What It Costs to Keep a Cow.

The Hon. Geo. S. Boutwell, who retired a few years ago from the care of state affairs to the recreations of his farm at Groton, Mass., makes the following report of some experiments made by him in feeding cattle, in a letter to the secretary of the New York Farmers Club:-- may make the result more intelligible to all. The corn is cut at the ground as soon as the seed is partially hardened, set in stooks, and allowed to stand until both the ears and stalks are ripe and fully seasoned. The corn is then husked in the field, and the corn and fodder put under cover without delay. The fodder is cut for feeding in pieces about one inch in length, then put into large boxes, where it is mixed with cob-meal and saturated with water at the boiling point. The boxes are then covered so as to be nearly air-tight, and allowed to stand, say twelve hours before feeding.

The experiment was made last December. At that time the stock consisted of forty-nine animals of various sizes, but estimated to be equal to forty-six cows.

At the time the experiment was made the feed of the stock for day for the preceding three weeks had been as follows:--

Corn fodder, 400 pounds, valued at.....	$2.30
Hay, 200 pounds, (fed dry) valued at.....	3.00
Corn meal, 200 pounds, valued at.....	2.00
Total.....	$7.30

Upon this estimate, the daily cost of food for each animal was a trifle more than sixteen cents.

At the time the experiment was made, I had twenty-three cows in milk of various ages and conditions, and on Wednesday, the 8th of December, the aggregate yield was 373 pounds. On Sunday, the 12th of December, the best of English hay was substituted for the corn fodder, pound for pound, but in all other respects the food was the same.

The hay, that is, 460 pounds--was cut on the 25th of September, and the quantity of meal as used with the corn fodder, and subjected in every particular to the same treatment. The same quantity of dry hay as before was furnished in addition.

On Wednesday, the 15th of December, the yield of milk was 359 pounds, a loss of four pounds. On Thursday, the 16th, the use of corn fodder was resumed, and on the 22nd of December the yield of milk was 382 pounds, a gain of twenty-three pounds. One experiment is not sufficient to establish an overthrown theory, and I submit the result in this case rather for the purpose of provoking inquiry and encouraging the application of other tests.

If it shall appear in the end--as I think it will appear, that well-cured corn fodder, properly treated for animal food, is equal, pound for pound, with good hay, there will no longer exist even a pretext for neglecting the cultivation of corn in New England.

The daily cost of supporting forty-six cows upon hay was:--

For 700 pounds hay at $20 per ton.....	$7.00
For 200 pounds cob meal.....	2.00
Total.....	$9.00

or 21 cents per cow.

Eating Ham in Peace.

The recent alarm in the pork market produced by Acting British Consul Crump's report of "hog cholera," which had destroyed 700,000 head in Illinois, has led to the publication of some interesting facts by the American Agricultural Association. The report of Mr. Crump roused in France and England a vague terror of trichinosis. The pork trade was threatened with a catastrophe, and almost the first official act of Secretary Blaine was the pacification of Johnny Crapaud and John Bull. "It is proved to be a misapprehension," said the Secretary; "you can eat your ham in peace."

Hog cholera, whether there be much or little of it, is not trichinosis. It mainly effects the young pig, and the Agricultural Association thinks the government might well spend a few thousands of dollars to discover a cure for it. We should think, on the contrary, that the farmers and the pork packers, who are immediately interested, could more wisely spend the few thousands needed for the purpose. If the government is to lend a hand to the pork interest, it can not refuse it to any other.

According to the Association, we may, all with our foreign cousins, eat our ham in peace. Trichinosis, it says, is a disease known to man. It is believed never to injure the hog, and it can never affect the human system except through the insufficiently cooked meat in which the disease might chance to lurk. Swine or lard butter, however great a fraud, is not dangerous to health from trichinosis, because lard can be rendered only at a temperature that kills animalcules. Anti-Huff cheese, against which Mr. Crump justly protests, is made of skin-milk in the heart, and is made of the cream. But of this imposture, there are but two small factories. Upon the whole, the assurances of the Agricultural Association are very gratifying. It is dismal to the man of normal appetite, as he seeks himself at table and arranges his napkins, to be haunted by the suspicion that his butter is oleomargarine, that his cheese is lard, and that his ham is mere trichinosis. To dispel his fears and horrible suspicions is to do a public service.

Barn Yard Fowls and Animals

Are kept in the most perfect health and remunerative condition, when their food is mixed, according to the printed directions, with HARVELL'S CONDENSED POWDERS. These great specifics result in great profusion and in great weight. Ask your druggist or grocer for them.

Murder Will Out.

A few years ago "August Flower" was discovered to be a certain cure for Dyspepsia and Liver Complaint. A few thin Dyspeptics made known to their friends how easily and quickly they had been cured by its use. The great merits of GREEN'S AUGUST FLOWER became heralded through the country by one sufferer and another, until without advertising, its sale became immense. Druggists in every town in the Canada and United States are selling it. No person suffering from Sour Stomach, Sick Headache, Costiveness, Flatulency, or Indigestion, should neglect to take a few doses without relief. Go to your Druggist and get a bottle for 75 cents and try it. Sample bottles 10 cents.

DYSPEPSIA--Strengthen your digestion, tone the stomach for utilizing and assimilating every atom of food you take, the body needs it for strength and vigor. Zappa's cure, the entire system, stimulates the liver, keeps you regular and able to eat penny naps. Letters and postal cards come in daily extolling Zappa from Brazil. Positive proof of health and vigor it gives, in a 10 cent sample. Sold by MACKENZIE & CO., Chatham, N. B.

The man who leads not the warning of pain or suffering, which always precedes maladies, often becomes, through indolence, the victim of incurable disease. Lassitude, Weariness, Sadness, Aching of the limbs indicate nervous derangement, the forerunner of many organic and functional diseases. The early employment of Fells' Hypophosphites will effectually ward off such maladies.

Among the many desirable results of pure blood are an elastic step, buoyant spirits, and clear complexion. The possessor of healthy blood has his faculties at command, and enjoys a clear and quick perception, which is impossible when the blood is heavy and sluggish with impurities. Ayer's Sarsaparilla is the best blood purifier and vitalizer known.
