VOL. 8--No. 34. CHATHAM, NEW BRUNSWICK, JUNE 22, 1882. D. G. SMITH, EDITOR & PROPRIETOR. FORTERMS--See Business Notice.

BUSINESS NOTICE

SCALES Cards--Lumber Surveyors' Scale Cards for all lengths up to fifty feet and all diameters up to twenty-four inches. There are two kinds--one printed on ordinary cardboard, at five cents each and the other, on heavy mounting board, at ten cents each.

SURVEY Bills, giving no. of raft, block mark, and necessary business exclusively in the above line, and we can now print with pleasure, to hosts of patrons, who have invariably purchased from us, during that length of time. The reason is plain. We buy only the best materials, consequently our goods give satisfaction. We regard purchase cheap, shoddy goods that are only meant to sell and not to wear; but by pursuing that policy, it would be impossible to retain our customers. The best goods are the cheapest in the end.

MARLBOROUGH Cigarettes, with and without Warranties, and Marlborough Cigarettes, School Secretaries' Rate Bills, 50 cents per hundred or ten cents per doz. Cigarettes, Marlborough "Four Duty," "Five," "Warehouse" (all kinds) Report Inward and Outward, Entry Outward, Ship Stores, etc., etc., twenty cents per dozen. Permits 50 cents per dozen.

ANY OF THE ABOVE SENT BY MAIL ON RECEIPT OF PRICES NAMED.

SURVEYORS and ENGINEERS and COUNTY CLERKS on hand or printed at shortest notice.

CONTRACTORS, ARCHITECTS, MEASURERS, CLERKS, BALANCE SHEETS, PATENTS promptly executed. Orders by Mail promptly attended to.

Address: D. G. SMITH, CHATHAM.

CHATHAM JUNE 22, 1882.

A Horrible Scene.

HOW THE BODIES OF THE MURDERED LORD CAVENTISH AND MR. BURKE APPEARED WHEN BROUGHT HOME.

The London Times describes the scene in the Chief Secretary's Lodge, where they were laid out on separate tables in the drawing-room for the post-mortem examination. The scene was one indelibly horrible. On a table at the other end of the room was stretched the body of Lord Frederick Cavendish, presenting an appalling spectacle, and the room, which recently had been full of life and gaiety, was now become a shambles, the sight being rendered more hideous by contrast with the associations of the place. The mirrors on the walls and the furniture which remained still in the room were suggestive of refinement, luxury, and social enjoyment, while the two mangled corpses, surrounded by a group of medical operators, with coats off, aprons on, and scalpels and saws in their hands, red with the blood of the victims, presented a sight which even those familiar with the horrors of the battle-field could not look upon without emotion.

Until the bodies were stripped no adequate idea could be formed of the sad malignity with which the murder had been committed. It may be inferred, when it is stated that Lord F. Cavendish had eight gaping wounds. In his right arm was a horrible gash which he received from a stab in the right shoulder, completely cutting through the arteries and vessels, and it is believed caused death by hemorrhage. Under his body, when found in the Park, there was a large pool of blood. He had two cuts on the right side over the right scapula, two on the second rib in the right breast and one cut in the centre of the back; a wound two in the neck at the right side, and a wound opposite the second rib at the right side. His left arm was almost severed across by a slash of, probably, a bowie knife, which cut through the bone. He had apparently raised his arm to protect himself. Some of the wounds in front were caused by the penetration of the weapons. Mr. Burke had no fewer than eleven wounds. He had three wounds in the fingers of his left hand, a terrible wound in his throat three and one half inches deep, which severed the jugular vein; a fearful wound at the back, drawn downwards, which pierced the breast and is believed to have been the wound that killed him, and three wounds in front of his chest, besides other wounds.
