SHIP NEWS held over. COLE'S CIRCUS :- From reports which appear in the Ontario papers, it is evident that Cole's Circus, which is to appear in Chatham, on 20th inst., is a first class, Mammoth affair, well worth seeing.

HANLAN, who positively declined to row in the Toronto Regatta and withdrew from the proposed match for the championship of America with Ross, has now challenged the latter, after stating that he intended to row in no more races. His course is a rather singular one.

HAY ISLAND Range lights, which were erected last year, and lighted for the first time last spring, are complained of, as not being rightly placed. They are supposed to guide boats and light draft vessels from Neguac Gully to Hay Island Point, but, if depended upon, will cause them to run aground on the south side flats.

ACCIDENT:-On Tuesday of last week, aged about 10 years, was playing in the graph field where his father was mowing, and in some way got in front of the mowing machine, unobserved, and was badly cut about the ankle of the left foot. Under the care of Dr. McLearn he is progressing favorably. - Advocate.

The house, with its splendid cellar, convenient | would be better appreciated if they were stable and other outbuildings, garden, etc ought to attract the attention of those who are looking for a permanent residence in one of the best quarters of Chatham.

MILL ACCIDENT AT BATHURST :- While Mr. Michael Power, Foreman at Messrs. K F. Burns & Co.'s mill, was standing in front of the double edger on Saturday morning last, a board flew from the saw and, striking him a little above the wrist, broke his arm. If he had been struck in the body, it would, undoubtedly, have killed him. Great sympathy is felt for Mr. Power, as he is well liked among all the men of the mill as well as being highly esteemed by his other fellow-citizens.

THE GOVERNMENT steamer has been visiting the Miramichi lights during week, leaving supplies of oil, &c. It is a pity that material for cleaning the chimnies, reflectors, etc. was not also provided by Government, directly, instead of being obtained through second hands without competition, as the bills for the waste, chamois skins, towels, soap, paint, etc., for North shore lighthouses are so very large as to have a complexion suggestive of cookery by capable and willing officials.

REFORMED EPISCOPAL CHURCH PIC-NIC -On Thursday last, a pic-nic in connection with the Sunday School of the Reformed Episcopal Church, was held at Ivory's Crossing. The train, which had been placed at the disposal of the party by J. B. Snowball, Esq., left the Chatham Depot with the children and their teachers and friends at 10 a. m. The weather was fine and the day was spent very pleasantly. the children being entertained with games, swings and other amusements. Ample refreshments were provided, and the party returned home after a most agreeable day at 6 o'clock, p. m.

PIC-NIC AT RENOUS RIVER :- The picnic at Renous River under the auspices of C. Congregation of that held on the 13th, in Murphy's field near the river. The weather was fine and the attendance was good. A very large dancing tent was erected, and various amusements were provided for the younger people, such as games, races, swings, etc. The day passed off very pleasantly, and the result was doubtless satisfactory to the Rev. Mr Carter and his congregation, who deserve much credit for the excellence of their arrangemeuts.

It appears that notwithstanding the well-established uselessness of both lights and the necessity for their removal, a new structure has been put up for the range light. Why the Department does not place the Tabusintac lights where they will be of some use, is a question which will have to be answered by and by. The misstatement contradicted by Mr. Hayes was, however, only one of several hundred emanating from the same source.

Scraps for the "Advocate."

Respecting our remarks of last week on the Advocate's criticisms of Mr. Blake's failure to indulge in oratorical gymnastics

We did not say anything about ranting and prancing around, but now that he has introduced the subject we may say that we heard all the ranting, and witnessed all the prancing we care to see in this Pious Rascals: - The Charlottetown County for many a long day-on the platform on that memorable Friday. The and made us wish at the time that he belonged to any other County than Northumberland.

We hardly expected the Advocate to refer so candidly to the conduct of its representative on the occasion referred to. but now that it has done so, we should perhaps explain that it wa: in his capacity as the representative—as he alleged-of several leading journals on both sides of politics in the upper provinces that he was allowed a little more latitude than usual "on the platform on that memorable day."

The Advocate also says—

Judgment was however passed where when "our representative", claimed the right to be invited to the dinner on the alleged ground of being there to report for "a good grit paper," he was plainly given to understand that his credentials were not sufficient; and his whining around the "closed doors" as "a friend of the party" can only cause people to laugh at him. When he offered, some years ago, to remove the Advocate to Chatham and transfer its political allegiance to the gentleman who is now North- From the San Francisco Daily Chronicle : umberland's Representative at Ottawa, he posed to be practically open to the met with the cold shoulder in the same there is millions invested, and which, on Dominion, came off during last week. way as when he desired to be admitted to account of the rarity and superiority of its will run between Newcastle and Chatham, calling The marksmen from this province, among the Blake dinner—all of which ought to several attractions, has brought back near. at Bushville on the day of the Regatta, carrying tween two stools one is very apt to come to the ground.

The Advance states we misrepresented the Rev. Mr. Quinn in our last issue. We were not at the dinner, but obtained our information from more reliable persons than the conductor of the "Pocket Organ." We challenge him to publish what the Rev. gentleman did say in replying to the toast of "The Clergy." He has charged us with misrepresentationwe demand the reproof.

Logically the "Conductor" referred to is not a competent witness—according to the Advocate's preaching-for he is "unreliable." But as the Advocate's representative could not cajole the committee into admitting him to the dinner, even tho' he pleaded that he was reporting for him fnformation which he was officially denied the privilege of receiving.

Referring to the fact that the Advocate's censor found lault with one of its editors for representing a "Grit" journal at the Blake demonstration, that paper says :-If such be true, it showed that at least one grit paper had got tired of the one-sided accounts forwarded by Grit reporters, and was determined to obtain a truthful and unvarnished account for once

"truthful and unvarnished ac count" is understood to be one sent the St. John Globe, in which the demonstration was misrepresented as far as "our representative" dared to do so. Loss of the Bark "Nicanor".

Our Bathurst correspondent telegraphs that the Norwegian barque "Nicanor," 423 tons, Olsen, Master, laden with 200 standards of deals, shipped by Messrs. K. F. Burns & Co., at Caraquet, while pro. ceeding to sea on the 9th inst., ran aground in White's Cove, at the entrance of Caraquet Harbour. She filled with water in a short time and became imbedded in the sand. A survey was immediately held, and the surveyors ordered the deck and between deck cargo to be taken out .-This being done it was still impossible to ascertain the extent of the injuries, owing to water rising and filling with tide in the ship. A second survey was held on Tues. day, and the ship and cargo were ordered to be sold for the benefit of all concerned. The sale is to take place within a fort night, but the date is not yet fixed.

Echoes of Hon. Mr. Blake's Visit.

The Tory papers have, without intending it, contributed much to the great success of Mr. Blake's visit to these Provinces. Their persistent abuse of Mr. Blake and the Grits; their gross misrepresentations of his conduct, his policy, his motives, and even of his character: their desperate efforts to counteract or neutralize the effect which they knew his speeches were producing, and to persuade the people that to propose a reduction of taxation, an alleviation of their heavy burdens, was an unpatriotic attempt to ruin our manufactures, and destroy the prosperity of the country, no doubt induced many to attend the meetings and listen to Mr. Blake's statements and arguments who otherwise might have been apathetic and indifferent. - Freeman.

Among the other little meannesses indulged in by the self-styled Conservatives in connection with the recent Blake demonstration here, were several attempts by persons in their employ to be present at the party dinner given on the evening prior to Mr. Blake's departure. One person, who claimed to be a member of the press and was evidently intoxicated, forced sumpsit. A. A. Davidson for plaintiff, himself into the place where the names of guests were being announced and demanded admission in the name of the press. He would take no reasonable explanation and persisted in blocking up the passage until a special constable was directed to remove him. It is, therefore, not to be wondered at that the employers of this person should now engage in misrepresenting what was done at the dinner. So far as the Committee are aware, there was not a person present who was known to be identified with the Conservative party. There were five or six clergymen there, but none of them could be classed as Conservatives, although, for the most part, they were understood to be neutral in party politics. Death of Mr. Charles H. Chandler.

Many persons experienced quite a shock yesterday morning when they heard of the death of Mr. Charles H. Chandler, which took place very suddenly about 7 o'clock. Mr. Chandler resided on St. James' street near the corner of Sydney, and about six o'clock in the morning opened his room door and called to a neighbor to go for a doctor as he was bleeding to death. Dr. Sheffield was sent for, but it was some time before he arrived and when he did so Mr. Chandler was dead. He had lost an immense quantity of blood, and the cause of his death was evidently the rupture of a large blood vessel in the lungs. Coroner Rigby was notified, but under the circumstances he did not consider an inquest necessary. Mr. Chandler was apparently in his usual health on Wednesday, attending to his duties, and went home late in the afternoon. He was about 42 years of age, and was born in Governor Chandler, He studied law with his father, and afterwards with Judge mit or that he or any members of the had as good a right to be present, but were excluded, for reasons best known to the fact of the fact of the party, who had as good a right to be present, but were excluded, for reasons best known to the fact of the fact o ed police clerk, and continued in that position until 1877.
