Peter Mitchell as a candidate for Northumberland at the coming elections." The World has not gone quite so far as that, but it has intimated that Mr. Mitchell will, probably, be in the field and, of course, predicted his return by an overwhelming majority. If we remember rightly the Times and Advocate did the same thing in 1878. The Halifax Herald, at that time, also, said "it really seems as if Mr. Snowball is determined to put Mr. Mitchell "to the trouble of a contest," etc. Now, the Times, the World and Advocate are pretending to believe that disinterested proprietors of that Mr. Mitchell can beat Mr. Snowball. nearly as badly as the organs said he would do in 1878. This is all very absurd, of course, but that does not prevent its being published, for i seems to be a pronounced characteristic of Tory papers, to imagine their readers will believe a thing against light and reason, simply because they choose to assert it. But, what is the of the party they have ever supported, reason they give for their professed belief? Is it because Mr. Mitchell has turned Conservative, in humble imitation of Sir Leonard Tilley, and because the Conservatives happen to be in power? Is is because of the liberality of the Conservative Government—with its millions of surplus -towards Northumberland? Is it ciple may be approved by those the taxation that Northumberland's toilers have had exacted from them to create that surplus? Is it because the publishers of the World have, in their boasted administration of the Dominion Government's patronage conferred any benefits upon any but themselves and a few of their creatures? The appropriations of the Dominion Government which reach any of the New Brunswick constituencies for Public Works placed beside the millions, lands and franchises given to the Syndicate, and the hundreds of thousands thrown away upon such favorites of the Tory Government as Onderdonk, are a fitting measure of the regard in which the people Mr. Mitchell is asked to

Is there anything in the traditions of the Liberals of Northumberland to merit this insult? They are charged with abandoning their faith in the principle; for what? Not in order that they may support some more enlightened safe and loyal policy, but because a few thousand dollars more may be placed at the disposal of the very jobbers in public plunder who advise them to dishonor their political record. they are, and how eminently qualified they must be as associates in language, taste and temper for the publishers of the World. It appears that the "gentlemen concerned" are, according to the World, 'Mr. Burns, Mr. Young and Mr. Turgeon," and the World goes on to enter a general denial of the statements of our Bathurst correspondent. We have taken especial pains to inform ourselves correctly in reference to the alleged "lies," and find that our correspondent has been very correct in his statements, and we should like very much to see any decent evidence that either Mr. Burns or Mr. Turgeon has authorized the contradiction of anything we have stated concerning them, respectively. As for Mr. Young, we should not be surprised at his denying his trip to Ot-Ottawa, but that would not alter the fact that he was there - a fact which we reassert on authority that will be believed in Gloucester, were he even to swear to the contrary. Gliding from the full editorial style of statement to hat under the heading of Bathurst notes. the World makes a characteristic persona attack upon the person in Bathurst whom it is pleased to detect as the writer of our editorials, and it really gives him credit for supplying certain information respecting Mr. Turgeon, which he first learned. no doubt, from our columns. For a "boy" he seems to have stirred up some weighty "men"-" interested gentlemen"-in a very lively manner, if we are to judge by their squirming The World says this boy is "the same who, in the St. John Globe, called going to Manitoba, the exodus." If the World, or its Bathurst inspirer, who are so much afraid of the word, exodus, will consult their dictionaries they will not shy at it so much after learning their ignorance. They accuse our correspondent of saying, in the Globe, that a great number had left for the United S ates. when only one-"a friend of the quond m editor'-had gone. In reply to that we may state that, on the morning referred to, twelve persons left, and on a morning a short time before that a party of sixteen went. These latter were disgusted with the "ticket" system and "half cash" and went to the lumber woods of Wisconsin and Michigan. It is well known that parties of two and three have been leaving Bathurst and vicinity at intervals - some for Manitoba, others for the Western States. We think then that we do not go

The remarks as to the telegram from Sir Leonard Tilley are only a reiteration of our correspondent's statement on that head. As matters now stand there is no Government candidate in Gloucester, Mr. Burns to the contrary, notwithstanding. We learn that Mr Turgeon has begun his canvass in the lower end of the county, and we notice hat a leading Conservative paper declares him to be "the Conservative candidate at the approaching elections.' So that Mr. Burns need not think that

The World writer states, doubtless on "the highest authority," that Mr. Burns is not in the habit of confiding his mighty deliberations and august understandings with the Government to the public generally. Well, the telegram in question was handed around Bathurst and showed to scores of people some of whom were credulous enough to believe the negative of the telegram true, viz: that Mr. Burns was the chosen of the Government. This idea was only shattered a few days after.

Our critic has, also, the audcaity to state that nobody in Bathurst knew Ottawa. Our correspondent saw a letter from a gentleman in Ottawa re ceived prior to Mr. Young's return, in which he says that he saw Mr. Young in Ottawa the day he was writ-

As to the fact whether Mr. Burns had an interview with Mr. Young on a particular night, it matters little whether he had a meeting with him on Sunday night, or on Monday night or on any other night, for that matter. The question which the Electors of Gloncester would like to have answered is whether it is true that meetings of these parties have taken place? Is it true that Mr. Burns, who denounced man without character, a man with whom he could not associate, the head and front of the Caraquet riots, against whom nothing too bad could be said. -is it true that he is now going to extend the right hand of fellowship to this man,-that he is now going to take him to his bosom, and sink those principles and that honor which many believed he possessed, in order that he might possibly attain to the height of his ambi-

In this connection we may say that the electors of Gloucester think it, to say the least, rather remarkable that Mr. Burns, who has always stood, tooth and nail, against the present local administration, and has always, heretofore, endeavoured to get a candidate opposed to it in the field, should now observe absolute neturality, and be unwilling even to express his opinion The World is good and courteous in reference to that administration as in the past. Truth cuts, but is mighty and shall prevail. The coward who could, knowing the ill-health of another, make such base and unmanly insinuations, as the World writer has done in reference to our correspondent, is worthy only of the contempt of all honorable, right-feeling men. The disgust and indignation which, we learn, the people of Bathurst expressed on reading the World article and letter, sufficiently attest the popularity of our correspondent and the high esteem in which he is held. The flippancy and badly constructed character of the World communication are evidence of the unlettered mind of its author or Lessons of Life. The New York Sun gives the followng sketch of one of the characteristic hases of life on this side of the Atlan-"In the summer of 1836 a barefooted boy was on his way to Honesdale Pa., walking the tow-path of a canal. When still forty miles from his destination, he was overtaken by a canal boat. He was asked to jump aboard the boat and ride, which he did. On the boat was a Scotch family, just landed in America, who were on their way to the Pennsylvania coal-fields. One of its members was a boy the same age of the young pedestrian, eleven years strong friendship grew up between the wo boys by the time they reached Honesdale. The Scotch family went on to Carbondale, the centre of the Lackawanna coal-field. The boy who had been given a ride in the boat obtained employment on the canal. His friend, the Scotch boy, worked in the mines for a short time as mule boy. Both he and the former barefoot both rose in the company's service. The Scotch boy of forty-six years ago is Thomas Dickson, President of the Delaware and Hudson Canal Company; his friend, the other boy, is Col. F. Young, General Manager of the company, and President of its Albany and Susquehanna Railroad system. ,, It is needless to say that both boys were faithful in business, frittering away no time that could be given to improving their minds, that they were not frequenters of places where the idle and dissolute wasted their lives and means. or forgetful of the fact, so often lost sight of by young men of the present day, that life is all too short for even the most sober and studious to accomplish the possibilities of a full manhood, and that every moment spent in idleness or dissipation is precious time lost forever-moments which, well-employed, might be made steps to wealth, great ness and honor. Be faithful in busi ness, sober and vigilant.

A Wealthy Newspaper Man.

James Gordon Bennett, proprietor the New York Herald, is quite unlike most of his newspaper brethren, being wealthy and having abundant leisure. He is a thorough-going vachtsman and owns quite a large fleet. His new yacht, the "Namouna," is the largest and most costly fitted out steam yacht ever built in the United States, She is of iron, has three masts, and is of about 700 tons capacity. Her dimensions, in fact, exceed those of the first ocean steamers, she being about 227 feet over all, 217 feet water line, 26 feet beam. The "Namouna" has both hand and steam steering gear and steam windlass and capstan. The barrel of the capstan and head are solid bronze and nickle plated and galvanized and fancy brass work abound all over the Rai's, bulwarks, skylights, comb ings. &c., are of teak, as are the panellings of the deck houses. The "Namouna has a double tandem, vertical compound engine, surface condenser, two high pressure cylinders, 23 by 28, and two low ones 42 by 28. She has two cylindrical boilers. She carries 150 tons of coal in bunkers, and has a condensing paratus that supplies plenty of fresh daily. The accommodations for owner and guests are forward and those of officers and crew are aft. Namouna" is lighted with electric lamps. The main saloon, staterooms, and ladies' saloons are exquisitely decorated and furnished. Mr. Eennett is to leave of the Island. The local elections, howknow whether the drift and substance ever, to-day had come off in the Island, and the issue had been of course the National Policy. The Opposition, as a matter of course opponents of the Local Conservative Government, had represented that the Island would be ruined by the Conservative Administration at Ottawa, which, it was urged, was heavily taxing them. It was represented that this taxation and the National Policy would of course almost annihilate them. However, he was happy to say that the SUPPORTED THE NATIONAL POLICY, had

The School Examinations.

The examinations denoting the end of the school term began in the different districts of Chatham on Wednesday, 26th April, and our reports, though necessarily brief, have been unavoidably delayed until the present issue.

MISS HAVILAND'S SCHOOL.

In the middle district, the primary school, taught by Miss Haviland, was the first visited, and both trustees and parents were highly pleased with the progress made by the pupils, under that most faithful and intelligent teacher. The discipline was much higher than that generally found in schools of the same grade, and the wile-awake promptness of the ittle ones, in displaying their knowledge, was very creditable indeed. For such small children, the drawing performed by them on the black-board was particularly good. Among the most pleasing features of the day were the different dialogues and recitations. The first dialogue was by Willie McKay, James Flood, Frank Blair, Harry Shank, George Howard and Milton Morrison. The second dialogue was by Susie Gillespie, Gertie Jackson and Annie Mairhead. The recitations were delivered by Maggie Walls, Katherine Benson, Minnie McLean, Bessie Vanstone, Reta Sinclair, and simultaneous recitation by the whole school, all of which were very pleasing. The Rev. Mr. Teed. Mr. Thos. Crimmen and Mr. Palmer delivered addresses and expressed their pleasure

MISS WILLISTON'S SCHOOL.

On Thursday, the examination in Miss Williston's school took place. The children marched in, singing, and then standing sang that much admired song, "The old Wooden Rocker that stands by the Wall," in an excellent manner. Classes A and B were then called up in arithmetic, and proved themselves generally very proficient; next followed a recitation by Master Fred. Howard, which was very well rendered. Class A was then examined in Algebra, which was followed by a recitation by Miss Nellie Benson, after which, classes A and B were examined in Canadian History. The Junior classes then exhibited some maps on their slates, and Mr. Palmer closed the work of the day by examining class A in chemistry. Besides the above-mentioned recitations which was equal to any of the previous nation in that district ladies only have ones in that school, the efficient teacher attended. of which is so well known, that it is needless to dwell further on the examination in that department. Those present were Mr. Robt. Murray, Prof. McCurdy, W. B. Howard, J. L. Stewart, Alex. Marshall and many ladies.

MR. PALMER'S SCHOOL.

The High School examination took place on Friday, April 28th, when the pupils were examined in the work gone since Mr. Palmer's taking charge of the school. The work of the day began by class A drawing maps of Scotland and England from memory on their slates, which was followed by readng from No. 5 Royal Reader. The pup were also examined in Geometry, Com position, Arithmetic, Latin and Grammar; the last mentioned class being examined by Miss Williston. The children proved themselves proficient in all the subjects in which they were examined. At the close of the examination, the teacher explained that as he had been teaching here but a short time the examinations was not as complete as the visitors might have expected, and said that had he been here a greater length of time he would have endeavored to have some songs and recitations, which would have rendered the examination less tedious to visitors, as well as to the children. He had examined the classes only in the subjects, and only so far in the subjects as he had taught them since coming; therefore the examination was much shorter than usual; but, at next semi annual examination, he hoped to have them much better prepared. Mr. Wm. Murray was called upon and delivered an address in which he expressed nimself highly pleased, both with the children and teacher. Those present were the Rev. Messrs. Teed and McCurdy, and Messrs. G. B. Fraser, Wm. Murray. Dr. McCurdy, J. Wallace, J. L. Stewart and a number of ladies.

MR. MC'INTOSH'S SCHOOL. The examination of the school taught by

Mr. Jas. McIntosh and Miss Creighton in district 8, took place on Thursday morn ing, 27th, in presence of a good number of visitors. The pupils were examined in Reading, Spelling, Composition, Mental and slate Arithmetic, Map drawing, Drawing, Printing, Writing, First Principals of Book Keeping, Recitations, etc. Several of the recitations by the little ones were very good, while among the larger ones, 'The Life-boat," by five pupils, "Woodman Spare that Tree," by Miss Hannah Stewart and "The Three Bells," by Miss Eiza Wilson were much admired by the visitors. The last mentioned one, in particular, could scarcely be surpassed. Master D. Cribbs, Jas. Wilson, Tuos. Hackett, Willie McLachlan, Miss E. Craig, and Eliza Johnson also gave recitations. The Drawing, Printing, Writing and Book Keeping were very neat, and the Arithmetic exercises, in all the grades, were done neatly, rapidly and correctly. The examination, generally, showed that the pupils, as well as the teachers had done good work during the year. At the close of the day's proceedings the pupils presented Mr. McIntoeh with a writing desk and the following address :-

Signed, Your affectionate pupils. Mr. McIntosh replied briefly, saying that on account of the pleasant surprise, he was unable to make a long reply, but Local Conservative Government, WHO could only thank them very much for their nice present and the good wishes and words expressed in the address which

THE CONVENT SCHOOLS.

The Convent schools were examined last Friday. In the morning, the primary department, taught by M.ss Horigan, was examined in reading, writing on slates, map drawing, arithmetic and geography. The reading was very good and the map drawing and writing on slates were much admired by the examiners. The wordbuilding and distinction of colors by grade one, were much enjoyed by the visitors. The recitations and songs were pleasing features of the examination. At the close of the exercises, the Rev. T. J. Bannon and Mr. Jas. Connors congratulated the pupils on the progress made during the year.

In the afternoon, Miss Quinlan's department, consisting of five grades, was examined in Reading, Arithmetic, Grammar Map-drawing, History, Algebra, Geometry, etc. The reading was remarkably good, and the answers to the grammar questions were readily and correctly given. In geometry the questions asked were somewhat difficult, being new to the pupils, but they were all correctly answered. In the other branches the pupils passed a good examination, showing a clear knowledge of the different subjects. Recitations by Minnie Curran, and Josie MILLINERY, HATS, Noonan were well received, as was also a dialogue by Bessie O'Keefe, Lizzie Mc-Intosh and Fanny Overton. The essays of Susie Morrison, Eliza Gaynor, Annie Stapledon, and Emily Doyle, were justly praised by the visitors. The singing in parts during the exercises, was extremely good and we can safely say is not surpassed by that of any school in the Province. At the close of the examination, Mr. Jas. Connors spoke briefly of the success of the pupils and congratulated the teachers on the success that attended their labors of the past year.

On Wednesday, 26th, the first school xamined in the Lower District was that taught by Miss Davidson, who, by tne advancement made by her pupils appears to be a very clever teacher.

MR. CLARK'S SCHOOL. In the afternoon the senior department, under the superintendence of Mr. Clark, was examined in the different branches in connection with a public school course, and elicited great praise from the visitors present. The semi-annual examination of this school was held on Friday the 28th April. The pupils were examined in Reading, Arithmetic and Geography, with exercises on the map. Class A were examined in the history of Acadia, with exercises on the map. Recitations were given by Robert Ferguson, Alex. McLean and Charlie Noble. Robina Noble read a short sketch of the life of Longfellow, written by herself, and gave a recitation, "The Bridge." The reading in all the classes was particularly good, and the copy books showed that the pupils were not neglected in that branch of their studies. There were 14 visitors present. Master Jonathan B. Noble took the only prize offered for the most regular attendance. Mr. A. G. Williston, one of the trustees, at the close of the examination, spoke of how well satisfied he and his associate trustees were with the progress the pupils were making in this school. Miss Robertson, the teacher, certainly is to be congratulated on the progress made by her pupils since she has taken charge of this school. For weeks, during the past winter, she has had to use snowshoes to get to the school-no matter. storm or shine, she was ever found at her post. She is one of the best teachers in the County and is equalled by few-such is the opinion of Inspector Cox.

NO. 5, HARDWICKE. The half-yearly examination in the school taught by Miss Hamlin took place on Friday the 28th, in the presence of a few visitors, among the number being the Rev. W. J. Wilkinson. The pupils acquitted themselves creditably in the different branches they were examined in. The Reading, Arithmetic and Geography were particularly fine. Compositions were read and Recitations were given by a few of the pupils. The visitors and parents eulogized Miss Hamlin for the remarkable progress made by the pupils since she has had charge of this school.
