places fifteen, forty, ninety and, sometimes, more miles away from home. In the winter I am frequently detained on the road by raw blockades, which is not my fault, though I sometimes think it is that of the Railway people. What will we do about our limited return tickets in such cases as that? I suppose the Advocate will promise the gracious "concession" of an extension of time, for which we will be expected to thank the beneficent manager so to tamely suppose. The time limit on return tickets is a new form of Dominion extortion and the Advocate ought to have the pluck to say so squarely.

London Town advertised for an original proverb. Many hundreds were sent in. Here are some of the best: A white lie often makes a black story. It's a poor musician who can't blow his own trumpet. He who would eat the egg, must first break the shell. Every back has its pack.

Men love women; women love a man. The surest road to honour is to deserve it. Only whisper scandal and its echo is heard by all. It's not the clock with the loudest tick that goes the best. Signs are poor things to fly with. Home is the rainbow of life. Don't complain of the baker until you have tasted his bread. They who live in a worry, invite death to hurry.

H. Russell 63 2.7 per cent, and Jas. Dickson 60 3.7 per cent. These were all the competitors. In recognition of the closeness of Miss Nina Benson and Wm. A. Kerr, to the winner, the Trustees awarded them handsomely bound copies of Shakespeare and Milton, Mr. J. L. Stewart making the presentation. Mr. Russell, in answer to the Trustees' address, said that he was glad to pursue their studies at higher institutions of learning. Mr. Crommen addressed the school, he spoke of the harmony that existed between teachers and pupils, bore testimony to the value of Mr. Palmer's services, and said he hoped an arrangement would be made by which the eighth grade could be taught in another department, thereby lightening the arduous duties of the Principal and enabling him to teach the higher grades more thoroughly.

On Thursday afternoon the examination of the Primary School at the Convent took place. This Department is taught by Sister Devereaux, assisted by Sister Penney. The Primary grade programme was as follows:— Recitation, "Welcome," by Nina Kingston. Opening song by the pupils. Dialogue, "The Bird's Welcome," by ten of the smallest pupils.

Mr. Smith said that when ticket-holders in costume could be required to pay for admission, just as spectators are required to pay for admission, more than by the cost of the extra lands. Mr. Smith said an objection to having more than two bands a week arose from the fact that many of those who most enjoyed the band nights had engagements of different kinds—in connection with prayer meetings, choirs, society, committee and other meetings—and if Carnivals were held on other than band nights they would miss them or break standing engagements. Such things as these were worth considering.

School Examinations. We are indebted to our local contemporary for notices of the school examinations of the Lower and Middle Districts.

THE LOWER DISTRICT SCHOOLS were examined on Wednesday in the presence of the Trustees and several visitors. The schools are all in one admirably arranged building. The attendance was large in all departments, and the progress was made in every branch. There appears to be a very decided improvement in these schools in respect to discipline and other things. The district, instead of being a school, is a school, and the pupils, has a room to spare, and will probably employ another teacher before very long. In Principal Hutchinson's room were the reading, grammar, and arithmetic. The regular attendance in this department has nearly doubled within the year. Mr. Hutchinson proposed forming a class, without charge, for the regular course, for boys who come to school for the winter only. It is a defect in our school system that no provision is made for the winter term of the year.

THE CERTIFICATES presented by Father Bannon were awarded to Misses Annie Kelly and Kate Kane—now at the Normal School—and Misses Kate Allan, Julia Fitzgerald and Nellie Cribbs. At the conclusion of the examination Rev. Mr. Bannon complimented teachers and pupils on the proficiency and excellent discipline of the School.

Nov. 4th, 1884. COUNTY COUTH. The November term of the Gloucester County Court opened to-day. His Honor Judge Wilton presiding. There was a full attendance of grand jurors, of whom John Baldwin was chosen foreman. The Docket is as follows:— Helen J. Waitt and George C. Sutherland, Executors, etc., vs. Samuel Bishop. Mr. N. A. Landry files Record.

THE QUEEN vs. SYLVAIN CORNIER, Forger. The Queen vs. Fabien Hachey, Maiming Cattle. Overseers of Parish of Beresford vs. John McLoughlin, Forger. The grand jury have found a true bill against Sylvain Cornier for forgery. Mr. N. A. Landry will defend the prisoner. Helen J. Waitt et al. Executors, etc., vs. Samuel Bishop. This case is now before the Court. N. A. Landry for Plff., L. J. Tweedie for Deft.

THE RETURN TICKET FRAUD. Mr. Editor.—The Advocate appears to be very much over the injustice done to the travelling public by the recent order limiting the time of return tickets. I am one of a pretty large class of heavy contributors to the Intercolonial, as my business requires me to go by it quite often.

small an outlay as possible, while the Directors had to devise every possible means of satisfying both parties, a work which required a good deal of careful management, in which he thought the Directors had been very successful. After some further discussion, carried on with the best of good feeling, the report of the Directors was adopted. Mr. Nicol moved that the Directors of the past year receive the thanks of the meeting for their good management of the risk in the interests of both stockholders and ticket-holders. Mr. M. S. Hocken seconded the resolution. The President said this would afford an opportunity for an expression of the views of those present on the matter of holding entertainments on band nights and such expression would be a guide to the Directors to be appointed next year.

Dr. Benson said it seemed to him that the holding of Carnivals on other than band nights would increase the revenues of the Rink, for the reason that skating ticket-holders in costume could be required to pay for admission, just as spectators are required to pay for admission, more than by the cost of the extra lands. Mr. Smith said an objection to having more than two bands a week arose from the fact that many of those who most enjoyed the band nights had engagements of different kinds—in connection with prayer meetings, choirs, society, committee and other meetings—and if Carnivals were held on other than band nights they would miss them or break standing engagements. sympathy of their fellow-citizens by the efforts they have been making for some time past to place themselves in a position to erect a new Church. Their present place of worship, at the corner of Duke and Canard Streets, really belongs to the past, and the taste and aspirations of the congregation, keeping abreast of the times, have suggested a more modern and comfortable temple. With a spirit of Christian liberality seldom equalled by a comparatively small and not wealthy congregation they have put their shoulder to the wheel and raised sufficient to warrant them in going forward with the work. We are, of course, not intimately acquainted with the details of the work done, but there can be little doubt that the present efficient and esteemed pastor, Rev. Mr. Chapman, has been largely instrumental in bringing the undertaking to its present satisfactory state. The site of the proposed new church, for which tenders are now invited, is on the corner of Wellington and McDuffry Streets, where excavation for the basement walls is now going on. No better or more convenient position for such an edifice could be chosen as this, centrally located and in a neighborhood where the surroundings are of a desirable class. The plans which we have just had an opportunity of examining, were prepared by Messrs. Dumaresq and Motz, architects, St. John, and are complete in all their details. The building is to be of brick with freestone basement and trimming. It is in the Gothic style with corner tower and spire. The general dimensions are,— Extreme length from front of tower to end of chancel or choir gallery, 80 feet. Extreme breadth from side of tower to eastern side of main front, 40 feet. Width of main front, 40 feet. Size of nave or audience room (interior) 47x63 ft. Chancel gallery, 12 ft. x 20 ft. 6 in. Tower Vestibule, 9 ft. x 20 ft. 6 in. Choir gallery, 12 ft. x 20 ft. 6 in. Basement floor (interior measurement) 46x62 ft. Extreme height of walls (exterior) 28 ft. Height of basement walls (above ground level) 9 feet. Height of main wall, 35 ft. Height of tower, 56 ft. Height of spire, 120 ft. Height from ground level to top of spire terminal 125 ft.

The general form of the Church will be square. The tower will be square and placed at the northwest corner and its extreme wall measurement will be 14 ft. 4 in. square. The outside measurement of the chancel or organ gallery annex at the south end will be 10 ft. 5 in. x 19 ft. 4 in. and will be entered by a lean-to vestibule 8 ft. 5 in. x 9 ft. 4 in. There will be five large Gothic windows between buttresses on each side of the building, with the large Gothic end on "east" window will light the body of the church, and there will be square basement windows—ten on each side—besides two in the rear end of the main building, two in the pastor's room and one in the lean-to vestibule, or rear entrance, by Mr. Curdury street. There will be large Gothic windows, one in each square of the two lower stories of the tower, with Gothic louvre windows in the belfry story. On either side of the main entrance, which will be in the centre of the Wellington Street end, there will be a small Gothic window, and in the gable above, over the front vestibule lean-to roof there will be a large tripartite Gothic window 10 ft. high in the centre. There will be a side lower entrance from McDuffry Street, corresponding in style and finish with the main or front entrance, both being recessed.

The roof and spire will be covered with slate and the cornices and other exterior trimmings, not of stone, will be of galvanized iron. The spire, which is of splendid proportions, is designed for a clock, which would be a great public benefit, especially as Chatham time is so greatly "out of joint." The building committee have, we believe, not yet determined to go on with the spire. The spire will lead from the main vestibule to the right and left, up to the nave or audience-room floor, the body of the church having two interior entrance doors corresponding with the aisles inside. Stairs will also lead down from the main vestibule into the basement, which will be devoted to Sunday School and Class Room purposes. Stairways will also lead up from the tower vestibule to the nave side entrance and down to the basement.

The nave or audience-room floor will be two feet higher at the Wellington Street end than at the other so as to place all the congregation within good view of the minister's platform, and the seating will be in circular form. There will be two aisles with double pews in the centre and single ones at the side, the latter running about half way down towards the rear end, where there will be aisles on each side, besides those radiating from the space about the Communion-rail. The pews will be of ash and walnut, with ends similar in design to those in St. Mary's Chapel, Chatham, and the Communion rail, minister's platform, desk and choir-stalls will be finished to correspond with the interior of the church. The nave or audience-room will be wainscoted all around with ash, trimmed with walnut, four feet high. The minister's room will be in rear basement, which, as well as the choir gallery and minister's platform, will have an entrance through the rear vestibule or annex already referred to.

Overhead, in the nave or audience room, the roof will be open finished, with Gothic tracery and having turned corbels at the foot of the principals, the extreme height from the floor being 32 feet. The general design and finish of the edifice will render it quite massive in effect. It will be an architectural ornament to Chatham and a monument of the zeal and loyalty to their Church of our Methodist brethren.

A P. E. ISLANDER KILLED.—John Cameron of Oranpau, P. E. I., was shot and killed at Winnipeg on Sunday morning 26th ult. He had, with a number of others, been spending Saturday night drinking—the latter part of the night having been passed at a den in which a man named Welsh and his reputed wife lived. There was some quarrelling in the house over an alleged insult to the woman, and after Cameron and his companions left, Welsh followed and shot Cameron a short distance from the house. Welsh is said to have been brought to New York. The Coroner's jury accuse Welsh of wilful murder and his wife of being accessory.

THE CANADIAN boatmen on the Nile expedition speak lightly of the difficulties of the Nile cataracts. They have now surmounted the second or great cataract—that at Wady Halfa—and it may be assumed that the cataracts farther up will offer no serious impediment to them. There is but one great cataract between them and Dongola, beyond which was hoped that the expedition would not require to go. On the great bend of the river above Dongola, and below Khartoum there are three cataracts, and eight hundred miles of rowing, though the direct distance from one place to the other across the bend is only 250 miles.

Neglect of Duty. On Saturday morning last, the Steamer Summerside, Capt. Alexander Cameron, from Sydney, deeply laden with rails, made Esquimaux and ran in towards the Bar looking for a pilot, but none appeared. Capt. Cameron reports that he was, at times during the day, near the stranded barque Roly and kept his vessel well in, hoping that the pilots might be induced to come out to him, if there were any in sight. None came, however, and as the weather looked unfavorable and his steamer was deeply laden, he was obliged to run across the Straits for the night. He ran back again early on Sunday morning and, then, secured a pilot. We have made enquiries here of the pilot in reference to the neglect of duty on the part of the pilots, but he simply treated it as a laughing matter. Other people, however, are too much of that kind of thing allowed to go without proper notice being taken of it. If a severe storm had come on and the deeply laden steamer been lost through not being able to obtain a pilot it would hardly have been a matter to laugh over.

Bathurst Municipal Elections. An obliging correspondent sends us the following:— Parish of Addington,—Wm. Doherty and Mr. Alexander elected. Bathurst.—John Moffat and John McNeish re-elected. Colborne, —Geo. White and R. Conacher elected. Durham.—In this Parish there was a keen and exciting contest, the old councillors were opposed by Mr. Chas. McAllister of the firm of McAllister Bros. A month previous to the election an active canvass was made of the Parish, by each Candidate and their respective friends and also on election day. The meeting was called on by Lawrence Lapoint, Parish Clerk, when Paul Devereaux, Esq., and Donald Stewart were nominated for chairman of a division of the ratepayers was taken, when Paul Devereaux was elected by a large majority. At the close of the poll the vote stood as follows:—

Thos. Hayes ..... 156 John Culligan ..... 133 Chas. McAllister ..... 125 Thos. Hayes takes his seat for the fourth time, always leaving the poll John Culligan had been elected six years in succession.

Concert. A very meritorious concert, of which we think there was insufficient previous notice was given in Masonic Hall, Chatham, on Monday evening of last week. The concert in aid of the R. E. Church, in Masonic Hall, was greeted with a very fair audience, but not so large as it deserved. The ladies in their quaint old fashioned dresses looked better than when dressed in a more modern style, and the wonder is how or where they unearthed so many silks and gowns that were worn in the days of our great grandmothers. Mrs. Burbridge, as grandmas, did well and Mr. J. Robins, as grandfather, was a great success. Mr. N. R. Mackenzie, in his character song, "Complaints," received great applause. Miss Gordon and Mr. Messer, in their character song, "Matrimonial Streets," which was given in grand style, also received an encore. Anthony White, the sailor boy, deserves special mention. Mr. Allen and Miss Gillis rendered their "O' Mine Home" with great effect, and received great applause from the audience. Mr. Boss' violin solo was highly appreciated. All the singers did well, and the concert was a most entertaining one, reflecting great credit on those who organized it and those who took part in it.

New Methodist Church. The Methodist of Chatham are challenging the admiration and winning the
