REFORMED EPISCOPAL CHURCH:-Rev. Mr. McBain will hold service in the Reformed Episcopal Church on Sunday afternoon, next, at three o'clock.

THE LETELLIER MATTER: - A late Ottawa despatch indicates that the whole Letellier matter is referred back to the Governor General.

NEW POTATOES. - The first of the season-were sent to us on Thursday of last week by Mr. Thomas Vanstone. They were of good size and quality.

EXPLANATORY: -Owing to the indisposition of our foreman we have been obliged to disappoint several correspondents and hold over a quantity of matter, which would have otherwise, appeared this week.

Perso NAL. - Mr. Fred. Kelly has been enjoying his summer holidays with his father's family in Chatham. He looks well, and, we understand, is doing well in Toronto, where he has a good position in the largest wholesale Dry Goods establish. ment of that city.

WHO IS TO BLAME. - A correspondent says that although a handsome sum was subscribed to a fund for the erection of a monument over the grave of young Gifford. who was killed while doing duty at Caraquet several years ago, only a slab marks the society. the spot where he is buried.

THE REFORMED EPISCOPAL CHURCH.-The Rt. Rev. Bishop Latane of the Reformed Episcopal Church, will make a visitation to the Maritime Provinces. He proposes being in Digby, N. S., on the 16th of July; St. John N. B., on the 26th the 21st in Sussex, 22nd in Moncton, and on the 24th in Chatham. - Telegraph.

THE LOBSTER CATCH along the Straits of Northumberland has never been so great as in the present season, and at Barachois last week 400 pounds of lobster meat were thrown away, as it was more than the factory could put up.

The above is from a despatch to the Toronto Globe but it does not apply to the more northern portions of the Straits. A LESSON. -Mr. Peter L. Manderson, who died on Monday of last week at Rockheads, is the person who was kicked and otherwise badly and brutally beaten last year by two or three young men of the town, near Carmichael's store. His brother informs us that he never recovered from the effects of the brutal treatment he received on that occasion. MR. MARSHALL:-The St. John Globe says:- "A fine portrait and a good biographical Sketch of Robt. Marshall, Esq., M. P. P., Grand Master of the Masonic Fraternity of New Brunswick, appears in a late issue of the "Masonic Newspaper" of New York. There are several biographical accounts of Mr. Marshall in print, but this one is by far the most comprehensive.

FAREWELL. - As we go to press, Rev. Mr. McKeown, who is about severing bis connection with the Methodist Church here, and is going to ExmouthSt., St. John. and Rev. T. L. Smith, who has severed his connection with the Reformed Episcopal Church, Chatham, to accept the Mission of his Church in the South and West, are being entertained at a collation at the Canada House. FOR HAY HARVESTING: - Mr. J.

H. Murch, of the firm of Murch & McFarline was in Chatham this week introducing the Coper Patent Hay Lifter, which is said to be one of the greatest time and labor saving contrivances ever invented for use in storing or removing hay. He has a supply of the machine at Mr. Stephen Y. Mitchell's, Newcastle, in whose barn one of them is put up for operation. It will be shown to intending purchasers by Mr. Murch or Mr. Mitchell, the latter gentleman being general agent for it.

THE LATE MR. WRIGHT:-A St. John despatch to the Toronto Globe says:-"The death of the late Mr. John Wright at the age of 83 years, removes one of the oldest and most esteemed residents of St. John. His father was collector at the port of St. John. Mr. Wright in early life entered the army, but after a short service resigned his commission to accept a subcollectorship at Miramichi. When the Customs was transferred from the Imperial to the Provincial control he was pensioned and soon after removed to St. John, where he has since lived." THE DERBY FESTIVAL held on last Thursday night was an unqualified success. John C. Miller, Esq., placed his two steamers, the Derby and Grip in the service of the Committee and Messrs. Mc Donald, Carruthers and Loggie, owners of the Lorne ran their boat in the same interest the services of the three little steamers being given gratuitously. The Derby carried excursionists from Chatham and the other two from Newcastle, return. ing after the Festival had closed. We have space to say only that the ladies and gentleman of the Committee deserve the highest credit for their intelligent and successful management of the affair and for having pleased all their patrons, who must have numbered some four hundred. The amount realised is said to have been about $90. WILSON CLARKE, the breaking and amputation of whose legs at Tracadie we reported last week, died on Thursday morning last. Dr. John Benson had gone to Tracadie to superintend his removal to Chatham and found him not suffering any -- a very unfavorable symptom. The removal was talked of, Clark appearing to desire to be near the Doctor. Towards Friday morning he sang one of Moody and Sankey's hymns and it was observed soon after that he was passing away rapidly. He died quietly at three o'clock, just as day was coming on, nearly the last words spoken by him being "cast off the lines and let us start." The remains were placed in a neat coffin, for which a shell was made and placed in the Protestant burying ground, where the burial took place, Rev. Mr. Fogo, of the Presbyterian Church, conducting the funeral service. The people of Tracadie and Clarke's fel low-employees did all that kindness could suggest for him, their good and thoughtful offices ceasing only when the burial was

A CAMPBELLTON SENSATION. -- Campbellton is enjoying a genuine sensation, the particulars of which reached St. John today. It appears that the Montreal Telegraph Company's agent at that place has had a "messenger boy" in his employ for about two years. The "boy" ran errands, etc., and lived with the agent. The neighbors did not pay any particular attention to the "lad" and "he" might have persued the even tenor of "his" way had "he" conducted himself properly. The fate decreed, however, that this should not be. On Thursday last the messenger ran awaywith $200 belonging to "his" employer. Search was instituted and the culprit soon captured. The suspicions of his captors had now become excited, and they called in the services of a medical man. who promptly reported that the "boy" was a girl! On Tuesday evening the Dutcher Re formers gave their weekly entertainment in the Temperance Hall, the Executive Committee, in pursuance of resolutions passed at the last business meeting, having decided to make the change from the Masonic Hall, until more extended accommodation was required. The chair was occupied by the President, William Anderson, Esq., and the meeting was opened with prayer by Mr. Grierson of Halifax. Addresses by Messrs. Gricrson, Holder, and Frecker, and the Rev. Messrs. Smith and McKeown. Readings were given by Miss Little and Mrs. Martin. Solos by Misses Jessie Martin, and Annie Davidson and Capt Brown, instrumental music by Miss Clara Martin, choruses by the choir Miss C. Johnstone presided at the piano. Before the close of the meeting, the President, Mr. William Anderson, said he thought it was their duty as a society to pass a vote of thanks to the Rev. T. L. Smith who was about to take his departure from Chatham, for his past services to

The Rev. T. L. Smith, in returning thanks, adverted to the history of the society, and alluding to Mr. Dutcher as its founder, expressed his regret that the evidence as it appeared from a late report of the investigating Committee asked for by Mr. Dutcher, seemed to confirm the charges which had been preferred against him. In conclusion he bade the audience an earnest fare well.

The Rev. Mr. McKeown on being called on said he had already bade them good bye. As regarded Mr. Dutcher he differed from the brother who had preceded him and would continue to believe him innocent until the contrary was proved. After some further remarks the Rev. gentleman again bade them farewell

A Monster of the Sea.

Mr. Angus McEachran, of Chatham, makes a report to the ADVANCE of a marine monster seen by himself and other pilots on Monday 7th inst. when lying becalmed in the pilot schooner Advance ten miles South of Amherst Island, Magdallens, Gulf of St. Lawrence. There were on board at the time, besides Mr. Mc-Eachran, Messrs. Angus McLean, Angus McEachran, jr., and Wm. Duplesse. About ten o'clock in the forenoon Mr. Mc-Eachran's attention was attracted by a commotion in the water some three hundred vards from the vessel and he discovered the cause to be a long snake- Mill at Newcastle; it also informed its shaped animal of a dark brown color, readers that logs had advanced 25 cents having a round smooth body without per M on the Miramichi, in consequence of scales or fins, and a flattened head. It was the alleged purchase. The monster awed those in the vessel and Mr Angus McEachran, jr. thinking it might intend mischief, armed himself with the axe kept on board, with the intention of making all the defence possible. Mr. McLean said he had seen the same, or a similar animal at an early hour on that morning, but did not mention it until the second appearance was made. Mr. McEachran says he has no desire to see such a creature again.

A Pleasant Trip. We are reluctantly obliged to condense an account of a very interesting trip made up the Tracadie by the party who left Chatham in the tug Sultan on Thursday last. Among those composing it were Messrs. T.D. Adams, B.W. Wilkinson, G.H. Wilaway through the North Gully and down Ferguson, Esq., where Hon. M. Adams, who had come by the "short cut" from Tracadie, again came on board. After 'tea and toast" at Mr. Ferguson's the run was continued to Tracadie Bridge, where John Young, Esq., who had been superintending the removal of a span of

An Outrageous Proceeding.

On Monday last an American schooner, carrying 19 men, anchored between the Horseshoe and the Fox Island nets where a purse seine was thrown and a very large quantity of mackeral taken, together with other fish. All day long the crew were engaged cleaning the fish and throwing the offal into the water alongside, polluting it and damaging our river fisheries. This is only one case out of many which illustrate the maliciously 'destructive manner in which the Americans abuse their privileges under the Washington Treaty. We presume Overseer Wil liston informed himself of the name of this vessel and that he will report the facts to the Department.

Bogus and Sensational News

The St. John Sun has given publicity to the statement that Alexander Gibson, Esq. has purchased the Fish & Hamilton The Sun also gave publicity to the state ment that after the Ritchie Mill at Newcastle was shut down a placard intimating that the mill must be operated or burned, was posted on or near it. This infamous libel on those aimed at by it was of a piece with the other falsehoods referred to.

TEAZERVILLE, 12TH JULY, 1879. To the Editor of the Miramichi Advance DEAR SIR:-

The warm weather we are having at th present time is making the crops grow splendidly. If the salmon fishing were good we would have a fairly prosperous THE "ANDOVER."

The Andover makes her semi-weekly

trips down here with her usual regularity. I differ from you about that boat's usefulness. I really believe that there never was a boat built to suit this part of the County better. I think that I saw in the ADVANCE of a late date something about a row-boat being able to go when she would have to lay up. I do not believe that there was a row-boat on the Miramichi could have gone up the Andover could do the work. I think nowledge that she can do it, which is not saying that you are prejudiced in the least. for I believe that you would give justice to all when you knew the rights of the case, let your political and personal enemies say to the contrary notwithstanding. I thought as you did. that the Andover was not able to do the work, but experience has taught me differently, for I know she is able for the route that she is on the present season. There is, cering not over three feet of water. You re-

Last year the Willistons again applied to the Local Overseer, John Williston, Esq., for a license for the Gully Set. The Overseer refused a license for it, showing as his authority for doing so a letter from W. H. Venning in which he forbade the Overseer to give a license for that set, as was illegal. The grounds on which the Inspector claimed it was illegal were that it was set too close to Thibideau's Gulley. being, as he thought, less than 200 yards from the entrance of the Gully. Mr. Venningdid not measure the distance. He simply sailed over the set and said that it must come out of that. Last year when the Overseer refused the license the firm of William Williston & Co. set the nets and drew Mr. Whitcher's attention to it when he was in Bay du Vin. The consequence of this was that orders were set as usual. This present year a member of the firm of Win. Williston & Co. applied for a license. The Overseer again refused it as he said he received strict orders from Venning not to give a license. The consequence of this was that again, Phineas Gulliver, the managing partner of the firm. set the nets without a license. The net was complained of to Mr. Venning-by whom it is hard to say-and the Overseer received orders from him to confiscate it. Before doing this the Overseer informed the firm of how matters stood and after some time the nets were taken up under Last Tuesday, 8th of July, Messrs.

Wyse, Mackintosh, Fitzpatrick and Blak came down to take up the nets, having hired the Andover for that purpose. They came down to the Village, went ashore, staid about an hour on the shore and came on board of the Steamer again -and returned to Chatham. They did not go to the Island to see if the nets were out. They did not make an effort to get there but simply asked a few questions and went home again. With your permission, Mr. Editor, may

I ask can the Inspector order a net up or withold a license by simply sailing over it. If the law is that no net is to be set nearer than 200 yards to the mouth of any river that salmon frequent to spawn, it does not prohibit these nets. In the first place they are over 600 yards from the entrance of the Gully. I do not care where they call the entrance, either at the outside bar or between Fox and Huckleberry Islands, it is not the mouth of a river, for the Gully leads into the Lower Bay du through Bay du Vin last Friday, the 4th Vin Bay. It is not a Gully that Salmon of July. The Andover went and it did go into at all. The Bay is shoal water; not seem to be a great deal of trouble. this, Mr. Editor, you know is a fact after either. It is a fact that not many of our your experience in the Steamer Andover salmon shippers patronise her this season, this spring, There has never been a salmon but the reason of this is that they have net set for the purpose of taking Salmon schooners of their own, and they would below John O'Bear's Point, for it is a Bay not part with them until they knew that that Salmon donot frequent. Considering all these things, to prohibit a short set of nets off the outside of Fox Island is the most absurd, regulation that ever came from the Fisheries Department. The set is only 75 fathoms in length. If this set is unlawful, there are many sets situated the very same. Opposite to it on Huckleberry Island there is a set in the same position at the mouth of Bay du Vin River there are two sets the same and also at Napan and many other places in the County. If this set is over the distance from the shore that the Inspector allows us to set nets off Fox Island, then I say it is I understand that it is the intention of the firm to bring an action against the In-

Before I conclude Mr. Editor may I ask how is it that those Chatham Officers are sent down into Squire Williston's district.
