In the House of Commons Mr. Anderson(Radical) gave notice that he would ask for an extraordinary cases of precocious wickedearly discussion of the standing resolution that the continuation of an unreformed hereditary House of Lords is incompatible with wise legislation. Sir Charles Dilke addressed a meeting of Liberals Wednesday on the franchise bill. He believed that the country wished the franchise bill presented repeatedly to the Lords until they passed it. He felt that there was no doubt about the bill being passed in a short time. Mr. Gladstone, he said, would call a meeting of the party in the Foreign Office when he would make a statement on the subject. Sir Charles believed the action of the Lords would be beneficial in its effect upon other great measures.
