Worth its Weight in Gold.

TORONTO, ONT., June 2, 1880. H. R. STEVENS, Esq., Boston, Mass. Sir :- Having been persuaded by a friend of mine to try VEGETINE for Kidney Disease, with which I and been troubled for four years, I consented and have given it a fair trial, and am happy to say that I am relieved to such an extent that I can attend to my work with ease and comfort, which I was prived of for over three years. The best medical hen of Toronto have given my case up as hopeless. I have tried every kind of medicine I ever heard I have tried every kind of m of, but with no avail whatever. Any person who would certainly advise to try VEGETINE, for assure you (as many can testify) that it is undoubt eily the best medicine on record for the Kidne isease. I am able to work at my trade as gilder and earn a living for my wife, two children and myself, through VEGETINE, which I consider is worth its weight in gold. Hoping that those who may give VEGETINE a trial may receive the same benefit that I have, I remain,

I gave Mr. Crooke the medicine, and I know this statement to be true. JAS. D. MEREDITH, 35 Adelaide St., W

Dr. Dionne, editor of the Courier du Canada, made an excellent plea for the role of the press, and was frequently applauded during the course of his very able address.

Mr. Poirier of Ottawa also delivered a sparkling address, and at its conclusion Hon. Mr. Landry was called upon to make some remarks in English. In complying, he thanked those who had given him this opportunity of stating what he and his brethren of Acadia meant by this Convention. He only regretted that continuous speaking in the open air had so exhausted him, that it would be impossible for him to repeat in English the many noble sentiments which during the two days past had been expressed in French. His greatest wish was that he could give expression to those sentiments, for his hearers would then understand that the Acadians had united here for no disloyal purpose, had not any intention of keeping themselves separate and apart from their countrymen of other nationalities, but simply and solely to improve their condition and advance their prospects, in doing which they would walk hand in hand with their English, Irish and Scotch fellow subjects. The Acadians admitted that thus far they had been behind hand in material progress. but they did not admit that they were inferior to any nationality in intellect, in-

had been long deprived of advantages
