MILL ACCIDENT. -On Monday last as Mr. David Carruthers was adjusting a Peter Loggie's mill, the wrench with which he was working slipped, and the back of his right hand, coming in contact with the side or "swedge" of the sawteeth, was very severely lacerated. He will be disabled for a short time by the

The well is forty-five feet deep, and is rigged with a windlass and rope. Her cries brought help and she was got out, considerably shaken but not seriously hurt. - Advocate.

ATTEMPTED SHOP-BREAKING .- On Satsurday or Sunday night last an attempt was made to enter Messrs. Patterson Loggie's store by way of the cellar. An entrance to the cellar was effected by the parties crawling under the building from the east side, but when the lifting of the trap-door leading up into the shop was at. tempted it failed because of a number of shoe cases being piled upon the hatch. The would-be thief had, therefore, to demart without "booty".

THE "WORLD" is out again calling hard names. The following from Harper for November seems to be appropriate in this connection .-

In estimating men whose names only are familiar it is necessary to know who it is that extols them and who sneers at them. It is this knowledge which makes honest public men absolutely impervious to the shafts of the most venemous ridicule, and unmindful of the heaviest mis siles of abuse. The contempt of such men baffles the sneers of blackguardism as the sun extinguishes the feeble flicker of a match. Indeed, there is nothing more ludicrous than the constant and elaborate vituperation which is sometimes peared by a newspaper or a politician upon an opponent who is as absolutely unconscious of the incessant assault as a picture is h tedless of the buzzing of a fly. Or out of sheer humanity toward suffering, such a man may so far reward the arduous straggle of the harmless traducer as to exclai va, good-naturedly, "Shoo, fly, don't botl ter me!"

Serious Fire.

On Thursday last a fire, which, at one time, threatened to destroy a large num- addition to testimony respecting the cir. ber of buildings, broke out on Pleasant St., between Hill and Benson Sts. It was first discovered by Mr. Nicholas Cunning ham in his barn and was burning stall in which his horse was standing, Mr. C. being, at the time, engaged in making a boxing for his waggon. He threw a bucket of water on it and ran for two more, but on returning found the flames beyond his control and his rible results as were evidenced by the horse in danger of being burned. He cut the animal loose and by that time the alarm had been given. In a very short time Cunningham's barn was a mass of fire and before the town engine reached the scene the house was also in flames, as well as the two buildings adjoining, one of which was also owned by Mr. Cunningham and the other by the widow of the las e John Stapleton. #### It was Loaded.

On Sunday last five lads, named Allan Cameron, Harry Steeves, James Walls, Jas. Skields and Albert Smith, instead of going to Sunday School or engaging in some such occupation proper for the day, took a walk towards the back of the town. Three of them-Cameron, Steeves and Walls,-had a revolver each, and some cartridges to match, and when they were near the residence of Dr. Pallen the weapons was several times discharged. They stopped under the shade of Dr. Pallen's fence to re-load Cameron's pistol and one cartidge had to be forced into place. While this was being done, or immediately after, there was an accidental discharge from Cameron's revolver when its muzzle was not more than a foot from Steeves' body. The ball struck Steeves' breast and remarked, "I guess that went into me. side-gauge to the large circular saw in Mr. and examination proved that he was correct. The lad then went with Cameron and Walls to Dr. Baxter's office, where, after careful probing, the ball could not be found. Steeves went to the residence of his brother-in-law, Mr. J. Since that time he has been restless and suffering some pain, but Dr. Baxter's opinion is that the wound is l not a very serious one.

A Fatal Blow.

Last Saturday night about eleven o'clock, John Hubbard, a young man living near Redbank, Southesk Parish. called at the house of Wm. Mullin of the same locality, for the purpose of obtaining liquor. He had procured liquor from Mullin early the same evening and meeting Mr. Alex. Johnston on the road after ten o'clock, invited him to go to Mullin's to get a drink. Johnston waited on the road while Hubbard went to Mullin's window and roused him up. Mullin, however, refused to let Hubbard have a drink and the latter, as he went away, carried Mullin's dog out to the road and managed to get it fighting with Johnston's dog. Mullin, who was irritated, at being awakened to give liquor to Hubbard, left the house to look after his dog and struck at Hubbard when he reached the road. missing him, however. As he left to return to his house, Hubbard followed him with a large stone in each hand, w hich, however, he dropped at the request and remon. strance of Mr. Johnston. Hubbard then went to a point near Mullin's house and called him hard and insulting names, challenging him to fight, etc. Mullin. thereupon, rushed at Hubbard with a stick about four feet long and two inches thick and dealt him a blow across the head which felled him to the ground. Before he was taken away the injured man made intelligible answers to enquiries and walk ed a short distance unaided, but he lingered at a neighboring house in an almost insensible condition until Sunday afternoon when he died.

An inquest was held on Monday, by Coroner A. C. Smith, M. D., of Newcastle. It lasted from 7 a. m. until 2 p. m. In McLearn of Newcastle, who made a postmortem examination of the body, testified that there was a complete fracture of both sides of the skull, several large arteries in the brain were torn across and much blood was effused into the brain. In his charge to the Jury the Coroner asked them to consider whether such tercareful and skilful examination made by Drs. Fish and McLearn, might not have been caused by an intention to kill.

The Jury, which was composed of John McLean, foreman, Elijah Tozer, Wm. Matchet, Wm. P. Blackmore, Wm. Tozer and Wm. H. McDonald found that deceased came to his death as set forth above and, further, that William Mullin was guilty of manslaughter.

That Address.

Editor Advance,-DEAR SIR, -As an humble admirer the Hon. Judge Fraser I wish to thank you for your timely remarks concerning the recent address of the Grand Jury. I is to be regretted that some heads of families are permitting their children, both sexes, to grow up devoid of that respect which is due to age and position. We look in vain for the respectful bearing toward superiors which was so carefully inculcated by our forefathers. The inso lent address recently presented to Judge Fraser is evidently an outcome of the lack of courtesy so prevalent in our community. I am pleased to see the ADVANCE, together with the respectable portion of our County, condemning such vulgar impertinence. Yours truly,

NEWCASTLE, Sept. 15th, 1883.

MR. EDITOR, -In behalf of myself and others who have incurred a certain responsibility in connection with the Grand Jury's address on the opening of th Court at Newcastle, on 11th inst., I think it right to explain that the matter was pretty well taken out of our hands by the Foreman. In the first place, there seem ed to be an understanding that he was to be foreman, for the Sheriff nominated him for the position. That was an unusual thing, I think, and none of us seemed to realize that it was so, until afterwards. Then, it was said, that Mr. Stewart had the address prepared a day or two before. hand, and when it was laid before us by him he gave us to understand that he had shown it to the Judge, who approved of it, and that any alteration could not be made after that. I felt at the time, that the address was very strangely worded, and a number of other jurymen did not approve of it, but let it pass under the circumstances. We are now sorry we did so. The whole trouble arose out of our taking it for granted that our foreman was capable of getting up such a document. We now know he was not, and, of course, our carelessness in the matter makes us reand wretched taste. A MEMBER OF THE GRAND JURY

Chatham, Sept. 15th.

The Telegraph quotes the address as "an insult to the Bench" and says it reeds no comment. "It is with regret," says the Telegraph, "that we see the name of a journalist appended to it."

The Freeman of 15th inst. says, - "Judge Fraser paid his first official visit to Northumberland this week, and the Grand Jury curiosity in its way."

In connection with the above subject the World, says the expression, "Member of the Crown" was a misprint. It was, nowever, not a misprint. It was written 'member" and not "minister," as the World would now have its readers believe. The fact is the whole affair, emanating, as it did, from a Grand Jury of the County of Northumberland is a matter of reproach to it. The members of the Grand Jury no doubt, allowed the wretched piece of composition, laden with false and silly sentiments, to pass, through carelessness, but they will hardly thank the World for attempting to defend it ecause they offer no defence, themselves They were imposed upon and like most of us when we are "sold" feel that the less said on the subject the better. Respecting the foreman's intimation to his fel low grand jurymen that His Honor had approved of the Address, it may be assumed that such was not the case. The only purpose for which it could have been shown to him beforehand would be t acquaint him with its points so that he might be in a position to reply to them. His reply clearly showed that he entirely disapproved of some portions of the address. We understand that the foreman thought the production such a won derful one that he showed it to several of his friends outside of the Grand Jury, but because these did not criticise its silliness it does not follow that they approved of it. Northumberland grand juries will, no doubt, be on the alert, hereafter, for ready-

Nelson Notes.

To the Editor of the Miramichi Advance DEAR SIR, -Allow me, through columns of your valuable paper, to say a few words regarding Nelson school and its surroundings and its Trustees. Some one styling himself "One Interested," com. plained last spring of the school house and surroundings. Since then the reason for complaint has been removed. During the past summer vacation the school house has not only been repaired, so that it is as good as new, but it has been greatly enlarged and the building placed in such a position as to show off to the best advan-

Mr. Thomas Doolan, the contractor, has fulfilled the contract to the letter and moreover, has rushed the job along in such a way that it reflects credit on himself and those helping him. While mentioning Mr. Doolan's name I must not be unmindful of Messrs. X. L. C. R. Nelson, Sept 15th, 1883. The Supt. of Education to go.

The relinquishment of the theological faculty in connection with the'Acadia College is to be speedily followed by another "departure" on the part of the governors of that institution. We understand on good authority that the board of governors of Acadia College have decided to establish at once in that institution a chair of education or didactics-similar in character to the chairs of education in the Scotch universities of Edinburgh and St. Andrews. The salary of the professor is to be $2,000 per annum. We also learn that the chair is to be tendered to Dr. Theodore H. Rand, at present Superintendent of Education in New Brunswick, and that it is probable he will accept the position, and enter forthwith upon his new sphere of labor.

The importance of these two steps, not only to the college but to the whole maritime provinces, we believe, will be very marked. The new chair, while the first of its kind in Canada, has been recognized by educationists in Europe and the United States as eminently necessary and useful. It may be remembered that some three months ago a discussion on the subject of a university chair of Education took place in this city before the alumni of the Normal School and others interested in educa tion. The meeting unanimously approved of education being regarded as a university subject, and a hope was expressed that some of our colleges would take the matter up.-Halifax Herald.

We understand that Dr. Rand has resigned the Superintendency of Education in New Brunswick and has accepted the above position.

Persons trying for the reward must send 20 cents in silver, or postal note (no postage stamps taken) with their answer, for which they will receive the Nov. Monthly, in which the name and address of the winner of the reward and the correct answer will be published, and in which several more valuable rewards will be offered. There is not the least doubt, whatever, that the various craftsmen here will cordially welcome to their ranks fellow craftsmen from all parts; nor is there any doubt that a hearty reception will be given by the Executive Committee to any organized body in St. John or out of it, who may desire to make a representation. Letters on the subject should be addressed to John H. Parks, Chairman, or L. P. Crear, Secretary, of the Executive Committee. - Globe.

EDUCATIONAL. - If the statement is correct that Mr. Rand is to retire from the Board of Education in New Brunswick. to remodel the Board. The head of a department which controls such a large expenditure of public money should be upon the floor of the House, where he can be made accountable to the people for his acts. This could be effected without increasing the number of heads, by uniting the offices of Surveyor General and Chief Commissioner of Public Works, by abolishing the office of Solicitor General and by sweeping away the "forecastle" mem bers. Indeed, all these changes might not be necessary, but the Government will find that it could not do a wiser thing than to take firm hold of this Educational matter. -Globe.

BANK EAILURE. - A Montreal despatch of Monday last says, -"The Directors of the Exchange Bank resolved, on Saturday evening, to suspend payment this morning and put the bank into liquidation until the temporary pressure is over. The liabilities are two millions of deposits, and four bundred and thirty thousand dollars in circulation. The last statements showed a surplus over all liabilities, including half million capital, of four hundred thousand dollars. The cause of suspension is over discounting, and a large amount locked up by inactive assets taken over from creditors. The directors say the eirculation will be met promptly.
