

BUSINESS NOTICE.

The "MIRAMICHI ADVANCE" is published at Chatham, N. B., every Tuesday morning...

Miramichi Advance.

CHATHAM, N. B., SEPTEMBER 8, 1881.

The next Political Meeting.

A good deal has been said about Messrs. Tupper, Tilley and other leading gentlemen of the Conservative Party...

Some things we learned last Friday.

That all is not gold that glitters, even if it is a "surplus" in the national purse. That it would be better for the people if the surplus were still where it has been needlessly taken from their pockets.

That the present Government have proved that it is an easy matter to spend other people's money. That the present Government have proved it is one thing to make promises when in opposition and quite another matter to keep them when in power.

Speeches of the Demonstration.

"ERECTED FLAG" is what the Advocate calls them. "CIRCUS" - The Advocate says when people heard the Band on Friday, they thought it was Cole's Circus.

More "Circus" - The Advocate.

The Advocate thinks Mr. Blake the best speaker ever heard in Northumberland, but regrets that he does not prance around, call hard names, rant and otherwise "entertain" his audience.

Influx and Exodus - The Advocate.

The Advocate is very much interested in finding out why "strangers" were brought here to get up the Blake dinner. That is the private business of those who paid for the dinner.

requirements of the country for the next 20 years, at least, were to-day those of very same persons imposed a duty of from 25 to 50 per cent. on goods coming to their deluded Province.

HON. EDWARD BLAKE AT MIRAMICHI.

As stated in last week's ADVANCE, Hon. Edward Blake, Q. C., M. P., Leader of the Liberal-Form Party of Canada, arrived here on Wednesday evening and was met at Chatham Junction by about fifty representative men of the party...

Excursion.

On Thursday forenoon he enjoyed a quiet drive in Mr. Snowball's carriage to several points of interest and after lunch made a trip on the river in the St. George, accompanied by a few invited citizens.

The Demonstration and Speeches on Friday.

According to arrangement, the Steamer St. George, with one of Mr. McLeod's large barges attached alongside, sailed decorated with flags and having the Chatham Band on board, proceeded up river on Friday morning to bring down excursionists.

MR. McLEOD'S SPEECH.

Mr. McLeod said, had he known he would have been called upon to speak, his natural modesty would have kept him at home, but he was there only in order that he might appear as a lesser light before the great luminary who would shortly address them.

MR. CARMAN'S ADDRESS.

Mr. Carman, who by pre-arrangement took the chair, addressed the audience, saying that he had the honor of introducing a gentleman whose reputation was great throughout and beyond the Dominion, who was celebrated as an eminent lawyer and jurist by none as a statesman.

MR. BURNELL'S ADDRESS.

Mr. Burnell, who by pre-arrangement took the chair, addressed the audience, saying that he had the honor of introducing a gentleman whose reputation was great throughout and beyond the Dominion, who was celebrated as an eminent lawyer and jurist by none as a statesman.

MR. SNOWBALL'S SPEECH.

Mr. Snowball referred to the pleasure which he felt in having the honor of introducing to the community generally, and the anxiety of all his very extensive audience to hear such a distinguished statesman, as he himself was, and to give him such an enthusiastic reception as he so well deserved from them, and such a reception as he had received in other places he had visited.

MR. SNOWBALL'S SPEECH.

Mr. Snowball referred to the pleasure which he felt in having the honor of introducing to the community generally, and the anxiety of all his very extensive audience to hear such a distinguished statesman, as he himself was, and to give him such an enthusiastic reception as he so well deserved from them, and such a reception as he had received in other places he had visited.

one of the foremost in the Maritime Provinces as a debating and battle-ground was agitating the British North American Colonies. Its large Lumber and Fishery interests, and its fine Agricultural resources, we realized the advantages of the removal of commercial barriers...

MR. BURNELL'S ADDRESS.

Mr. Burnell, who by pre-arrangement took the chair, addressed the audience, saying that he had the honor of introducing a gentleman whose reputation was great throughout and beyond the Dominion, who was celebrated as an eminent lawyer and jurist by none as a statesman.

MR. BURNELL'S ADDRESS.

Mr. Burnell, who by pre-arrangement took the chair, addressed the audience, saying that he had the honor of introducing a gentleman whose reputation was great throughout and beyond the Dominion, who was celebrated as an eminent lawyer and jurist by none as a statesman.

MR. BURNELL'S ADDRESS.

Mr. Burnell, who by pre-arrangement took the chair, addressed the audience, saying that he had the honor of introducing a gentleman whose reputation was great throughout and beyond the Dominion, who was celebrated as an eminent lawyer and jurist by none as a statesman.

MR. BURNELL'S ADDRESS.

Mr. Burnell, who by pre-arrangement took the chair, addressed the audience, saying that he had the honor of introducing a gentleman whose reputation was great throughout and beyond the Dominion, who was celebrated as an eminent lawyer and jurist by none as a statesman.

MR. BURNELL'S ADDRESS.

Mr. Burnell, who by pre-arrangement took the chair, addressed the audience, saying that he had the honor of introducing a gentleman whose reputation was great throughout and beyond the Dominion, who was celebrated as an eminent lawyer and jurist by none as a statesman.

MR. BURNELL'S ADDRESS.

Mr. Burnell, who by pre-arrangement took the chair, addressed the audience, saying that he had the honor of introducing a gentleman whose reputation was great throughout and beyond the Dominion, who was celebrated as an eminent lawyer and jurist by none as a statesman.

MR. BURNELL'S ADDRESS.

Mr. Burnell, who by pre-arrangement took the chair, addressed the audience, saying that he had the honor of introducing a gentleman whose reputation was great throughout and beyond the Dominion, who was celebrated as an eminent lawyer and jurist by none as a statesman.

which he belonged believed that taxation was not a blessing, but a burden, and that the more free the people were from it the better they would be off. Those who raised the expenditure of the country, raised its taxation, and, therefore, incurred great responsibilities to the people, and it was the doctrine of the Liberals that prudence and economy must be practiced in order that taxation might be kept light.

MR. BURNELL'S ADDRESS.

Mr. Burnell, who by pre-arrangement took the chair, addressed the audience, saying that he had the honor of introducing a gentleman whose reputation was great throughout and beyond the Dominion, who was celebrated as an eminent lawyer and jurist by none as a statesman.

MR. BURNELL'S ADDRESS.

Mr. Burnell, who by pre-arrangement took the chair, addressed the audience, saying that he had the honor of introducing a gentleman whose reputation was great throughout and beyond the Dominion, who was celebrated as an eminent lawyer and jurist by none as a statesman.

MR. BURNELL'S ADDRESS.

Mr. Burnell, who by pre-arrangement took the chair, addressed the audience, saying that he had the honor of introducing a gentleman whose reputation was great throughout and beyond the Dominion, who was celebrated as an eminent lawyer and jurist by none as a statesman.

MR. BURNELL'S ADDRESS.

Mr. Burnell, who by pre-arrangement took the chair, addressed the audience, saying that he had the honor of introducing a gentleman whose reputation was great throughout and beyond the Dominion, who was celebrated as an eminent lawyer and jurist by none as a statesman.

MR. BURNELL'S ADDRESS.

Mr. Burnell, who by pre-arrangement took the chair, addressed the audience, saying that he had the honor of introducing a gentleman whose reputation was great throughout and beyond the Dominion, who was celebrated as an eminent lawyer and jurist by none as a statesman.

MR. BURNELL'S ADDRESS.

Mr. Burnell, who by pre-arrangement took the chair, addressed the audience, saying that he had the honor of introducing a gentleman whose reputation was great throughout and beyond the Dominion, who was celebrated as an eminent lawyer and jurist by none as a statesman.

DESSERT.

Apples, Bartlett Pears, Bananas, Water Melons, Grapes, Vanilla Ice Cream, Cheese, Coffee, Tea, etc.

MR. BURNELL'S ADDRESS.

Mr. Burnell, who by pre-arrangement took the chair, addressed the audience, saying that he had the honor of introducing a gentleman whose reputation was great throughout and beyond the Dominion, who was celebrated as an eminent lawyer and jurist by none as a statesman.

MR. BURNELL'S ADDRESS.

Mr. Burnell, who by pre-arrangement took the chair, addressed the audience, saying that he had the honor of introducing a gentleman whose reputation was great throughout and beyond the Dominion, who was celebrated as an eminent lawyer and jurist by none as a statesman.

MR. BURNELL'S ADDRESS.

Mr. Burnell, who by pre-arrangement took the chair, addressed the audience, saying that he had the honor of introducing a gentleman whose reputation was great throughout and beyond the Dominion, who was celebrated as an eminent lawyer and jurist by none as a statesman.

MR. BURNELL'S ADDRESS.

Mr. Burnell, who by pre-arrangement took the chair, addressed the audience, saying that he had the honor of introducing a gentleman whose reputation was great throughout and beyond the Dominion, who was celebrated as an eminent lawyer and jurist by none as a statesman.

MR. BURNELL'S ADDRESS.

Mr. Burnell, who by pre-arrangement took the chair, addressed the audience, saying that he had the honor of introducing a gentleman whose reputation was great throughout and beyond the Dominion, who was celebrated as an eminent lawyer and jurist by none as a statesman.

MR. BURNELL'S ADDRESS.

Mr. Burnell, who by pre-arrangement took the chair, addressed the audience, saying that he had the honor of introducing a gentleman whose reputation was great throughout and beyond the Dominion, who was celebrated as an eminent lawyer and jurist by none as a statesman.