SHE LOVES AND LIES. BY WILKIE COLLINS.

Continued. In less than the minute she had asked for, Mrs. Callender was calm enough to go on. "I now possess what is called a lifeinterest in my husband's fortune," she said. "The money is to be divided, at my death, among charitable institutions, excepting a certain event-" "Which is provided for in the will!" Ernest added, helping her to go on.

"Yes. I am to be absolute mistress of the whole of the four hundred thousand pounds"-her voice dropped, and her eyes looked away from him as she spoke the next words-" on this one condition, that I marry again."

He looked at her in amazement. "Surely I have mistaken you," he said. "You mean on this one condition, that you do not marry again?"

"You are a noble woman?" he said. door. She made no reply. With drooping head and downcast eyes she waited for his decision. He accepted his responsibility.

"I must not, and dare not, think of the hardship of my own position," he said: "I owe it to you to speak without reference to the future that may be in store for me. No man can be worthy of the sacrifice which your generous forgetfulness of yourself is willing to make. I respect you; I admire you; I thank you with all my heart. Leave me to my fate, Mrs. Callender-and let me go."

He promised. "Now go," she said. CHAPTER VII.

The next morning Ernest received a letter from Mrs. Callender. She wrote to him as follows:

Mrs. Callender received a written answer long before the evening. It said much in few words : "A man impenetrable to kindness might be able to resist your letter. I am not that man. Your great heart has conquered me."

CHAPTER IX. The weeks passed, and no news was received of the missing ship. With the marriage license in Ernest's possession, they waited until the day before the shipowner's liabilities became due.

Ernest returned later than usual from the picture-gallery, and, for the first time in his wife's experience, shut himself up in his own room.

He appeared at the dinner hour with a futile excuse. Mrs. Lismore waited until the servant had withdrawn "Now, Ernest," she said, "it's time snow what it has done for me. Two years ago l had as speedy a colt as was ever raised in Jeffer-son County. When I was breaking him, he kicked over the cross bar and got fast and tore one of his hind legs all to pieces. I employed the best far-riers, but they all said he was spoiled. He had a very large thorough-pin, and I used two bottles of your Kendall's Spavin Cure, and it took the bunch entirely of, and he sold afterwards for $1800 (dol lars.) I have used it for bone spavins and wind galls, and it has always cured completely and left the leg smooth. It is a splendid medicine for rheumatism. 1 have ecommended it to a good many, and they all say t does the work. From the Akron Commercial. Ohio, of Nov. 25th, 1882. Readers of the Commercial can not well forge nat a large space has for years been taken up by Kendall's advertisements—especially of a certain Spavin Cure. We have had dealings with Dr. Kenlall for many years, and we know of some large usiness houses in cities near by who have also dealt with him for many years, and the truth is fully and faithfully proven, not only that he is a good honest man, and that his celebrated Spavin Cure is not only all that it is recommended to be, but that the English Language is not capable of recommending it too highly.

Kendall's Spavin Cure will cure spavins There are hundreds of cases in which that has been proven to cur certain knowledge, but, after all, if any person coufines the usefulness of this celebrated medicine to curing spavins alone, they make a big mistake. It is the best medicine known as an out-ward application for rheumatism in the human family. It is good for pains and aches, swellings, Hutchinson's Ranch, 12 miles north of Denver, Col. Dr. B. J. Kendall, & Co., Gents:—For the past three years I have used Kendall's Spavin Cure. In every case of spavin, of which I have treated five. t has killed them all, and entirely removed three. In case of splint I find it has no equal, one case I had was of three years standing and the Spavin Cure removed it entirely. I had a cow get spavin ed and it entirely cured her. One year ago a two hundred pound block of ice fell out of a wagon striking my foot on instep and toes, it would be mpossible to mash a foot worse without breaking y bones. I was taken home and carried into the se. I do not think amputation of the leg would walk around. About three weeks ago my team ran away and threw me out of the wagon, the hind wheel struck my knee. After applying several highly recommended liniments without obtaining any relief, I went for Kendall's Spavin Cure. My leg was drawn up and my knee swollen badly. three days I was able to walk to the barn. I could go into details more fully and make this a very long letter, but will not weary you.

I am very respectfully yours,

OSCAR F. HUTCHINSON. P. O. Lock Box, 2362, Denver City, Col. KENDALL'S SPAVIN CURE. B. J. KENDALL & Co., Gents:-I feel it a duty to others suffering with the piles and falling of the rectum to write you. I have had the piles and prolapsus of the rectum for five years, for the past three years I have suffered the most agonizing pain. Tried everything without relief, but after ten days use of Kendall's Spavin Cure I have not seen nor heard of the piles since. One who has not suffered as I have cannot comprehend the great joy that I feel at being cured of a disease almost worse than death. I had a valuable young horse that had a large bunch gather on his breast bone. I tried all kinds of liniments and had it cut open without any benefit. Saw your advertise-ment and bought a bottle of Kendall's Spavin Cure nd ordered my teamster to use as directed. In less than one week the lump had disappeared. Thinking that a liniment that would do what Kendall's Spavin Cure has done for my horse might benefit more. I tried it as a last resort.

With gratitude and best wishes for your success I am faithfully yours,
