The Astute and Mysterious Sir John

are now putting on the war-paint and The Government organs have discovered indications of Sir John A. Macdonald's intent to pass a liquor law .-

In brief, they attach most profound and ominous importance to the fact that, in some speech, somewhere, at some time. he said something which they sum up as meaning that the Premier intends to make "a coup de main !" The organs have, not yet, brought the subject out of the nebulous atmosphere of ifs and supposes. They protest that they do not know anything of the mysterious mind of Sir John in reference to the matter, but they hint that as the highest Court of the Realm has made it clear that the Dominion Parliament power to regulate the liquor traffic for the whole Dominion, Sir John is, essentially, the man to step in and have a

It is understood that the Hon. John Costigan favors a change in the tariff on tobacco, as asked for by several Montrea firms. It is claimed that at present the law is deficient and the revenue depart. ment does not receive all it is entitled to. The contention of manufacturers, on the other hand, is that they pay all the law calls for.

At a meeting of the shareholders of the Bank of Nova Scotia, held at Halifax, on Monday last, a resolution was passed authorizing the directors to amalgamate the Bank with the Union Bank of P. E. A circular just issued by D. Pottinger. Esq., Chief Supt. I C. R. to station masters and Conductors reads :-- "Passengers must not be carried on special freight trains, and ticket agents must not sell tickets to persons who wish to travel by such trains." This order will most serionsly affect the business of towns along the line with country districts and shows that the management does not care whether local traffic is promoted and local trade benefitted by the road or not.

While many of the papers of the Do minion have been making light of the ex odus and misrepresenting it grossly and not at all ingeniously, the Bishop of Quebec has considered it sufficiently serious to make it the subject of an earnest pastoral. He deplores the departure of young people from Quebec and exhorts the men to do as their fathers did, make homes for themselves in the wilderness. His Lordship says that the life of a farmer, even contrary effects will be produced by an in the backwoods, is in every way preferable to the life of a factory hand in the large cities of the United States.

question to a great chemist, M. J. B. Dumas, whose report is published in the The most contemptible fraud that has bulletin of the Societe d' Agriculture (1882, been practiced upon farmers and others in No. 5). M. Dumas decides in favor the last few years is the selling of immense cane sugar, while the minister himself has packs of worthless horse and cattle powders. There is only one kind now knewn shown a certain preference for alcohol, as he proposed on February 23, 1882, that in this country that are unadulterated and spirits used for the manufacture of wine those are Sheridan's.

This is the lament of the Ottawa Free Press over the political decease of Mr Domville :- "Well may we say-Poor Domville !- After devoting ten of the best years of his life to the service of the Conservative party ; having given his means and his energies to the cause, he finds himself after all an outcast, driven from the political fold where he once considered himself the favorite lamb. Alas, for the vanity of human wishes
