CROSIER : - The Most Reverend, the Metropolitan, was presented with a valuable crosier at the late meeting of the Provincial Synod at Montreal.

CORRECTION: - Through a misunderstanding, we last week reported the Jury in the Sultan insurance case as having given a verdict for Plaintiffs. It appears, however, that the verdict was for Defts.

THE "TEA," held the past week in connection with Emmanuel Church Sunday School, though gotten up in a quite improptu manner, was exceedingly gratifying in all respects. The amount of money her most enterprising, energetic men. realized was nearly $100.

THOMAS BARKER, Esq., late of the Barker House, Fredericton, died last week. He was quite a young man. Much sympathy is felt for his widow who is so favorably known to all who have made "the Barker" their home while at the Provincial Capital.

RIFLE COMPETITION :- Our marksmen will, no doubt, assemble in good force today at the Range, Wellington Road, where the Annual County Matches are to come off. The preparations for the occasion have been made by the committee appointed for the purpose, and are so complete as to admit of little if any delay in the commencement of the day's work. Firing is to begin at 9 a. m. sharp in the first PIANO SALE:-Mrs. E. Williston of Chatham, having a very fine piano of which she wishes to dispose, has determined to do so by a drawing at Temper ance Hall, Chatham, on 2nd October as advertised in to-day's ADVANCE. The drawing will be conducted by a committee to be chosen by the ticket-holders present on the evening named, and in such manner as they may determine. We may say that we have every reason to believe that everything in connection with the disposition of this fine instrument will be done fairly.

THE BARK "SAGA."-On Friday, 17th, the Surveyors, Capt. J. J. Brown, T. F. Gillespie, Portwarden, and J. C. E. Carmichael, Government Surveyor of Shipping, visited the barque Saga, 455 tons, from Liverpool, with salt, iron, tin etc, which went ashore on Escuminac Reef on the morning of the 15th, and now lies full of water about a mile N. E. by E. from Escuminac Light in 9 feet water. The Surveyors recommended that the vessel and cargo be sold for the benefit of Underwriters and all concerned. The sale is, accordingly, advertised to take place tomorrow at the Union wharf, Chatham, as will be seen by reference to our advertising columns. "Instinct and intelligence, as exhibited in Lower Animal Life" is the subject of a lecture to be delivered by Rev. R. Alder Temple, in Temperance Hall, Chatham, on Monday evening next. We understand that the subject will be treated under such heads as-Instincts displayed in the Construction of Habitations, Migration, Attack and Defence, Providing for future neces-

Metropolitan of Canada visited the Miramichi during the past week. He was present and took part in the services in St Paul's in the forenoon and St Mary's Chatham on the evening of Sunday last. John Rusk. Esq., collector of Customs Richibucto, was in town on Monday. F. K. TERRY, Esq. paid a visit to Miramichi last week, remaining until Tuesday evening. His numerous friends made during his stay here in 1874-5 in the employ of the late firm of Guy, Stewart &Co, were delighted to see him again, and regretted the shortness of his stay among them.

Hon. Wm. M. Kelly, who has so long been identified with the business and politics of the County, left Chatham this week for Toronto, preceded by most of the members of his family. It is Mr. Kelly's intention to reside, for the future, in Toronto. He held the position of Chief Commissioner of Board of Works, in the Provincial Government for nine years preceding 1878, when he resigned, and was appointed to the Legislative Council, his membership in which will not be affected by his removal. Though he took little part of late in local public affairs he will be much missed in Chatham, and while we are all sorry to part with him, we feel sure that those who have known him so long will wish him and bis family all happiness sought for themselves. OBITUARY. - The remains of Mr. James Miller, whose death occured on board the Sarmatian, at Quebec, on Saturday, were interred at Upton yesterday. The service was held in Christ Church, Rev. Mr. Robinson, of Abbottsford' and Rev. J. S. Black, of Erskine Church, Montreal, as sisting Rev. Mr. Wurtele, the Rector of the parish. The church was well filled the funeral procession being very large and all classes represented. Mr. Black took for subject of his remarks: "Let me die the death of the righteous, and let my last end be like his," and spoke of th high Christian character and business integrity of the deceased, enjoining those present, many of whom were young people. to strive to emulate his example. Mr. Miller was a native of Kilbride, near Glasgow, Scotland, and was engaged in business in Pictou, Ontario, afterwards carry ing on a large tanning business at St. Pie, Quebec. He was the founder of the firm of Messrs. J. & J. Miller & Co., hemlock extract manufacturers, and was actively engaged in business up to the time of hi death, and while diligent in business. he was very fervent in spirit and active in good works. [The case of the Roman Catholic Bishop of Chatham vs. the Western Insurance Co. was still before the Court when our repor er's notes were sent to us.]

We have a telegram just as we go to press announcing that His Lordship has been given a verdict by the Jury for five thousand dollars-the full amount claimed-and lawful interest, which will make the whole amount about $5,750. The verdict was in accordance with His Honor's charge and reflects credit on the Court and Jury. We shall give a full report of the case next week.

H. M. S. Blanche at Shippagan.

A correspondent writing on 18th inst from Shippagan says:-

"The quiet Port of Shippagan was quite excited over the arrival of Her Majesty's Ship Blanche and the landing on Saturday, Sept. 18th, about 10 a. m. of Her Commander, Charles J. F. Knowles R. N. All the bunting the place boasts of was displayed in honour of the visit, Commander Knowles called at the Montreal, Co's. Telegraph Office, which is also the Post Office (the residence of Mr. Thomas Hamon-a Jerseyman) both offices being in charge of Mrs. Hamon, where he made quite a stay, making minute inquiries about the place, people fishing resources farming, etc. etc. and then left to make a further examination of the place, calling on the Rev. Mr. Trudelle, the Parish Priest. He again returned to the residence of Mr. Hamon, where, contrary to being entertained by the elite of the place, as we usually read of on such occasions, the honour was reserved to one of the humblest residents, of a captain of one of H. M. Ships sitting down to a most frugal table sans ceremonie. He declined being served alone by the Hostess preferring to sit down en famille, Such condescension on the part of such a gentleman is worthy of record. The distinguished visitor left about 2.30 p. m. to join his ship, when she left for the Magdalen Islands."

Fascination In Man.

Having frequently seen it stated popular works on natural history as well as in some books of travels (chiefly Australian) that certain snakes possessed the power of so fascinating, with their gaze, birds and other creatures as to be able to seize upon and devour them without any difficulty, I am induced to inquire if such a power is peculiar to the serpent tribe or not, and incidentally to ask if any instances of its influence or extension can be traced, up the scale of creation, to man himself. Being of opinion that such is the case, fused to be nonsuited, and the case went while it has occured to me that many of to the jury who found for the Defts. under the fatal accidents that occur in the streets of large cities, such as London, &c., might be ascribed to some such agency or sensation, I am induced to call attention to the circumstances in these pages, and to sub- Guy, Bevan & Co. mit the following as my own personal con- w tributions toward the inquiry: Describing certain incidents of the siege of Gibraltar, Drinkwater says ["History," page 75'] that "on the 9th Lieut. But what is more remarkable, these men have so instantaneously recovered themselves on its fall to the ground as to remove to a place of safety before the shell burst." Alluding to the first casualty that occured at Cawnpore during the seige of the entrenchment there in 1857, Mowbray Thompson says "The story of Cawnpore, "page 66) that " several of us saw the ball bounding towards us' and he (McGuire) evidently saw it, but, like many others whom I saw fall at different times, he seemed fascinated to the spot," and an old and now deceased departmental friend who went through

The Annapolis Murder.

[Annapolis Journal.]

On Saturday evening two magistrates were seen walking up toward the Court House with rolls of paper in their hands, when it became rumored about that a preliminary trial was to be held. The house was soon crowded. As the preparation went on, persons began to climb to the highest place for observation. The reserved seats on the platform, the Judges' chair and desk, became resting places for eager listeners and observers. The scene might well attract the population. It was one which the world seldom even dreams of in the wildest books of fiction : one which Annapolis, perhaps Nova Scotia, will never see repeated, -which, we hope, in mercy to humanity, never, never can be! Mrs. Scott is said to have been, at one time, subject to mental aber-ration; there is nothing of the kind apparent now, however.

At a signal from the court, the rough box was brought forward immediately in front of the prisoner's seat. Once or twice before this, when, for instance, a witness came to describe the absence of Thibault and the girl as having been simultaneous, and the question was asked "where was Joseph Thibault at this time?" a visible shudder passed over the strong man's frame; but now, as the dreadful box approached, he rose quickly, and seemed to wish for some way to escape. Mrs. Scott stood by the ghastly objects, confirming previous statements, by pointing out a defect in the shoe, and the peculiarity of the comb, etc., her hand, covered with her shawl, meanwhile clasping her mouth and nostrils. Thibault was standing now over the half-burnt corpse, the horrible work of his own or some other's hands, brought home to him in judgment. Some one asked him to touch the body-that cers and Committees; Retiring Presi- miserable supposition which modern men Among the members of the bar present | dent's address; Singing, prayer; Reports | should be ashamed to call back from the oblivion of dark ages-and he stooped down without any hesitation, laying his hand on the deformed face of the murdered girl. As I am continually adding to my Stock all new improvements, in Carpenter's and Machinist's Tools, and all other Goods, and for the want of space, I find it quite impossible to enumerate more than a few lines, and articles that I keep on sale. But call for inspection will satisfy the most experienced in the Hardware trade, that my stock is complete. The variety comprises every article the country requires I have given my strictest attention to the business, and allow nothing to be out of Stock there may be a call for, together with all new improvements. My business having increased so that I can now afford to sell at a small advance on cost, purchasers will find that they can buy to better advantage here than sending abroad for what they require,
