THE SALMON FISHING is excellent in both Bay and river at Bathurst. J. De Wolfe Spurr, Esq., of St. John and J. W. be going from bad to worse. There are with. two very good reasons why this should be so. The first is because, although Chatham is a town with some 5000 people in it, there has never been more than one or two street commissioners who understood even the first principles of streetmaking or maintenance, while all of them have had to contend against an insufficiency of funds to carry on their work. This year the town appears to be worse off than ever and we are credibly of that sort at a point several miles up trict. Cyrus S. Wells was chosen as the river. The Dominion Election Law provides for a separate screen any day when she chooses to seize them. room, for the voter only while marking his ballot, and that no person shall be present when he is doing so, unless he is unable to properly mark the ballot, when he will have the assistance of qualified persons. Why were the Local Government's Supervisor of Roads and other persons allowed to remain during election hours in the screen room while voters were marking their ballots? Objections were made by electors to presiding officers against the illegal presence in the room of those persons but they were unnoticed. Special Notice!

Extract from the speech of Surveyor-General Adams on Declaration Day, June 26th, 1882, at the Newcastle Court House. "He now gave Mr. Smith notice that he and his friends had determined to annihilate him; his time had come in Northumberland !- the grave was dug and he was to be buried deep and not have enough friends left to attend the funeral. War was to be made on him from this day-war bitter that he must be exterminated. Mr. Smith, as the local public know, is editor and proprietor of the MIRAMICHI ADVANCE, which has-in a fair way and other -opposed the Government of which Mr. Adams is a member. True to the threat made by the latter gentleman. both he and his friends are doing a great deal that is unfair and dishonorable to prevent people from subscribing to the ADVANCE and, also, to keep job printing from being sent to Mr. Smith's office .-The Surveyor-General by himself and a few persons under his influence—has been engaged in circulating mis-statements of all kinds against Mr. Smith and his business, and exercising malice in the matter which is very unmanly and a disgrace to increased rail accommodation between been exercised for a short time to conceal on the second page, but it came too late the office he holds.
