THE SQUARE .-- According to the Montreal Gazette, of which the editor of the World is correspondent, it is to the World that we are indebted to for originating our Public Square improvements. Of course Mr. Wyse is mentioned, but then, he was only the instrument in the master's hand -the clay moulded by the potter-the block chiseled by the sculptor; the genius, the intellect that originated the great idea was the World. FIRE. - Fire was discovered on Saturday night last about ten o'clock in the ell attached to the rear of the house on Henderson, near Water Street, occupied by pilot Allan McEachern. It burned quite briskly for a time, until the Steam Fire Engine got to work, which was long enough in all conscience. As there no wind the flames were soon subdued. The building belonged to the Dunn estate and is said to have been insured for $500 in the Liverpool, London and Globe Company. Damage about $175.

has been attached to the lock of the Bank of Montreal safe, so that it cannot be open-ed until the required time. This will prevent burglars who capture the manager, and make him disclose the combination, from unlocking the safe durning the night.

The above, is no doubt, an interesting item, but as no time lock or any other new lock has been placed as stated our neighbor is, simply, ahead of time, by a month or so. It is probable that a lock such as that referred to will be placed as stated in about a month.

SAD. -Mr. Andrew G. Gorman, whose mind has been wandering for several weeks past, and who has been confined at the residence of his father; corne Britain and Wentworth streets, leaped out of the window of his house between 11 and 12 o'clock last night, having nothing on but his underclothing. He ran up to Dr. D. E. Beryman's office, and pulled the doctor out of bed, shouting that the was on fire. The doctor, seeing that he was insane, called in the police and he was taken to the lock-up. He appears to be suffering from religious monomania and declares he is burning up. He was sent to the Asylum this forenoon. -St. John Globe, 9th inst.

NEWCASTLE CURLING CLUB.-The adjourned meeting of the above club was held on Monday evening last. After some routine business was put through, the election of eleven new members being part of the business, the appointment of ten skips was proceeded with, the ballot resulting in the following gentlemen being elected by a majority of votes cast, viz :-R. A. Lawlor 25, James Brown 24, W. H. Buck 23, W. A. Park 22, E. Lee Street 20, J. R. Lawlor 19, T. W. Crocker 16, R. H. Gremley 16. John Ferguson 14. WRECK OF THE BARQUE MINNIE GOR-DON. - A despatch received on Friday by Mr. George McLeod, the owner of the barque Minnie Gordon, advised him that that vessel had gone ashore on Cape North, during a gale from the north, on Wednesday, and would prove a total loss. She was bound from Miramichi for Queenstown for orders, laden with lumber, and was under the command of Capt. Mc-Ilgorm. She was built at Buctouche in 1878, and registered 640 tons. The Minnie Gordon was a fine vessel, in excellent condition, having a short time ago undergone extensive repairs, and was thoroughly well known among shippers as a remarkably fast sailer. Five passages across the Atlantic have been made in one year. There was $25,000 insurance on the vessel, $6,000 on the cargo and $2,000 on the freight. - Telegraph.

Successful Entertainment.

An entertainment in aid of the Mary's S. S. Library fund was given by the Sunday School children, .under the leadership of Mrs. Howard, in the S. S. Room, Chatham, on Tuesday evening, commencing at half-past seven o'clock. Our reporter reached the building about that hour and found the Rector, Mr. Forsyth, just finishing his opening remarks, in which, among other things, he indicated that it was proposed to hold a series of entertainments-fortnightly if possible-for the same purpose, though he said, he was not sure they could be arranged for with certainty. With a few appropriate remarks concerning the evening's programme he introduced the little ones, who, to the number of about forty, were arranged at the east end of the school-room, their bright, happy faces and tasteful dresses presenting quite an attractive spectacle. The following programme was then taken up.-

Rogersville.

We have received a rather warlike communication from Rev. M. F. Richard. "pastor and founder in a certain sense," of Rogersville, in which he makes certain demands and undeserved reflections on the ADVANCE, conceived in a spirit of unexpected hostility. We have only to say that up the time of our receiving the Rev. gentleman's letter-yesterday morningwe are sensible of having treated all affairs in which we thought he had an interest with a special desire to assist him in any way we could, and he has been neither backward nor unfrequent in making use of our columns. To such use, for what we have deemed proper purposes, he has been welcome and still will be so.

In the letter received yesterday Mr. Richard refers quite disrespectfully to the ADVANCE, and with sang froid that is refreshing, even in this cool weather, says girl. we are respectfully requested to publish his communication, which he has also sent to the World. The cause of the rev. gentleman's perturbation of mind seems to be our references of last week to the Municipal election in Rogersville. We may say our remarks were based on information which we believed to be reliable. Had Mr. Richard written to us, as the friend he has always professed to be, and assured us, either privately or under his name for publication, that our facts were errors, we would have been glad to make any correction, or even an apology Mrs. Daniel Crimmen and children, by to the settlement. As, however, he has chosen to threaten us and has selected another paper as the fortress from which he will direct his attacks, we can only leave him in the enjoyment of the ground he has taken and let him pepper away. We propose to make further enquiries in reference to the Rogersville election matter and if we find our information was incorrect we shall say so. Until our enquiries are made and answered, however,

The "Petitcodiac Mystery."

A tramp named Daniel Mitchell is nov under arrest and is to be tried for attempting to outrage and murder Mrs. George McCann of Havelock, Kings County The affair occurred, it will be remembered on 24th ult., under circumstances reported in the ADVANCE of 1st inst. Mr. Mc-Cann, the husband of the injured woman seems to have manifested a determination to hunt the alleged perpetrator of the deed down, and the efforts he has made to that end, involving no small personal expense, show that he, at least discredits the theory set up that his wife had at tempted suicide. The man, Mitchell, is an itinerant clock repairer not unknown in the Counties of Westmorland, Albert, and Queens, where he is believed by those who profess to be well acquainted with him, to be slightly deranged. When informed that he was arrested for cutting a woman's throat. McCann, the husband of the injured woman, states that he said "I did not do it, she did it herself " etc., and many have put this down as a betraval of knowledge of the crime and, therefore, of guilt. When taken to the house where the alleged crime was committed, and brought face to face with Mrs. McCann. Mitchell did not display any nervousness or change of manner. He looked at and addressed questions very rationally and without excitement, to Mrs. McCann. who said she thought he was the person who assaulted her, though, if he was, he he had changed some of his clothes and

She testified that she had never been very healthy. never seen the man before, had dreamed the night before the event that a man had cut her throat. Awaking from her dream she rose and lighted the lamps, keeping them burning until morning. She was not, however, sure of the face of

Dr. McDonald testified that the wounds were not very serious; he had known Mrs. McCann to be affected by nervous and hysterical troubles, though not for the past nine months. It is now said Mitchell was 60 miles away from McCann's on the day the woman's throat was cut.

John H. Daly, of Toronto, sold a horse to Michael Groat, for which he received his note for $35. Some few weeks after Daly called on Groat and asked for payment of the note. Great asked to see the note, and when the note was shown him he put it in his pocket, and told Daly he could take the horse and ten dollars or nothing. Daly made criminal complaint against Groat and the matter came up for a hearing last week. The defence claimed that the horse was unsound and worthless, and that Daly had committed a fraud upon Groat in disposing of the horse to him, and warranting him to be sound. The jury acquitted the prisoner after a short absence.
