demanded so vehemently. There remains, revenge, and we greatly fear that the gleaning thereof will be with tears and vexation.

ing an attempt was made to burn Let Wer in effigy in the vicinity of the M. Hospital, but the malcontents were d away by their opponents, who celeb.... their victory by a grand procession through the streets to the Parliament house, headed by a band of vocalists, who sa g popular songs as marches for the rank at d file. The grounds of the assembly being reached the procession formed a semi-circ e around the main entrance, when cheers were given for Mr. Letellier, the Joly G . vernment and their friends; supplemented by groans for Mr. Chapleau, Mr. Tarte and their friends in the House. M .. Chapleau who chanced to be speaking sat down. For a few minutes the business of the House was suspended; the crowd outside formed in ranks and went to the Dufferin terrace, where after a few remarks from some of their number they dispersed, without offering any molestation to any one.

The Quebec Chronicle says .- "The dismissal of the Lieutenant-Governor is now an accomplished fact, and to-day the Province of Quebec is without an official head. Contrary to the expectations of those who had believed the Governor-General's advisers capable of withstanding the pressure of Mr. Letellier's enemies, they have yielded to the exigencies of the hour, and succeeded in creating a dangerous breach in that Provincial autonomy which ought to be so close to those who respect "Notre langue, nos institutions, et nos lois." In Mr. Letellier the Province has lost an executive head whom its people, especially the citizens of Quebec, who have so often enjoyed his hospitality, have learned to love and to respect, and whose manly conduct under the trying circumstances in which he had been placed has gained for him the admiration of all right-minded men. The long delay which occurred in putting into execution the designs of Mr. Letellier's enemies led many to believe that the members of the Dominion Cabinet would succeed in showing them the injustice of such designs. This has since proved to have been an erroneous impression.

The Toronto Globe's Quebec correspondent says .- "The indignation created by the dismissal of Lieutenant-Governor Letellier is very great, and exhibited itself yesterday in the groans and hisses which greeted Sir John A. Macdonald's embarkation for England, and which almost drowned the cheers of the few who collected around him in response to an advertisement issued by the Conservative Club. During the afternoon hundreds of leading citizens drove to Spencerwood and marked their sympathy with Mr. Letellier by leaving their cards. The hon. gentleman shows a wonderful improvement in health, and exhibits more than his wonted display of old-time fire and energy. That the members of this Club protest against this tyrannical interference of the Federal Ministry, and have the utmost confidence in their leaders, until the latter have made known what measures they shall adopt in this solemn occurrence. That the Hon. Luc Letellier de St. Just has been unjustly dismissed from his functions of Lieutenant-Governor, because he has had the courage to exercise a constitutional prerogative in order to save the Province of Quebec from ruin, to which it thority which our Constitution confers was being led by a corrupt administration, upon him to displace men whom the and therefore he has a right to the thanks and warmest sympathy of all Canadians having the interest of their country at
