Coun. Baldwin moved to amend byelaw adopted yesterday with reference to the Barnaby River Boom, by adding the words, that "any bye-law heretofore passed, inconsistent with or repugnant to said bye-law, is hereby repealed. Coun. Adams reported from Committee sppointed to frame bye-law authorizing commissioners of Highways and Bye-

Roads to require all persons to take down their fences along the Highways at places subject to snow drifts. The Bye Law provided that there shall be a width of 2 rods on each side from the centre of the Report received. Coun. Loggie asks what would be done

Commissioner could cause a road to be made in rear of such fence through a pro perty, when necessary. A number of Councillors objected to allowing their parishes to come within the provisions of the bye law. Coun. Stewart objected for Alnwick, Coun. Bransfield for Hardwick, Coun, Jardine for Derby.

Coun Freeze objected for Blissfield. He showed how in that parish wire fences had been a great benefit in preventing drifts on the north side of roads running in an easterly and westerly direction. He recommended that the building of wire fences be encouraged as much as possible. and that such fences be allowed to be built nearer the road than wooden fences. He quoted one case showing the great benefit of wire fencing along one of the worst portions of the road between Bliss-field and Newcastle, during the late heavy storm, this portion of the road, usually bad, was as good as any part of the roads, along distance refered to. Coun. Loggie said each parish desiring to come within the provisions of this law should ask for it, as evidently many parishes did not care for the bye law as at present framed. Coun. Adams said the enforcement of the provisions rested with the commissioners, who would exercise their judgement when fences were within limits of road. Secy-Treas. said that owners could be compelled to move them back. Coun. Loggie asked what would be done in case of a farm in Chatham parish, where the fences had been some feet on the road for fifty years; would parties hold the land so occupied by possession. Secy Treasurer said they would.

many farmers in the County having had fences on limits of road for many years. The lawyers would be benefited but not the people, by any means. Coun. Freeze moved in amendment that report be handed back to Committee to amend it so as to make it apply only to parishes desiring to come under its provisions and to report this afternoon. AFTERNOON.
