The Sun came out in full war paint on Monday last. The single issue of that day hit all around the camp of the hated "Grits." The bones of the late Hon. George Brown were turned over as prelude to a general onslaught upon the late Administration. "Messrs. Isaac Burpee and Charles W. Weldon' were called upon to reproduce a circular issued by them, during the election contest of 1878, in which they stated the price of flour higher than it then was. Turning from that periodthe exciting time when Sir John tele graphed to Mr. Boyd that there was to be ' no increase, but only a readjustment of the tariff"-the Sun condemned "the Grit papers" for not crediting the National Policy with the abundantly good times that prevail all over Canada. and, then, passed on to a special tilt against Mr. Weldon, with incidental reference to Messrs. G. G. King and A. H. Gillmor. It next took in hand Mr. Snowball, M. P., charging him Sun overrates the exodus. with the prediction "that the National Policy would be the ruin of the lumber trade of New Brunswick" and asserting that he "has turned out about the poorest prophet the North Shore has yet produced." Passing to the demonstration of its assumed position that the N. P., has done wonders for the lumber business, the Sun went on to say:-"Mr. Snowball has never loaded money, in any one season, as this year. The noble Miramichi river never bore so great a fleet of ships on her bosom at one
