The Lawyer's Advice.

One of the best stories that has been told on a lawyer for many years is being told on Mr. Weisbrod, of Oshkosh, partner of Henry Harshaw. Mr. W. goes every year for a duck shooting trip up Rat River, which empties into Wolf about twenty-five miles above Oshkosh. All along Rat River are farms owned by farmers, and they hate to see anybody shooting along the river. They go out shooting on Sunday, and they want all the fun there is to be had. When a hunting skiff is seen ascending the little stream the natives at work in the fields will yell at the invaders, and use language that is not pleasant to hear. Nothing would please them better than to have the hunters talk back and give them an excuse for a row and perhaps a shooting race. One day last fall Weisbrod was being paddled up the stream, and occasionally his gun would ring out a familar sound, a puff of smoke would be seen, and a duck would fall. Presently he came to a fence across the stream, which stopped his further progress. He got out of the boat, let down the fence and passed on when a German farmer came down to the bank with a pitchfork, looked at the intruders and said .

"You fellows go back by dat fence, and don't you come here again."

"I guess not," said Weisbrod. "You have no right to fence a stream that is navigable for ducks and skiffs. There is a law, sir, that protects an American citizen, and in fencing the waters of the United States and the state of Wisconsin, you are guilty of treason, rebellion and mayhem, and can be thrust into a bastile, sir."

The German looked a little frightened at the big words, but he said he had a right to fence the stream, as he had consulted a lawyer, and he should insist that they go back.

"There are lawyers," said Weisbrod, "who could give an innocent man any kind of advice for five dollars; and get him into trouble that would cost a poor man his farm and everything he has. The lawyer who told you that you could fence Rat River, and cut off this natural highway, and block the wheels of progress, and interfere with life, liberty, and the pursuit of happiness guaranteed by the constitution to all people is no credit to the profession, and probably laughed at you after he had taken your five dollars."

"Vell, I don't know apout dot," said the German. "I tell him I vant to vence dot stream, and he looked in a big book and he says to me dot is all right, you go head and vence it, and I did. He vas be pest lawyer in Oshkosh, und he know his pishness, you bet."

"Who was the shyster who told you to fence Rat River?" asked Weisbrod. "Give me his name and I will have him arrested for obtaining the money of a poor man on false pretenses, and I will get your money back, and send him to the penitentiary. What is his name?"

"He is name Weisbrod, und his office is by de posh office."

"What! My name is Weisbrod, and I never in all my life—"

"Vell, by shingo, so you vas Mr. Weisbrod. Don't you remember dot time I vas all right to vence de stream, and I gave you a ten dollar bill und Hank Harshaw change it for you so you could give me back my change, eh?"

Weisbrod thought a moment and scratched his head. He could see that he was in a tight place. Finally he recovered and said, "I remember, I remember it well, but the advice I gave you was only intended to apply up to the 15th of August each year when the law is off on ducks. From that time till the ducks go south the constitution provides that fences shall be removed and all persons shall have free access to shooting grounds. I suppose you understood that I was only giving you advice about building the fence. If you had asked me about taking the fence down, it would have cost you five dollars more. As it is I will not charge you anything for this supplemental addice, but let me impress upon you the importance of keeping the fence down after the 15th of August."

"O, vell, if dot is de case you go aheat, and I will go across lots up de streaun, and have the two other fences down by the time you get there," an the German dropped his pitchfork and went ahead and let down the fences, and Weisbrod had splendid shooting, and went home to dinner with his client. As Weisbrod was leaving the house the German turned to his wife and said: "Dot is Mr. Weisbrod, von Oshkosh. He is my lawyer, and he is de smartest lawyer in Vinnebago county."

The Clydesdale Horse.

Of the Clydesdale horse, Stonehenge says: "The Clydesdale is intermediate in size between the Suffolk and the dray horse, but more active than either. He is supposed to be bred from a cross of the Dutch or the Flemish horse, imported into England by the Duke of Hamilton, in the latter part of last century, with the active descendants of the pack horses, which were retained in use longer in the North than in the South. He has an extremely neat head, a little neck, and a round middle piece, which is nevertheless very deep in the girth-place. A well-shaped horse of this breed, though higher than the Suffolk, appears to be on shorter legs, as is shown in the engraving, which represents a horse of this famous breed. The long stride which is characteristic of the breed, is partly dependent upon their greater length and partly upon habit and training. These horses are said to be able to draw heavier loads in single carts than any others, and hence they are especially adapted to that kind of work. They are generally docked and their comparatively short tails will serve to distinguish them in the eyes of the unskilled observer, irrespective of those marks of breeding which an experienced hand will readily detect. A great many inferior animals were formerly bred, which were objectionable from their light bodies and long legs, but these faults are now comparatively rare, great attention having been paid to the breeding of Clydesdale horses during the last thirty years. Still, they are supposed to require a good deal of nourishing food, and though a pair of them will undoubtedly plough a great breadth of land in a given time, it is not settled whether it is done economically or the reverse.

C. P. R. Impositions.

The Toronto Globe's Winnipeg special of 18th inst. says,—

The Farmers' Union Convention resumed this morning, when the following resolution with regard to the Canadian Pacific Railway was adopted: "The convention expresses its condemnation of the tactics of the C. P. R. in entering into pooling arrangements with the St. Paul, Minneapolis & Manitoba Railway, whereby the inhabitants of Manitoba and the North-West are taxed to support foreign monopoly which is nothing more or less than systematic robbery of people, and expresses its conviction that such a state of affairs being known can not but have an effect detrimental to immigration and the general progress of the country."

A resolution was also adopted declaring that the prosperity and progress of Manitoba demand the discontinuance of the disallowance policy, also a resolution favouring the Hudson Bay route.

The following report of the Committee on the C. P. R. freight rates was adopted: "We condemn the discourteous treatment of the union by the railway company, having utterly failed to obtain such reasonable reduction as would enable the country to market the grain crop. We have no alternative but to declare that it the company pursues the present aggression by imposing rates which make the shipment of grain impossible, the farmers are placed in a position of being unable to realize even a bare living on frozen wheat; which will necessarily go to waste. The present rates are an imposition on the people by a company chartered to construct a line by the people for the benefit of the people. We call upon the Dominion Government to use their prerogative and provide that remedy which alone can save many from utter ruin and the country generally from serious injury. We wish to add, however, that under proper management on the part of the Railway Company with reference to the large crop of the present season which cannot be equalled in quantity by any country in the world and having regard to the demand for wheat only slightly damaged, if the company would reduce extortionate rates settlers of Manitoba would work together to build up their adopted country." Much indignation was expressed by speakers against the C. P. R. and the government.

CITATION.

NEW BRUNSWICK, COUNTY OF NORTHUMBERLAND, S. S.

To the Sheriff of the County of Northumberland, or any Constable within the said County Greeting.

Whereas Grace McLean, administratrix and James McLean, administrator, of all and singular the goods, chattels and credits of Hugh McLean, late of the Parish of Hardwicke in the said County, deceased, have by their petition represented to me that the personal estate of the said deceased, which has come to their hands, is insufficient for the payment of the debts due by the said deceased, and have prayed that License to sell the Real Estate of the said deceased may be granted to them, for the purpose of paying his said debts.

You are therefore required to cite the heirs and next of kin of the said deceased, the creditors and all others interested in his said estate, to appear before me at a Court of probate to be held at my office Newcastle, within and for the said County on Friday the Fifteenth day of January next at the hour of eleven o'clock in the forenoon and shew cause (if any they have) why License to sell the Real Estate of the said Hugh McLean, deceased, should not be granted to the said Grace McLean and James McLean, as prayed.

Given under my hand and the seal of the said Court this Eleventh day of December, A. D., 1885.

(L. S.) (Signed.) SAM'L THOMSON, Judge of Probates, Northumberland.

(Signed G. B. FRASER, Registrar of Probates, for said County.

THE INDEPENDENT.

The Largest, The ablest, The Best

RELIGOUS and LITERARY WEEKLY

The most influential religous organ in the States.—The Spectator, London, Eng.

THE INDEPENDENT is one of the best papers in the world. Its good points are many and striking. They have only to be stated to be appreciated; and for proof of our claims appeal may be taken to any of the fifty-two issues of the year. Any number of THE INDEPENDENT will show that its contents are marked by—

ABILITY, VARIETY and INTEREST.—The great thinkers, the great story-writers, the great poets, men of the highest reputation in all departments of human knowledge, make up its list of contributors. Religion, philosophy, science, literature, art, travels, discoveries, stories, and all conceivable topics are embraced in the contents, and everybody old or young, learned and unlearned, without regard to sex, employment, or condition, will find something of special interest in every issue.

COMPREHENSIVENESS.—It is a religious, a literary, an educational, a story, an art a scientific, an agricultural, a financial and a political paper combined.

BREADTH, Can or, EARNESTNESS.—THE INDEPENDENT is tied to no denominati n; it is the organ of no clique or party in state or Church. It is free, therefore, to discuss all questions, and to speak its mind candidly. It is not swerved by fear or favor. It is a vigorous defender of the Evangelical faith it preaches practial righteousness, and earnestly supports all moral reforms. All its columns—the advertising as well as the reading—are free from everything of doubtful or objectionable character. No matter what a person's religion, politics, or profession may be, if he desires to keep up with the times and know what the brightest minds are thinking of, the ablest pens are writing about, and what the world at large is doing—he should read THE INDEPENDENT

PRIZES. The Publishers of the MONTREAL "WITNESS" are celebrating their FORTIETH ANNIVERSARY by an offer which is of unusual value to their subscribers, and which is well calculated to lead an enormous number to have their names added to the already splendid subscription list. The "WITNESS," of itself, is too well known to need recommendation here. Its fearless and intelligent editorials, its freedom from impurity, its enterprise in the matter of news (the superiority of which was admitted on all sides during the Riel Rebellion), its invaluable Question and Answer Department (in which the highest professional authorities give information on almost every conceivable subject), its stories of intense interest, its Ladies Departments and Children's Corner,—go to make up a paper which cannot be equalled. For a year's subscription ($3.00 for the Daily Witness and $100 for the Weekly Witness) the paper will be sent until the 1st of January, 1887. And every subscriber (including present subscribers who renew before their subscriptions run out, will receive FREE, one of our splendid

ANNIVERSARY PICTURES.

These "Beauties of the Oleographic Art," as they are well described, consist of three most charming subjects, beautifully executed in tasteful colours; and are produced for the "WITNESS" publishers by a well-known Art Publishing House in London, England. They are entitled "Little Barefeet," "Nobody Asked You?" and "Their Foster Mother." Specimen copies will be on view at our Agencies. Everybody who sees them wants them. We will send sample copies of our papers containing description of the pictures; and blank forms for subscriptions containing full particulars of this and other offers, to any address, on application.

Everyone who sends one, two or three new subscriptions, along with his own, will receive any TWO of the pictures. Everyone sending four or more new subscriptions with his own, will receive THE THREE pictures. No other offer can even compete with this. The Anniversary Pictures will not be given or sold to any but subscribers. The demand will be necessarily so heavy that we must strictly follow the rule "FIRST COME, FIRST SERVED," Therefore send your subscriptions to JOHN DOUGALL & SON. MONTREAL,

NOW!

N. B.—For particulars as to prizes to be given for stories about the ANNIVERSARY PICTURES, see the Witness.

BEST FARMER'S PAPER IN CANADA.

—THE—

Canadian Live Stock Journal

is the leading journal of agriculture in the Dominion. In amount and practical value of contents, in extent and ability of correspondence, in quality of paper and style of publication, it occupies by all odds the FIRST RANK in Canada. It claims to have no superior in any of its departments, which are

Stock-Raising, The Veterinary, The Farm, The Dairy, The Apiary Horticulture. and The Home.

In each department the subjects are treated in the most perfect and practical manner. It contains more stock notes, notices of sales, purchases, importations, etc, breeders' cards and advertisements from the leading stockmen of all the Provinces, than all the publications in Canada combined, and is therefore indispensable to the successful farmers of the Dominion.

It is illustrated with cuts of representative Canadian stock, and it is hoped supplies in every sense of the term a

Live Agricultural Newspaper

We make the assertion without fear of successful contradiction that no farm paper in Canada costs its publishers as much as does THE CANADIAN LIVE-STOCK JOURNAL, and we confidently believe that no farm paper in the Dominion is of equal value to the progressive farmers and stockmen of our country.

Although enlarged three times since its commencement, from 20 to 32 pages, the terms continue the same—one copy, one year, $1.00; five copies, $4.00; ten copies, $7.50. The names may belong to different offices.

SAMPLE ROOMS. For Commercial Men

THE demand for Sample Rooms to accommodate for the commercial travellers being so great, and the supply being inadequate, causing the travellers in some instance to remain three or four days awaiting their turn, has induced the subscriber to build two Sample Rooms, well lighted, aired and warm. Commercialmen can depend on obtaining just what they require, being situated in the central part of the business community, namely, corner Main and Wesley Streets, they will be found to be far more suitable, comfortable and convenient. Should a horse and sleigh be required it will be furnished without additional expense. Rooms secured either by letter or telegram.
