GREAT LOSS OF CATTLE AND HORSES-OUT where the settlers were with difficulty LAWS AND THEIR DOOM.

New Westminister B. C. 29th Mar. '80. To the Editor of the Miramichi Advance. DEAR SIR:-The winter just drawing to a close has leen the most severe that British Columbia has experienced for many years; indeed, it is unprecedented in the memory of the "oldest inhabitant," or according to any records extant.

THE LOSS OF STOCK in the upper country has been enormous, and many stock raisers have been reduced from affluence to poverty, through their imprudent dependence on the weather, having made no preparations for housing their cattle, and thousands have consequently perished in the snow. The Indians of the interior have also been severe sufferers, the majority of their horses having literally starved to death. Previous to last week there was no river communication with the upper country since December last; the river being regularly between Yale and here. The monotony of life here has been somewhat disturbed lately by a trial of exceptional interest and importancenamely, that for murder of "the Kamloops outlaws," three brothers named McLean (Allan, Charley and Archy) and one Alexander Hare. These parties, for some time past, had carried on an organized system of plunder and terrorism throughout the neighborhood in which they lived, which culminated in the murder of a constable named Ussher and a sheep herder named Kelly, for which crimes each and all of them have been sentenced "to be hanged by the neck till they are dead These "outlaws" are half-breeds, and with one exception, are mere boys, the youngest McLean being but fifteen years old. The father of the McLean brothers was a "chief factor" of the Hudson Bay Co., and a man of undaunted courage.

siege, several messages calling upon them roof of one of the Hecla Foundry buildings to surrender, were conveyed to the outlaws by an Indian boy; in reply to the first they sent a note saying-"You may burn the cabin a thousand times over, we will the emergency.

He was killed by the Chillicotin Indians in July '74.

Many are the stories that are rife concerning their doings, previous to and since their capture. One of their favorite pastimes was throwing their lariats over the heads of any inoffensive Chinamen they fell in with, and urging their horses to the gallop, drag them along on the ground for a hundred yards or more, and then "go through" thein for any small change they might have about them. Warrants had been out for their arrest (for comparatively minor offences) for some two years before it was accomplished, and rewards amounting in all to $750.00 had been offered by the government and the H. B. Co. for their apprehension. Two of them were incarcerated in Kamloops jail at one time, but made their escape. The act which led to the murder of Ussher and Kelly and their final capture was the stealing of a horse from a settler named Palmer.
