Talmage on Dress.

Extravagant costume is distraction to public worship. You know very well there are a good many people who go to church just as they go to the races, to see who will come out first. Men and women with souls to be saved passing the less. Buy Sheridan's Cavalry Condition hour in wondering where that man got his cravat, or what store that woman patronizes. In many of our churches the preliminary exercises are taken up with the discussion of wardrobe. It is pitiable. Is it not wonderful that the Lord does not strike the meeting houses with lightning? What distraction of public wership! Dying men and women, whose bedies are soon to be turned into dust, yet before three worlds strutting like peacocks. People sitting down in a pew or taking up a hymn book, all absorbed at the same time in personal array, to sing:

"Rise, my soul, and stretch thy wings,

Extravagant costume belittles the intellect. Our minds are enlarged or they dwindle just in proportion to the importance of the subject on which we constantly dwell. Can you imagine anything more dwarfing to the human intellect than the study of dress? I see men on the street who, judging from their elaboration, I think must have taken two hours to arrange their apparel. After a few years of that kind of absorption, which one of McAllister's magnifying glasses will be powerful enough to make the man's character visible? What will be left of a woman's intellect after giving years and years to the discussion of such questions? They all land in idiocy. I have seen men at the summer watering places through fashion the mere wreck of what they once were. Sallow of cheek. Meagre of limb. Hollow at the chest. Showing no animation save in rushing across a room to pick up a lady's fan.

Yet, my friends, I have given you only the milder phase of this evil. It shuts a great multitude out of heaven. The first peal of thunder that shook Sinai declared: "Thou shalt have no other gods before me," and you will have to choose dress goods. between the goddess of fashion and the Christian God. There are a great many seats in Heaven and they are all easy seats, but not one seat for the devotee of costume. Heaven is for meek and quiet spirits. Heaven is for those who think more of their souls than of their bodies. Why if you with your idolatry of costume should somehow get into heaven, you would be for putting a French roof on the "house of many mansions," and you would be for introducing the Warner's Safe Cure, patterns of Butterick's Quarterly Delinea-

Give up this idolatry of fashion or give up heaven. What would you do standing beside the Countess of Huntington, whose joy it was to build chapels for the poor; or with that Christian woman of Boston who fed fifteen hundred children of the street, at Fanueil Hall, on New Year's Day, giving out as a sort of doxology at the end of the meeting, a pair of shoes to each one of them; or those Dorcases of its high, caplike crown. modern society who have consecrated their needles to the Lord, and who will get eternal reward for every stitch they take? O, men and women, give up the idolatry of costume. The rivalries and ever Burdock Blood Bitters are taken. It the competitions of such a life are a stu-pendous wretchedness. You will always the blocd, and restores a healthy tone to find someone with brighter array and the system generally. Handy to Have.

Every household should keep some ready remedy at hand for painful diseases, sudden attacks of inflammation and accidental injuries. Such a remedy is best found in Hagyard's Yellow Oil for internal and external use. It cures rheumatism, sore throat, croup, neuralgia, lame back, sprains, bruises and burns.
