BEATEN. - Referring to the 41 lb. beet noticed in last week's paper Mr. Richard Attridge of Doaktown writes us that he raised a beet this year which weighed 5 lbs. 4 oz. and had several others weighing 43 lbs. Next.

MARRIAGE, -Mr. Lionel H. Buck, C. E., eldest son of the late Walter M. Buck, Esq., C. E., was married on Thursday last at St. Andrews. His friends here heartily join in wishing him much happiness in his new condition of life.

WE DO NOT advertise for persons who want to challenge others to fight. When a fellow comes to this office with that kind of advertisement we offer to stand the expense of a bottle of soothing syrup for him, rather than mar our columns with such trash.

LARGE POTATOES .- We have received from Jas. McLean, Esq., sixteen early rose and mountain white potatoes of very smooth shape and fine appearance which weigh 141 lbs. They were grown in Mr. McLean's field, at Tabusintac, and not in the garden and in size, appearance and flavor are hard to beat.

BUILDING LOTS. -- A rare opportunity is ing nice building lots, by the sale of the Loban lands, which is to take place on Tuesday next, 31st inst. A new street has been laid out which runs from Water Street up through the lots, which run at right angles from it on either side. They are 40 in number and measure 60x150 ft.

BEAR SHOT .- Yesterday morning about eight o'clock, Mr. John Wood, while on the highway road in the rear of the front lots, Douglastown, observed a bear worry ing a sheep in Mr. Hugh Hunter's field. Mr. Wood called his son Robert who came with a gun and as the bear made off shot it just as it was going over the fence. It was a spring cub, no doubt, as it was about the size of the average Newfoundland dog.

ANOTHER YEAR. - We hope subscribers will bear in mind that next week's paper will close our eighth volume and bring their pay day around. We have a good many on our list who are considerably in arrears, and are making out their accounts with a view of placing them for collection in our Attorney's hands. Delinquents will please take notice that when we have placed these accounts for collection they will not have so easy a time with the lawyer as they have had with us.

THE " ADVOCATE" entered upon its sixteenth year yesterday and congratulates itself on the largest advertising patronage of any local journal and a constantly increasing circulation. Of course, "sweet from bonded warehouse, Chatham-no sixteen" is generally allowed to indulge | bill. the idea that everybody is in love with it and it is a pity it has to confess there is even one exception to the rule. If it will only let us know the one paper that is such bad friends with it we will endeavor to make an appeal in its favor for we always like to help the weak and erring. We hope the Advocate will continue to learn wisdom with increasing years and deserve and realise increasing prosperity.

DROWNING. - A sad accident occurred at Campbellton Sunday afternoon by which a lady, Mrs. Ryan and her brother a young man named Malcolm were E. P. Williston, for plff., A. A. Davidson drowned. Mr. Ryan, his wife and brother-in law and a man named Cole, left Campbellton in a canoe to cross the river to Indian Point. When about midway the canoe upset, but Ryan and Cole still clung to it, while Malcolm threw off his coat and endeavoured to swim to the shore, but sank before assistance reached him. The two men were rescued from the canoe, and, although Mrs. Ryan's body was found almost immediately, every effort to restore life proved unsuccessful. Malcolm's body has not yet been found.

THE REASON WHY .- If the Advocate elected Auditor. The sum voted for the will refer to its issue of Dec. 19th, 1877 it will not be "at a loss to know" why we reply to its personal allusions as we did last week in giving publicity to a rumor which that paper now says we know is not founded on fact. We believed the rumor to be well founded and had good reason to do so, or would not have given publicity to it. At the same time we are quite willing to accept the Advocate's indirect denial. We hope, however, that so long as the blot of Dec. 19th, 1877, remains on the Advocate's pages, it will not be so silly as to say "we are at a loss to know." The Advocate begun that kind of warfare when the ADVANCE was in a mition to be injured thereby. Now, we a blished and it cannot hurt us. If it is isses to - forget its unprovoked and uncondoned offences, we cannot be expected to have a

THE MUNICIPAL COUNCIL.—Coun. Mc-Laughlin has determined not to run again for the representation of the Parish of Chatham, while Councillor Loggie, who has commended himself to the tepayers by his course during the past year, is again nominated. The Streets.

MR. EDITOR, -- I hope that the ratepayers will pledge Chatham candidates for Municipal honors against appointing road commissioners who will not let the repairs of the streets by contract. They ought badly cared for as they are and of the obsolete style of commissioner whose idea of his position is to make his office a means of maintaning his horses and store. We want commissioners who are above doing that kind of thing.

Yours truly. MR. NEWDEAL.

The weather was so unfavorable yesterday as to render the postponement of the opening meeting of the Chatham Driving Park necessary and the races were, accordingly, postponed until to-morrow, Friday, when those down for the first day will come off provided there is a fair day and track, to be followed on the next day by the County and "free for all" races. Newcastle people would, no doubt, like to have the Andover put on to run excursionists down to Chatham at about one o'clock as the St. Louis is far too small to accommodate all who would come if they were afforded an opportunity of doing so. It has always been customary for the Andover to accommodate the public on such occasions and this one should not be made an exception.

The arrangements of the Directors of the Park for two days excellent sport are fully appreciated by many of the best breeders and owners of fine horses in the Maritime provinces, and although the season is late it is gratifying that so many have responded to the announcement of the opening meeting.

ABOUT THE MAILS.

The new mail driver has been at his work since the first of October and makes good time. The mail, since contractor Noble has driven it, bas never been later It was called to order by the Trustees and than 4 o'clock reaching the McLean Post Office, where "Those poor Hardwood people," get their letters and papers. Contractor Ullock could not, of course, get the mail at early dawn in Chatham, and no person in Hardwick ever found fault with him. There never was a more obliging contractor, nor could any driver rish, 2nd. do more to oblige every person along his route than Mr. Ullock. Both the present and the late drivers have made good time and no better can be made unless the Steamer Lorne succeeds in getting on the route and the World's correspondent has charge of her. We published a letter last week in reference to the Escuminac Mail, and have several references by correspondents this week to the same subject. These letters are from gentlemen who are in the best possible position to know the facts, and none of them would be inclined to favor a contractor who did not do his work in a reasonably faithful manner. They agree in pronouncing the attack made on the mail contractor by a correspondent of the World an unfounded and unjust one. Our second correspondent writes under date of 18th-

In the last World there is a letter signed "Pat, Hardwoods;"-He says we have had a mail down here twice a week all summer and it is of no use at all. His statement is not true. The mail to this place twice a week, though some times late, was a great benefit to the people. -I think most of the people down here have excused the late mail carrier for being some times a little late, for, if we are to believe the paper publishing the attack. there has been a good many bears on the road during the summer and I know a good many young women have been looking for chances to get to Chatham. These say the carrier was very obliging in helping them along and would not make any charge or take any reward for conveying now to be tired of our streets being so Bathurst and Beresford Agricul- them to or from Chatham and I do not know what better things "Pat" expected when Mr. Noble got the reins. Escaping Prisoner Shot Dead.

On Monday morning last about ter clock two convlcts named Perry and Rogers, belonging to the division known as Fegan's gang, who were at work near the edge of the Dorchester penitentiary enclosure, in the cellar of a house that is being built for the engineer of the institution, attempted to escape. It is said that they watched their opportunity and made a rush for liberty while the boss was on and passed down through Escuminac be- the other side of the building from them. The attempt was a fool-hardy one and could have only been designed by simple minds, as the place where they were workwatch towers where armed guards are constantly stationed, with orders to shoot down any prisoners seen crossing the line without escort. The space over which they had to dash to reach the cover of the woods, was so situated that in traversing it they would be exposed to almost a cross fire at short range. It was, in fact, courting almost certain death to attempt an escape in that direction. As soon as the two prisoners darted out from the apply to spot at which they had been working, they were seen by the guard in the tower of the gate, who gave the alarm, and several shots were fired in the air to warn them to stop. They refused to heed the signals and kept on at a rapid rate. Mr. John E. Turnbull and his men, who were working at a farmer's house in an adjoining field, hearing the noise and taking in the situation, headed off Rogers and compelled him to surrender. Perry, however, got into the open woods, closely pursued, and though repeatedly fired over by warning shots, persistently refused to stop. He was at length shot down by one o the guards. The bullet entered his back on the left side and passed through to the right breast causing instantaneous death. McAvity's Brass Foundry. (From the "Telegraph.") Messrs. T. McAvity & Sons, whose business has greatly increased within the past few years, are about moving their manu. facturing branch into more extended quarters. The Merritt building, on Water street, near the Ferry landing, has been Tuesday, 31st October, inst., leased by this firm and is being fitted up for their business. A new building, 60x40 feet and one storey high, has been erected in the rear of the main building which about the same size and three stories high. At present, they will occupy a portion of the main building, but after May 1st will take in the whole structure. This will give them double the room they now have and increased facilities for extending their already large business. The new building in the rear is fitted up as a moulding shop. Here all manner of brass castings will be made. This shop is fitted up with all the latest improvements, including a large blast furnace for melting brass and other metals of which the goods turned out are made. The boiler which supplies the steam to drive the large engine is also in the shop. The engine is in the main building, a few feet from the boiler. The rear of the main floor is set apart for custom work, and also for the storage of iron steam pipe and fitting of second floor will be fitted up especially for steam goods such as gauges cocks, globe valves, water gauges, steam gauges and dozens of other articles used by steamfitters and about engines and boilers. This work will be made a specialty. The third floor is reserved to the manufacture of builders' hardware, including mortise locks and everything necessary in the hardware line that is used for the fini- 1882. shing of houses. Messrs. McAvity make a specialty of bronze goods and some of the designs are very artistic. Ships' brass work has always been a specialty and the workmanship of the articles offered by them is of the best. Much new machinery is being added and with increased facilities, there is no reason why they should not be able to extend their business to an almost unlimited extent. An excellent market has been found in the west and already a number of shipments have been forwarded to Monreal and other Canadian towns.
