OTHER SPEAKERS Mr. Wallace and Mr, Arkell having spoken, repeating the arguments of Messrs Tilley and Tupper, Mr. Paterson of Brant. delivered a really able speech, arraigning the policy of the Government and showing up its inconsistencies. He was followed by Dr. Orton on the Government side, who closed the debate for the day.

Hon, gentlemen hal in 1878 spoken of

If that was the case then, what could they say of the condition of things to-day !

Mr. Weldon's Speech.

The debate being resumed-MR. WELDON, who was received with opposition cheers, said the constituency of the Finance Minister was embraced in that of himself and his colleague. They were not prepared to consent to the views advanced by the Minister. He (Weldon) had opposed Confederation, which had been carried on the promise of the Inter colonial by a commercial route through unsettled country, was a drain upon ou resources, and the member for King's yesterday said we needed a road through a foreign country to compete with it. Mr Tilley had attributed the depression is St. John solely to the fire, but the fire had not destroyed our shipping on the sea or lumber business throughout the Province, on which the city trade depended. The tariff bore heavily upon the people; it was a violation of the promise made at great courtesy. He returned home to remedy to a crucial test. Refre hing the Union—a breach of faith as set out by his master, well pleased with the urthe petition of the electors, among whon banity and kindness of Chief-Justice the blessings which it confers. Intending were many familiar to the Minister of Fi- Pyne. The Judge set forth next day nance. Mr. Domville had said the petitioners belonged solely to the opposition. but there were also names of supporters of Mr. Tilley, and they included the vast majority of St. John's busin as men. They felt the outrage done them by the telegram of Sir John to Mr. Boyd. The telegram stood forth in glaring colors.

SILENT LETTERS OF SHAME He read the telegram and referred to Mr. Tilley's statement about clap-tran petitions. No petition should be spoken of-much less one of 3.000 citizens of Sr. John. It was an insult at the hands of their representative. He reminded Mr. Tilley of the petition to him when Gover nor of New Brunswick, circulated with the knowledge and consent of the Governor, but sprung suddenly on the Province on the eve of polling. Taking up Mr. Tilley's reference to.

THE TWO DINNERS given to him in St. John, he said one was a temperance dinner given to an old temperance man by friends and foes politically. The chair was held by a worthy American citizen, and the affair was not political, though the Minister doubtless missed workers who, for reasons of their own, would not attend. The other was political,-so declared by a party organ. Ninety names were published, but five of those denied being present. Numbers were not electors of the constituency. Judge so far forgot himself as to attend. Half the others were office holders and office seekers-abundant on that side. They honored the temperance chieftain in sherry with their soup, sauterne with their fish, champagne with their entrees, moselle, hock and claret with their removes and game, and port and ale with their favor of the defendant, and that gentledessert. It was nothing to boast of com- man nodded often to his attorney, as pared with the dinner given Mr. Mac- much as to say, "It's all right; I have kenzie.
