A Modern Sermon

ILLUSTRATING THE METHOD UPON WHICH SOME PARSONS CONSTRUCT THEIR DISCOURSES. BRETHREN, the words of my text are : old Mother Hubbard, she went to the cupboard, To get her poor dog a bone;

But when she got there the cupboard was bare, And so the poor dog had none. These beautiful words, dear friends. carry with them a solemn lesson. I pro pose this evening to analyze their meaning, and to attempt to apply it, lefty as it may be, to our every-day life. Old Mother Hubbard, she went to the cupboard,

To get her poor dog a bone, sume she was alone; a widow-a friendless, old solitary widow. Yet did she she went to the cupboard. And here observe that she went to the cupboard. She did not hop, or skip, or run, or jump, or solely and merely went to the cupboard. We have seen that she was old and lonely, and we now further see that she appeal to the Dominion Government was poor. For, mark, the words are "the cupboard." Not "one of the cupboards," merce. or the "right-hand cupboard," or the 'left-hand cupboard," or the one above, or the one below, or the one under the stair. but just the cupboard. The one little humble cupboard the poor widow possessed. And why did she go to the cupboard? Was it to bring forth golden goblets or glittering precious stones, or costly ap- a husband deserts his wife, the latter has parel, or feasts, or any other attributes of the custody of her children. If the huswealth? It was to get her poor dog a bone! Not only was the widow poor, but her dog, does nothing to support the wife during the sole prop of her age, was poor too. I that time, or if he is imprisoned in the We can imagine the scene. The poor dog, penitentiary, the wife can, upon obtaining open or ajar, to open it for that poor dog. But when she got there the cupboard was bare, And so the poor dog had none. "When she got there l" You see, dear brethren, what perseverance is. You see the beauty of persistence in doing right. She got there. There were no turnings and twistings, no slippings and slidings, DOCK STREET, ST JOHN. no leaning to the right or falterings to the left. With glorious simplicity we are told she got there. And how was her noble effort rewarded ?

are not distinctly told that it was not half

"The cupboard was bare!" It was bare! There were to be found neither oranges nor cheesecakes, nor penny buns, nor gingerbread, nor crackers. nor nuts nor lucifer matches. The cupboard was bare! There was but one, only one solitary cupboard in the whole of that cottage, and that one, the sole hope of the widow and the glorious loadstar of the poor dog, was bare! Had there been a leg of mutton, a loin of lamb, a fillet of veal, even an ice from Gunter's, the case bare, my brethren, bare as a bald head bare as an infant born without a caul. Many of you will probably say, with all the pride of worldly sophistry, "The widow, no doubt, went out and bought a dog-biscuit." Ah, no! Far removed from these earthly ideas, these mundane de- by the chock of the tow line breaking, sires, poor Mother Hubbard the widow, whom many thoughtless wordlings would despise, in that she only owned one cunboard, perceived-or !I might even say saw-at once the relentless logic of the situation, and yielded to it with all the heroism of that nature which had enabled her without deviation to reach the barren cupboard. She did not attempt, like the stiff-necked scoffers of this generation, to war against the inevitable; she did not try, like the so-called men of science, to explain what she did not understand. none!" And then at this point our infor- | vertigo, etc., and it never has failed to our mation ceases. But do we not know

Who would dare to pierce the veil that shrouds the ulterior fate of old Mother Hubbard, the poor dog, the cupboard, or the bone that was not there? Must we imagine her still standing at the open cupboard door-depict to ourselves the dog still drooping his disappointed tail upon the floor-the sought-for bone still remaining somewhere else? Ah! no, my dear brethren, we are not so permitted to attempt to read the future. Suffice it for us to glean from this beautiful story its many lessons; suffice it for us to apply them, to study them as far as in us lies, and bearing in mind the natural frailty of our nature, to avoid being widows; to shun the patronymic of Hubbard; to have, if our means afford it, more than one cupboard in the house, and to keep stores in them all. And oh! dear friends, keeping in recollection what we have learned this day, let us avoid keeping dogs that are fond of bones. But, brethren, if we doif fate has ordained that we should do any of these things-let us then go, as Mother Hubbard did, straight, without curveting or prancing, to our cupboard, empty though it be; let us, like her, accept the inevitable with calm steadfastness; and should we like her ever be left with a hungry dog and an empty cupboard, may future chroniclers be able to write also of us. the beautiful words of our text,-And so the poor dog had none.

Maria, Empress of all the Russias, died on 3rd inst. She was the daughter of the Grand Duke Louis II. of Hesse Darmstadt. and was married to Alexander the Second of Russia, on the 28th of April, 1841. In 1855 her husband, succeeding his father, the Autocrat Nicholas, ascended the throne of the Romanoffs. In all the reforms which he immediately set about making in his kingdom, he found an able adviser and an unfailing support in his wife. The Emperor has always been regarded as an affectionate husband and father, but since the death of his favorite son, the Grand Duke Nicholas, he has not been himself, and the appearance in his palace of a Royal Mistress, soon destroyed his domestic peace. For several years the Empress has absented herself from the Court, and though residing under the same roof, she has lived apart from her husband. Her declining years have been embittered by disease, neglect, and the MIRAMICHI BOOKSTORE. pangs which jealousy alone can create in preparing and using. Sent by mail by the wounded heart. Methodist Ecumenical Council.

An important measure introduced by the Wesleyan Conference at Cincinnati was the arrangement for a great Methodist Ecumenical Council to be held in London, England, in August of 1881. This promises to be one of the largest Church Assemblies ever held. The attempt is to be made to bring together delegates from every section of Methodism the world over, not to discuss their variations of church polity, but to show their essential unity in variety. To this monster assembly eighteen Canadian delegates are expected. The subjects to be discussed are Paganism, Scepticism, Pauperism, Education, Evangelization, Itinerancy, and others of the kindred moment. The entire scheme is one of the deepest importance as well as magnitude, for out of it may come the unification of all the Methodist forces throughout the world,

The Tibbets-Glasier Claims.

The long standing claims against the New Brunswick Provincial Government. known as the Tibbits-Glasier claims, have been decided by the Commission, to whom the matter was referred for arbitration, in favor of the claimants. The claim, which Mother Hubbard, you see was old; there was for $20,000 and interest, arose from being no mention of others, we may pre- the cutting of lumber on territory in dispute as to governmental jurisdiction between New Brunswick and Quebec. ABOUT LEADVILLE. - That Leadville is not at all that it is cracked up to be, may be inferred from a letter received from a former resident of this city, who was induced to go to Colorado under a promise of $4 per day, working in the mines. On arriving there he found thousands without work, and those that did find employment received $1 50 per day, and paid $7 a week for board. The letter concludes, "There are hundreds out here to-day homeless and hungry, and some of them from Beneder to Edicelia onte 1 saw Tuny end
