ORIGINALITY :- As soon as we get time we will furnish the Advocate with the text for additional "political notes." PICNIC:—A grand pic-nic is to be held at Tracadie on 26th, inst., in connection with the Roman Catholic Church there. Particulars next week.

THE CANADA TEMPERANCE ACT :- A decision was given on Tuesday, in the Supreme Court at Fredericton, by which the Canada Temperance Act is declared ultra vires. It was the appeal case of Mr. Grieves who sold liquor in Fredericton, notwithstanding that city had secured the adoption of the Act.

who writes finding fault with the venerable character of the items in a local contemporary must excuse us for not publishing lows: his letter. The paper referred to is only a " ready-made" affair and if it serves no other purpose, it will remind its readers ol some portant things they may have read and forgotten for several weeks. It is quite good enough for "the party who pay its bills and if they are pleased with it no one else ought to complain.

INFORMATION WANTED .- One of the local papers says :- "We want to know what kind of a Christian the editor is who goes to prayer meeting on Wednesday nights, attends Church twice a day on Sunday, sings in the Choir and teaches a Bible class in Sunday School, and, then all through the week, steals editorials from his wicked Brethren of the Press?" To make it more apparent who is aimed at, why not say-" and absorbs church funds." " is an ex-President of the Y. M. C. A.," etc.

REV. HENRY WARD BEECHER has been lecturing in St. John, Halifax, Moncton etc., during the past week. One of our best poets has written, "Time mosses o'er a world of unknown graves," and from the number of prominent leaders in morals and religion who seem to have felt honored in appearing on the platform with the great orator, it might be written that time glosses o'er some great men's moral stains. It is quite certain that a great sin at the age of two or three years does not seem, to some people, so gross as when it is young

A DANGEROUS INSECT. - One day last week a farmer named Stone, living in Keswick, Parish of Douglas, York County, sent two or three of his children to pick the bugs from the potato plants, in the course of which his little son about 8 years old, squeezed one of the insects in his hand, and perhaps having some small sore on his fingers, his hand began to swell, continuing up his arm and across his body. About 8 o'clock the same evening the child was a corpse. This will show the necessity of parents taking great care not to expose their children to similar danger .- [Com. to Globe .- Freeman.

We have been shown three specimens of the bug above referred to, which were. at the time, feeding on a green potato top. They were found in the potato field on Miss Loban's farm, the whole field being full of them. We left the three on a potato top of good size one night and next morning it was all devoured.

A WRECK :- Pilot Allan McEachran of Chatham reports that on Friday last, 8th inst., about 8 o'clock a. m. when some twenty miles E. b S. of Escuminac Point, he discovered a submerged wreck, apparently that of a vessel between 500 and 600 tons. Portions of the bare staunchions only showed above the water. They were painted white on the after side and indicated that the vessel had a poop. Pilot McEachran had run too far by to admit of making an examination of the wreck. There was no sign of wreck stuff anywhere around and he was, therefore, under the impression that the vessel had been, for some time, under water and had probably risen from the bottom.

It is possible, however, that it might have been a vessel caught in the track of the tornado, that devastated Buctouche and which might have carried away everything down to the deck and even broken that. Accounts of the Buctouche calamity show that timbers of a ton weight were seized by the elements and carried several hundred feet. Such a mighty force would readily tear off a poop deck bulwarks etc., even from a bare hull. CONSERVATIVE TASTE :- The Advocate

Chatham, while the Senator's is running. Those who are directly interested in the working of the "closed" mill referred to informed us at the time operations were suspended that it was because all the available piling room in the yard was filled up, the piles being so high that the men would not venture on them longer. It is well known also that the mill is to start again in a few days, or as soon as vessels arrive and room can be made for work. It is a little singular that while neither of the three steam saw mills of Newcastle have been working for weeks, and other mills on the river, as well as two thirds of the St. John mills are shut down, the Advocate should so frequently single out the mill that has actually sawed more lumber this season than any on the river-it not in the Province-for especial adverse rewhich few, except perhaps the owner of the other mill referred to, would sanction, and still he never attacks anyone-oh, no!

its usual attacks, brought on by the hot weather and, in part, by our reference to Mr. Bourne having the office of Intercolonial clock regulator created for him. It defies us to say anything against its claims that Mr. Bourne is respected. So far as we know, Mr. Bourne's respectability is not enhanced by its being the subject of eulogism in the Advocate and the worst that we know about him is, that he is charged with being an editorial writer for that sheet. Otherwise he is, we think, a very correct man. We are sorry to learn | The Dominion papers are beginning to that Mr. Bourne has not been informed of the amount of his salary. We only hope it will not be paid through any of those friends of the Macdonald Government who used to get positions for their friends and take considerable shaves off the salary smugg remittances as they passed through their hands. We have good reason to believe Mr. Bourne was to have received $600. Let him see that none of the amount is intercepted. The Advocate's reference to the "clock-repairing relative" almost tempts us to draw a comparison, but we refrain. Mr. Bourne may not after all der, and that, instead of improving their have written the paragraph.

Canada's New Tariff.

Canada is reaping the advantage of her new tariff. Her honest traders are getting poorer under it than they were before and her rogues are getting rich. Smuggling has become a regular industry, and all efforts to put a stop to it are fruitless. raise an outcry against the government for not protecting the legitimate business men, who find themselves undersold by who are in association with the smugglers, and who plead for justice in It is certain that an effective guarding of the frontier would cost the government more than the amount of all the duties it would collect. The people already see that their protection policy is a bluncondition, it demoralizes trade, breaks down the bona fide merchant, yields no revenue to the government and benefits no one but the lawbreaker. It will not be long before the whole business community will clamor for another change, and this time it will not be on the side of protection through a high tariff. - N. Y. Herald 6th

The efforts of some of the St. John papers in the way of describing what ladies wore at the Vice-Regal Drawing Room have been a source of amusement to the many while they might have gratified the vanity of the few. Furthermore, it is an undoubted fact, as the minutes of the Council meeting will show, that when the Government did consent to the construction of the "Kent Northern R. R." it was with the express understanding and stipulation that the expenses already incurred by the survey, etc., of the Southern road, should be re-Alarming news, truly. It was "all funded to that Company. And, again, be it noted, that when Messrs, Johnson and Savre went to Ottawa for the ostensible degree of earnestness that Liberals re- object of procuring rails for the R. although boldly made by Mr. Johnson, M. P. P., as not quite accurate in detail. No one, surely, who knows C. J. Sayre. Esq., M. P. P., Secretary-Treasurer of Kent Municipality, would ever accuse him of coolly appropriating $1,300 which was intended for other parties. It is not possi-Is he not known as an honorable man? Can there in Mr. Joly's Government, and the Governpossibly be any plainer record than his, of ment was sustained by every one of its old the account of public money received? If, however, this $1,600 was actually paid, then comes the very pertinent query: To whom did it go, and for what? If, as conjectured, it was to defray the expenses incurred by the Southern Co. then it should be paid to that Co. for they have a right to know something about the disposition of that money. If it be held in abeyance for any adequate reason, then most certainly that company would like to see it deposited in the hands of some responsible party, unless it be still in the hands of Mr. Sayre whom we know to be an honorable man! Contractors and the president of the Kent Railway Company ought at once to explain the whole matter, and if the assertion so positively made by one of the delegates be not true, it ought to be most emphatically denied. An easy thing to you may say-but men cannot eat their own words without disturbing their digestion. We have lately had an instance of positive assertion and flat contradiction regarding the R. R. Directors and some parties who were interested in its construction with the PRESIDENT and "THE CONDUCTOR." It is to be hoped that it will not take nine men to do the duties of the latter !! Here is another side of the picture. That the statement as to the payment of the $1,600 by Brown & Co. or by one of the firm, which means the same thing, was distinctly and plainly made, can be proved beyond a doubt and hitherto has not been denied. Supervisor Walsh Defended. POKEMOUCHE, August 4th, '79. MR. EDITOR :- In the issue of the AD VANCE of the 24th ult., I notice a communication from "Subscriber," who is well known in this community as a man of small views and envious disposition. Being satisfied that Mr. Walsh would not condescend to notice his anonymous slanders and actnated by principles of fair play, I would ask a part of your valuable space to arrest "Subscriber" in his wayward course. He presumes too much as to having established anything against Supervisor Walsh in his "two former letters," as every one living in this locality knows the condition the roads and bridges were in, when Mr. Walsh assumed office With very limited means he has kept the roads in better condition than his predecessors, besides expensive bridges built and heavy repairs done on bridges which former Supervisors' want of knowledge had spoiled

Referring to the bridge at Sewell's 'Subscriber" has written what he must have known to be untrue viz.: it "slewed" and sunk two or three feet. A little fall -just discernable-can be noticed in one of the channel rocks, but why blame the supervisor or builder for that; probably in his next letter "Subscriber" will hold him accountable for the failure of crops, the depression of trade &c.

I have not seen the specification which 'Subscriber" seems to understand so thoroughly, but I have seen the bridge and cannot see those deficiencies which he proclaims. If "Subscriber" lives until the freshet carries it away it is to be hoped he will have a little sense, and more regard for truth. He appears to have had the reports of several years before his eyes at the time of his writing, but if he had let his mind carry him over the supervisor's district, he would find several bridges that wanted and got repairs. As his statements are all on a par it is needless to proceed any further. I would however add, he appears to be hungry for place and power but "while mourning collect that a good and efficient officer cannot be harmed by any anonymous scribbler. I am &. FAIR PLAY. It is a dangerous thing to allow the diarrhœa or dysentery to go unchecked and there is no need of it. A small bottle

Fever and ague, malarious fever, billious and typhod fevers all originate in one producing cause and may all be easily prevented by Parson's Purgative Pills.

These pills act directly and powerfully upon the blood. That the Phonograph can "bottle"up the voice and pass it down to future ages is, indeed, a wonder, but is not the restoration of a lost voice more wonderful? And yet Dr. Pierce's Golden Medical Discovery speedily restores a lost voice, cures hoarseness, sore throat and bronchitis, and consumption. Many ministers who had abandoned the pulpit, by reason of sore throat and general debility, have by the use of the Discovery, been restored to perfect health and strength. Sold by druggists.

NIJNE NOVGOROD FAIR. The great market of the eastern world has been held at this junction of the Volga and Olga Rivers in Russia, every summer for hundreds of years. Here the nations of Europe and Asia meet with their products for trade. C. Ayer & Co.'s celebrated remedies from America were displayed in an elegan Bazaar, where the Doctor himself might sometimes be seen. They are known and taken on steppes of Asia as well as the prairies of the West, and are an effectual antidote for the diseases that prevail in the yaourts of the North as well as the huts and cabins of the western continent. -Lincoln (Ill.)
