CHATHAM, OCTOBER 19, 1882.

Northumberland Agricultural Society's Exhibition.

The Stock Show and Ploughing match of the above Society was held on Tuesday last, on the field of John O'Brien, Esq., Nelson, (the Sutton field) commencing at ten o'clock a. m. Rain fell briskly about eight o'clock and continued for an hour, after which, there was an hour or two fairly dry, when rain again set in and continued until evening.

This state of the weather no doubt, prevented many intending exhibitors from being present. As it was, however, there were twenty two members of the Society who exhibited fifty-six animals for prizes, besides some who sent animals for exhibition but not for competition. There were also six members who competed in the Ploughing match, this competition being, however, below the average in the number of competitors.

The field was laid off for the ploughing match by ten o'clock, the ground being unfavourably to first class work on account of the old ploughing ridges being of different widths and, in some cases, not parallel. The soil, too, was somewhat gravelly in places, which was against well-turned furrowing.

The places assigned to the different animals were marked in large letters and each entry was tagged so as to show its number, age, kind, and class. The President, B. Stapleton, Esq., the Secretary, Mr. D. T. Johnston and the Treasurer, Mr. John Galloway, were assisted in conducting the exhibition by other members of the Board, and everything seemed to be as satisfactory carried out as possible, there being no complaints. An error or two occurred in reporting upon animals for premiums but these were promptly rectified.

The exhibitors and number of exhibits were as follows:—Enoch Fleet, 1; Alex. Henderson, 3; Jeremiah McCarthy, 1; James Falconer, 3; Jas. O'Hearn, 1; John O'Brien, 2; Jas. Fitzpatrick, 4; Wm. Martin, 4; Thos. Vanstone, 2; Joseph Jardine, 1; Jas. Irving, 1; John Galloway, 2; Geo. Dick, 4; Alex. Dickson, 5; John Johnston, 2; George P. Searle, 2; Wm. Searle, 1; John Baldwin, 2; Geo. Trevors, 1; J. B. Snowball, 8; Rich'd Burke, 1; Alex. Fleet, 2; Wm. Welsh, 3.

The list of awards is as follows:—

John O'Brien, Esq., made a contribution of his two prizes to the Society.

Mr. Alex. Henderson exhibited a 2 year old entire Rysdyk which was much admired. There was no premium for animals of that class, but special mention was made of Mr. Henderson's exhibit by the Judges and endorsed by the Board.

Messrs. John O'Brien and J. B. Snowball's Rysdyk fillets attracted much attention as did also the Ayrshire bull and Berkshire swine exhibited by the latter gentleman.

A litter of nine Berkshire pigs a few weeks old, from the Station farm, were on the ground for exhibition but were not entered for prizes. They were pronounced little beauties.

The members of the Board were entertained at dinner by John O'Brien, Esq., who it is needless to say, proved an excellent host, and, indeed, it may be said that the interest taken by Mr. O'Brien in the exhibition, from first to last, contributed in no small degree to its success.

At a meeting of the Board, held at the close of the Exhibition, Robert Swin, Esq., was nominated as the representative of the Northumberland Agricultural Society at the Provincial Board of Agriculture.

It was also decided to hold the Annual meeting of the Society at the Canada House, Chatham, on Tuesday, 14th November.

Liverpool Wood Market.

In their Liverpool Wood Circular of 2nd inst., Messrs. Farnworth & Jardine say,

"The arrivals from British North America during the past month have been 22 vessels 18,048 tons, against 46 vessels 29,640 tons during the corresponding month last year, and the aggregate tonnage to this date, from all places, in the years 1880, 1881, and 1882, has been 336,791, 255,869, and 283,843 tons respectively.

"The market has been very quiet, the arrivals have been much less than during September last year, and there has been a corresponding falling-off in the deliveries. Stocks however are very moderate, and though the late advance in price of some articles may have temporarily checked the consumption, the market may be considered as healthy and the prospects good.

"Quebec Yellow Pine Timber, notwithstanding the comparatively high prices, continues in good demand, and the month's deliveries slightly exceed those of last year. The sales of St. John Pine have been very small. There has been more inquiry, but the consumption is limited. Elm fairly maintains its value, and the stock is moderate. Ash of good quality meets with ready sale at fair prices. Oak continues in good demand, and prices are fully maintained. Pine Deals are inquired for and prices are improving; the stock is less than half of last year's.

"The stock of New Brunswick and Nova Scotia Spruce Deals is really about the same as last month, the recent arrivals, though nearly all sold, appearing in the stock, but not in the consumption. There has been an unusually small import for the month of September, only about one-third of last year, and the sales have been correspondingly small, the late advance in prices has checked the demand, and we have rarely had a quieter month at any time of the year. Birch is wanted and commands full prices; the stock is light.

We have no nervous tonic at once so reliable and convenient as Fellows' Compound Syrup of Hypophosphites, and we therefore, gladly recommend it in the cases of such organs as depend for health upon involuntary muscular action.

Death of Rev. H. McKeown.

Many of our citizens learned with pained surprise, on Monday, of the death of Rev. Hezekiah McKeown which took place at Sussex on Saturday morning at an early hour. Mr. McKeown was pastor of the Methodist Church, Chatham, for three years and during that time enjoyed the genuine friendship of all classes of citizens. The Telegraph says,

Mr. McKeown, who was a native of Nova Scotia, and who studied at the Wesleyan University, Middletown, Conn., was characterized by a genial disposition and by religious zeal and fervor. What his hand found to do in religious, educational, temperance or other matters, he did it with his might. Wherever he was placed, at St. Stephen, Carleton, St. John, etc., his ministerial and pastoral services were characterised by the same spirit.—He rose to the highest position in the Methodist Church, having been President of the Conference, in which capacity he attended the anniversary exercises at Sackville in that year, taking a deep interest in its proceedings, while at the same time he was gratified by visiting his distinguished position by his son, an alumnus of the college. The deceased was only in his 56th year, though in the 30th year of his ministry. He was well and intimately known to the editor of the Telegraph, and we tender to his suddenly stricken wife and to all the members of his family, including two brothers, both in the ministry, the expression of our deepest sympathy.

A meeting of the members of Exmouth street Methodist Church was held Sunday afternoon, when the session of the Sunday School had closed, to consider what action should be taken regarding the funeral of the Rev. Hezekiah McKeown, their late pastor. It was decided that a procession should be formed at the Intercolonial Railway depot, on the arrival of the train that will bring the body from Sussex, and move to the Exmouth street church where the funeral services will be held. The pall-bearers will be the resident clergymen of the district. The funeral sermon will be preached by the chairman of the St. John district, Rev. D. Currie, pastor of the Centenary Church.

Touching allusions were yesterday (Sunday) made to Mr. McKeown's death by both Rev. Dr. Pope, who preached in the morning, and by the pastor, Rev. John Reid, who occupied the pulpit in the evening. The church has been fittingly draped with black, and there was many a tear shed when the deceased pastor, who had very much endeared himself to his congregation, was alluded to. Mention was also made of the demise of Mr. McKeown at the Sunday School, and resolutions of sympathy with the widow and family were passed.

The Sussex Camp.

The final Brigade order issued by the Commandant, last Friday morning, is couched in the following terms:

1. The Colonel, D. CAMP, Sussex, Oct. 13, 1882.

2. The Commandant has much satisfaction in publishing the following order from the Major General commanding—

3. Major General Lynd, commanding the militia, has much pleasure in recording his satisfaction with the appearance and cleanliness (with some exceptions) of the troops in camp at Sussex, to-day. It has proved to him that exertion must have been made by the officers and men, in order to maintain the high standard of the soldier-like manner. He begs Col. Taylor to make his own opinion and to impress on all the necessity for carrying out their chain of responsibility without which the exertions of commanding officers must fail. Commanding officers must hold themselves responsible for the troops or companies, and must see that their subalterns insist on the N. C. of all their appointments as those of the body of troops may be creditable to the militia of the Province.

4. This is satisfactory and encouraging to the troops who, it is hoped, will profit by the excellent advice given in the closing sentences. It will be well too if the Militia Department make it their business to see that the New Brunswick corps are furnished with such appliances as those supplied to the Western ones, so that they can next year make an even better appearance on parade.

The following summary of the target practice of the 73rd and 74th Battalions, Engineers and the 8th Cavalry, was furnished to the Brigade Major on the day of inspection:

Table with columns: Corps, Name, Points, Total. Rows include 73rd Batt., 74th Batt., 8th Cavalry, and Total.

Figure of merit of Brigade, 25.41. Best shot in Brigade, Pte. Jas. Smith, No. 6 Company, 74th Battalion, with 64 points.

22 men of the 73rd Battalion only fired at 200 and 400 yards, in consequence of being ordered to fire at 100 yards.

Our 73rd men have returned home and appear to have enjoyed the camp very much. We observe that they acquitted themselves very creditably.

O. E. Constock, Caledonia, Minn. writes: I was suffering the most excruciating pains from inflammatory rheumatism.

One application of Dr. Thomas' Electric Oil afforded almost instant relief, and two bottles effected a permanent cure.

Political Corruption.

The Freeman publishes the following:—A strange story comes from Madawaska, a story which, if true, should bring a blush to the cheek of every New Brunswicker.

At the general election Messrs. Lynott, Theriault, and Nadeau were candidates for the representation of Madawaska. Mr. Lynott was declared duly elected by a majority of one over Mr. Theriault. Mr. Nadeau polled scarcely half as many votes as either of the others. Mr. Theriault, petitioned against the return of Mr. Lynott. Rumor said that the Local Government endeavored to induce Mr. Theriault to withdraw the petition by offering to pay his costs, to give him some money in addition, and to give him a seat in the Legislative Council, and that Mr. Theriault having refused all those tempting offers, Mr. Lynott was forced to resign. He did resign, and he and Mr. Theriault were spoken of as the only candidates at the election thus rendered necessary. Mr. Nadeau was reported in some newspaper to have said that he would not be a candidate. Dominion and Provincial Government agencies were put in operation, and the Province, Mr. Nadeau was elected seat in the Legislative Council. The Telegraph states that this is the result of a most disgraceful bargain. What induced Mr. Lynott to resign, or whether he was promised anything, is not said, but it is stated very positively that Mr. Theriault was promised the seat in the Legislative Council, after which it is now said that he has hankered for some time, and that Mr. Nadeau has accepted the seat in the Lower House with the understanding that he will go into opposition if the promise to Mr. Theriault be not kept. Mr. Theriault must be very desirous of a seat in the Legislative Council when, for the mere promise of it, he withdrew from a contest in which it was the result of a most disgraceful bargain.
